We Your Majesty's most Loyal and Obedient Subjects, the Verilians of the Diacese, and the Dean and Chapter, of Tur Majesty's Cathedral Church of Ely, and the whole Clergy of the Jame Diocese, assembled at an Episcopal Visitation held at Cambridge, June 13. 1704. being deeply sensible of Your Majesty great and unexampled Goodness, in laying to Your Heart the Meanuss and Poverty of a very great number of Ecclessatical Prings in this Church and Kingdom, and expressing Your Missty's late prous Scotlement of a considerable Branch of Your Missty's late prous Scotlement of a considerable Branch of Your Missty's late prous Scotlement of a considerable Branch of Your Missty's late prous Scotlement of a considerable Branch of Your Missty's late prous Scotlement of a considerable Branch of Your Missty's late prous Scotlement of their Maintenance, and the Encouragement of their Labour's, who serve those poor and impressed Care and hearty Thanks for this Your Majesty's most service of God, and for the was comfortable Substitunce of his Ministers.

And we do most unjessed yand from the bottom of our Hearts, specifically, That we, and every one of us, as well in Cratitude for this particular Grace and distinguishing Mark of Tar Majesty's Favour towards our Order, as by the common sturd missing Duty we are bound, will upon all Occasions, to the utmost of the Power, promote and advance Your Interest and Howour, and we shall never cease to offer up our Prayers to Almighty (M. That he would long preserve Your Majesty's most Sacred Life; that he would prosper Tour Undertakings, and crown Your Ami, and those of the Allies, with Vistory, and an honourable Pesce.

Pesce. And finally, That God would been this Church and Nation, and oil state? Tour Majesty's Dominious, with such lifue of Tour Rojal Body, as may succeed Your Majesty in Your Imperial Crown and Dignity, and continue the Succession in Your Own immediate line for ever, or if that Blessing should be deny dra, yet however, that he would so far regard this Church, so pinely resormed estimate Primitive Apostolick Pattern, that there may never was out of Your Royal Family, of the Protestant Line as by law estables, to sway the Scepter of these Kingdoms till time falls on more.

Which Address Her Majesty received very graciously.

Effremos, June 28. N. S. On the 25th Instant we received Letters fram Colonel Hussey, dated the 23d, from Castel de Vide, giving an Account, That the Enemy was returned before that Place, and that he had posted himself, with Lieutenant-General Stewart's Resment under his Command, in the weakest part of the Town, and where the Besiegers designed to make their Breach, for which purpose they had raised 4 Battries of Cannon, and one of Mortars, but that he had plied them with the Cannon from the Walls with 6 good Effect, that he had dismounted their Mortars, and also obliged them to give over firing from two of their other Batteries. Another Letter came from him the next day, dated the 24th, wherein he afford woth his Resolution of holding out to the last Extremity, and that when he could keep the Town no lon-ger, he would then retire into the Castle, where he did not doubt but he might make a very good Defence.
The same day the Conde das Galveas, General of the Portuguese Forces here, received Advice from Aronstes of Castel de Vide's being taken; but we must ex-Credit to it.

Listen, July 2. N.S. We have received from Abeira Confirmation of the Victory obtained by the Mar-Que des Minas, over a Body of French and Spanish forces near Monsanto: He is since advanced towards Cellel Blanco; and fome Parties he had fent out have intercepted two confiderable Convoys belonging to the Enemy, who are at present in great Distress on this sale of the Tajo for want of Provisions; their Communication with those Parts of Spain from whence they were usually supplied being in a manner cut off. Lieutenant-General Fagel is ordered to join the Marquis with the Dutch Forces under his Command which lay at Abrantes; and we hourly expect to re-ceive Advice that he has done it. The Duke of An-jou, upon Advice of the Defeat of his Forces at Monfanto, raised the Siege of Castel de Vide, having lost a great number of his Men in three several Attacks great number or his Men in three leveral rittaens upon a Horn-work, which had been newly made to defend that Caffle, befides what had been killed by the Cannon of the Place. He marched to the Tajo, and having continued some days near that River, fent over the Duke of Berwick with part of his Army to Villas Velleja and Castel-Blanco, which Places the Enemy had fortified, and have now made stronger, by adding several new Works. The remainder of the Duke of Anjou's Army, being afterwards joined by the Militia of Andalulia, to the number of Six thousand Men, under the Command of the Marquis de Villa d'Arias, returned before Castel de Vide, and renewed the Siege; And we had News two days ago from the Army in Alentejo, that it was said the Governor of that Place capitulated the 25th past, and that Cca lonel Hussey, with Lieutenant-General Stewart's Regiment under his Command, and fome of the Porgiment under an Command, and some of the Portuguese Forces in Garison there, were retired into the Castle; where they were resolved to make the best Defence they could. The Conde das Galveas, with the Portuguese Forces which lay at Elvas, designed to join the Duke of Schonberg and the English Forces at Estremos, in order to take the Field. The Panther and the Swallow came in here yesterday from the Fleet commanded by Sir George Rooke; They bring an Account. That the Fleet had been before Barcelon. an Account, That the Fleet had been before Barcelona, and that the Inhabitants both of that Town and the neighbouring Country, and of Altea, where the Fleet watered in their Return, appeared very well disposed towards King Charles III. but at the last of these Plan temting to interrupt our Fleet's taking in Water, fome Forces were landed in the night, which took both the Castles without any Lois. Our Fleet had given chase for two days to the French Fleet commanded by the Count de Toulouse, and used their utmost Endeavours to engage them; but the Wind, and Weather provedso favourable to the Enemy, that it was not possible to come up with them till they got into Thoulon. This day we received an Account, That Sir Cloudelly Shovell, who failed from hence with the Squadron of English Men of War under his Command the 23d past, joined the Elect the 27th in Lagos Bay, which s thereby become much superior to any Force the Enemy are able to put our to Sea.
