The following Address has been presented to Her Majesty.
The humble Address of the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter, and the Clergy of the Diocese of Salisbury.
May it please Your most Excellent Majesty,
We the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter, together with the Clergy of the Diocese of Salisbury, are deeply sensible of God's great Graces to this Church, in setting over us a Queen who gives just an Eminent Example of Virtue and Religion to all Her Subjects, and who is pleased to express upon all Occasions so true a Zeal for this Established Church, of which She is the Ornament as well as the Defence. We are in a most particular manner affected with this singular Instance of Your Majesty's Care of the Poor Clergy of our Church; and the Bountiful Supply You have designed for them, in applying that Branch of Your Revenue, which ariseth out of the Tenth and First-Fruits, to make better Provision for them, by which they will be both enabled and encouraged to discharge the Duties incumbent on them with more Credit: as well as with more Success.

May the Great God of Heaven and Earth, the King of Kings, multiply his Blessings on Your Majesty's Person and Government; May this Pious Charity return on Your Majesty, even in this Life, an Hundred-fold, in a long and happy Reign, and in all Blessings Spiritual and Temporal.

May it be the Glory of Your Reign to compleat the full Settlement of our Holy Religion, and of every thing that may unite and strengthen us both at home and abroad.

May all Things, that can contribute to the perfecting and beautifying our Constitution, be by Your Majesty's Piety and Wisdom so firmly Established, that we may be long happy in Your flourishing Reign; and that when Your Majesty is exalted to a more Glorious Crown, we may by Your Means have a Protestant Succession secured to us, and our Posterity after us.

These are our constant Prayers to Almighty God, which we promise that by his Assistance, we will offer up daily to him. And we will persuade all those who are committed to our Care to join with us in them, and to continue ever Faithful and Loyal to Your Majesty; against all Your Enemies, and against all Pretenders whatsoever.

Which Address Her Majesty received very Graciously.

Lisbon, June 22. N. S. The Marquis das Minas, Governour of the Province of Beira, having got together an Army of 15000 Portuguese at Almeida, marched from thence the Second Instant. Being come to Alrea de Ponte, he halted there two days to refresh his Troops, tired with the Marches they had made in this hot Season; and being informed, That the Inhabitants of the Country of Argancon, the most fertile and richest Valley of the Kingdom of Castile, had put their best Effects into the City of Fucere Grinaldo, he detached 600 Horse and as many Granadiers, under the Command of the Conde de San Joanno, Lieutenant-General, with Orders to attack it; which the Conde executed with so much Vigour and Resolution, that notwithstanding the place was fortified with Intrenchments and Pallisadoes, and Works cast up in several of the Streets, and provided with a good Garison of Regular Troops and Militia, yet he entered it at the first Assault, and forced the Garison to surrender at Discretion, and this with very little Loss. The Plunder of the place was given to the Soldiers, excepting what was secured in the Churches, the Marquis having given Orders that all there should be left untouched; however, the Spoil was very considerable. Our Men took also there above 1000 Oxen and Cows, and other Cattel in great abundance. Don Francisco Ronquillo Governour of that Country for the Duke of Anjou, fled the night before with, 300 Horse, from Ciudad Rodrigo. The Marquis, after this Success, continued his March to Tabucas, within a League of Penna Major, where understanding that the Enemy were marched from Castell-branco towards the Frontiers of Castile, and that the Forces they had at Idanha and other open places had rejoined their Army, he advanced towards Monsanto, a Castle which was Garison'd by an hundred and twenty French, who had Orders likewise to have retired, but had not time. Being come near the place on the Ninth Instant, he marched that night in order to attack it, with Three hundred Foot and the Inhabitants of the neighbouring Country, who killed all the French that happened to be without the Castle. The Enemy having Notice of our Motions, came to the Relief of the place; and on the 11th about Eleven in the Morning the Marquis, upon Intelligence that they were within a few hours March of him, advanced immediately against them, with the Horse; having given Orders for the Foot to follow with all Diligence. It grew towards night before he came up with the Enemy, whom he immediately attacked with his Horse, though the Foot had not yet time to draw up in order of Battel. The Fight was very sharp for the time it lasted. The Enemy were entirely routed; and when the Express came away, that brought the first Account of this Action, which was about Nine that night, there were already above Three hundred of them reckened among the slain: They had about 150 Officers killed and taken Prisoners; among whom were Six Captains of Horse killed, one of them Son to the Marquis de la Rota; Six Lieutenants, and several Persons of Note. On our side there were but 50 Men killed and wounded; among the latter are a Captain, an Adjutant and a Lieutenant. The Marquis das Minas exposing his Person where there was most Danger, received several Wounds: The Condes de Aloor and Atalaya, Governours of Traos Montes and Minho, who were engaged in this Action with the Troops of those Provinces, distinguished themselves; and in a word both Officers and Soldiers and Pleadings, in manner, in a Case issued when by Arguendo, D'Avens, of Prefes, and will to s. in hand, shall have a Se- and will be subscribe, are ofals and Spe- Undertaker, ed Sheets may Country.

ave Proofs of their Courage and Resolution. The Enemy betook themselves to the Mountains, whence some fled towards Salvaterra, and others to Sarca, by the way of Idanha de Velha: They endeavoured to destroy their Ammunition; but being closely pursued by our Men, they had not time, and left behind them Forty Barrels of Powder, a great quantity of Bullets and other Ammunition, a great number of Arms, most of their Tents, Baggage and Wagons, besides Money and Plate. We took from them also Six Standards; and had not night come on so soon, our Victory had been more complete. About Fifteen hundred Peasants being drawn together, fell upon part of the Enemy's Cavalry, as they were retiring towards Castille by the way of the Mountains, and took from them Eighteen hundred Horses; they gave no Quarter either to French or Spaniard, being exasperated by the Cruelty the Enemy had exercised; at their first coming into those Parts. We have not yet any Account of the Number of the Enemy slain in this last Action, or how many Officers may be reckoned among them; which we must expect by our next Advices. Some Letters say, That in the former Engagement near Montano there were above five hundred Spaniards killed. We have received a Confirmation of the Surrender of Portalegre to the Enemy on the 8th Instant, after they had been 6 days before it, tho' the Place was in a manner defenceless. The Enemy afterwards marched to Castel Davide, which Place had been put into some Condition of Defence by the Troops that were in it; tho' it was almost without any Fortifications when the Duke of Anjou passed by it to attack Portalegre. The said Duke sent a Message to the Governor, threatening to hang him if he did not immediately surrender; but he being a Man of Courage, sent him a Resolute Answer, and maintained his Post so bravely, that after 3 vigorous Attacks, they were forced to retire with the Loss of between 3 and 4000 Men. The Officers and Soldiers of Lieutenant-General Stewart's Regiment of Foot, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Hussey, who are in Garrison in that Place, distinguished themselves by their Gallantry upon this Occasion.

The Squadron of English Men of War commanded by Sir Cloudesley Shovell came into this Port the 15th Instant. In their Passage into the Triton Man of War took a Spanish Privateer of 8 Guns and 70 Men, belonging to Bilbao; and the Lenox took a French Privateer of St. Malo, of 12 Guns and 30 Men.

Whitehall, July 2. This day arrived an Express with Letters from the Duke of Marlborough's Camp at Oberggerents dated the 3d Instant N. S. which bring the following Account.

His Grace having Advice, That the Elector of Bavaria had sent a considerable part of his Troops to reinforce the Post of Schellenberg, near Donawert, where several Thousand Peasants had been working for some days to fortify it; He resolved to attack them, and accordingly yesterday at 3 in the morning marched from Oberggerents at the head of a Detachment of 6000 Foot, and 30 Squadrons of the Left Wing of our Army, together with 3 Regiments of Imperial Cuirassiers. About 3 in the afternoon they passed the Wernz, and got all things ready for the Attack, which begun at 6, and lasted an hour and half; with the greatest Fury imaginable. The Enemy's Forces consisted of two Battalions of the Elector of Bavaria's Guards, one of Granadiers, and 8 other Bavarian and 5 French Battalions, 4 Regiments of Cuirassiers of 800 Men each, and 3 Squadrons of Dragoons, commanded by the Count d'Arco, Field-Marshal-General of the Elector's Forces, Lieutenant-General Lutzelboch, and Count Massei, General of a Battalion, and two French General Officers; But the unparalleled Valour of our Forces prevailed at length; They possessed themselves of the Enemy's Intrenchments, pursued them with great Slaughter to the Danube, where the Count d'Arco, and the Elector's other General Officers, saved themselves by swimming over the River; we took all the Enemy's Cannon, Tents, Baggage, and Ammunition; and Count d'Arco's Plate was found in their Camp, with other very rich Booty. We have not yet the Particulars of the Loss on either side. As for our Forces, the Battalion of Guards and the Regiments of Orkney and Ingoldby suffered most: Major-General Goor and the Count Bentheim, both in the States Service, are killed; Prince Lewis of Baden, Count Stirum, General Thungen, the Prince of Hesse, and Count Hoop, are wounded. The French at Landau are preparing to send great Succours to the Elector, which we hope Prince Eugene will be able to prevent, or at least, that they will come too late to do the Enemy any Service.

Another Express is since arrived with Letters from Donawert of the 4th, which contain these further Advices.

After the Victory obtained by the Duke of Marlborough the 2d Instant at Schellenberg, his Grace marched towards Donawert the 3d, and entered into it the next evening without Opposition, the Bavarian Garrison, at the first Approach of our Forces, having quitted the Place, setting fire to some of the Magazines, and breaking down the Bridge to secure their Retreat. We found in this Place 2000 Sacks of Meal, a great quantity of Oats, and of all sorts of Provision, and Ammunition, which the Enemy had not time to destroy. When the Elector of Bavaria had heard the News of the fatal Blow his Forces had received, he immediately quitted his strong Camp of Dillingen and Lawingen, and passed the Danube to defend his own Country. He also sent Orders to the Governor of Donawert to set it on fire, which had taken effect, all the Houses being filled with Straw for that purpose, it our Forces had not marched thither with incredible Diligence and prevented it.

The Letters from Holland of Tuesday last, came in late this Evening, which bring Advice;

That Monsieur d'Auverquerque detached the Baron de Trongne, the 1st Instant N. S. with 2 Battalions: He was followed by 1500 Foot and 300 Horses in several Parties, their Officers being enjoined Secrecy, who were all to join him at a Rendezvous assigned them, as were also two Battalions from Matrichs, one from Huy, and 300 Men from Liege. His Orders were to be at Hanuys the 4th to attack the French Lines the next day between Meerdoek and Waratrick, and to take Post there till the rest of the Army could arrive, and to take Post there till the rest of the Army could arrive, and to take Post there till the rest of the Army could arrive.

at night. If this Enterprize failed, they were to pass the Meuse upon some other Design. There was yet no Account come to the Hague of their Success. Baron Spar was still in the Neighbourhood of Bruges, and had obliged that Town to give him 60000 Florins in ready Money, and to engage to pay 100000 Florins a month for 6 months, for Arrears of Contributions.
