From Monday, October 11. to Thursday, October 14. 1669.

Dublin, Octob. 5.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant is very cheerful and active in the entrance upon his Government here, and hath late three days in each week in Council ever since his coming hither, he hath lately sent forth a Proclamation, strictly requiring all Governours and Officers of the Army to repair to their Charges and Duties, and will not admit of any dispensation to the contrary.

Weymouth, Octob. 9. Yesterday arrived in this Road the Edgar, a ship belonging to North Yarmouth in company of the Golden Falcon and the Argier Merchant bound for London, they came from Legorn on the 7th of September, before whose departure thence, there arrived an English ship from Algiers, affirming, that Sir Thomas Allen came before that place on the sixth of August, and sending in his Boat, had began to Treat; that those of Algier had all their men of War in Port, except only three which are at a place called Bona, and seemed willing to make restitution of the Moneys formerly taken by some of their men of War out of an English ship bound for the E. Indies, but not agreeing to some other demands, 'twas not known what the issue of that affair might prove after the end of five days Truce, which had been agreed to by both parties. The Edgar on her way homewards made a little stop at Tangier and affirms that the Emperour of Morocco had lent a party of 4000 Horse to conduct His Excellency the Lord Henry Howard to the City of Fez, who was accordingly set forwards with his Train.

Rome; Sep. 21. On Monday last the Pope, with a great Train of the Princes and Nobility on Horseback, went in Devotion to give a visit to several Churches, and particularly to those of St Francis, St Austin, St Maries, and that of the Holy Ghost, where the sacred Host was solemnly exposed, and Prayers made for the preservation of the City of Candia from the Ottoman forces; and afterwards returned to St Peters in the Vatican; but in passing the Bridge was pleased to spend some time in taking a view of the excellent Work raised by his Order, for the Ornament of the said Bridge, consisting of Ten Angels, excellently cut in Marble by the most excellent Masters, each of them holding in their hands a Representation of some of the Mysteries of the Passion of our Saviour.

Yesterday the Pope held an extraordinary Congregation of all the Cardinals; but the Subject of that Assembly is not yet certainly known.

It is confidently said, that the next week the Pope intends to declare a Promotion of four Cardinals into the vacant places; and that amongst others, he will be pleased to comply with the Emperours desires, and confer a Cap upon his Recommendation, on the Prince de Baden Bour-

Madrid, Sept. 16. We daily expect the return of the Courier some days since sent hence to Rome to inform the Pope of the Nomination made by the Queen Regent of Don Luys Fernandez de Portocarrero, Dean of the Cathedral he is promoted to the Dignity of Cardinal; according to the Petition and Petition in favour of the Crown of Spain, and of which, the Popes Declaration and Confirmation is accordingly expected, as is also the Resignation of the Inquisition by Father Nithard, which Charge he has pleased the Queen to confer upon Don Diego de

Valladares, Bishop of Placenza and President of Castille; besides the conferring of these Honours, she has been likewise pleased to bestow the Charge of General of the Gallies belonging to the Kingdom of Naples (which is lately become void by the Resignation of Don Juan netino Doris) upon the Duke de Ferandino, who lately commanded the Gallies of Sicily, whose vacant Charge of General of those Gallies, is disposed of to the Marquis de Castanajete, Son to the Cardinal de Mencada.

The Marquis de Castel Rodrigo begins to recover from his indisposition, which for some time rendered him incapable of entering into possession of the Charge of Master of the Horse to the Queen.

The King enjoys his Health to the great satisfaction of the Queen Regent, with the whole Court and Kingdom, and goes often abroad in publick, especially to the several Churches in this City, to satisfy the people with the view of his person.

Great search has been made by the Queens special Command after the persons guilty of the Robbery committed in the Kings Chamber of a Cabinet wherein were laid up divers Letters of private and great concernment, but as yet no discovery can be made, the intention of the Robbers are the more apprehended in that they left behind several Jewels and things of value, and took away only the Papers.

Don Joseph d' Ormaizche who was designed to have been sent into Flanders as Surintendant or Veedor General of the Province, is lately dead, and as yet no other person nominated in his Room. Several persons the most considerable amongst the Nobility of the Nether-lands have been lately nominated to be admitted into the Honorable Society of the Knights of the Golden Fleete, and particularly the Marquis de Tresgogne.

We have late advices from the Coasts of Africa that the Moors which had blocked up the Fort of Oran, had quitted their design of laying a close siege to it, and were marched off to a greater distance, upon Intelligence given them that the Duke of Alcala General of the Coasts of Andalusia had reinforced the Garrison with a considerable number of fresh and able Souldiers, and a proportionable quantity of Provisions and ammunition.

Lisbonne septemb. 25. Here is lately Issued out a Proclamation from the Prince of Portugal highly Enjoyning all Officers and Souldiers which served in the late war of Spain to repair to the Frontiers, where they are to be admitted to the same Employments and Commands, which they had before the late peace, and for their Encouragement, papers are affixed in publick places to give them notice that the Prince will make them an allowance for ammunition bread, as was formerly used to be given them in time of War, which will yield them a subsistence till moneys shall be raised to pay them their arrears.

This Court is now putting on mourning for the Cardinal de Vendosme and the Duke de Beaufort.

The 21 instant was for the first time solemnized here a Festival with an extraordinary Procession in Honour of one of the late Canonized Saints called Maria Magdalena de Pazzi.

The Count de Miranda Ambassador to the Court of Spain having taken his leave and departed from Madrid is suddenly expected here, where a e arrived some of

of his servants and part of his Baggage. The Baron de Battaville the Spanish Ambassador has desired leave to returne home, but has not yet obtained a Revocation, but several considerations have prevailed with the Court of Spain to continue him here for a longer time. His Highness the Prince of Portugal has had thoughts of dispatching some other person to Madrid with the Character only of his Envoye, and Diego Gomez de Figueroa, an old Colonel of the army has been proposed for that Employment, but as yet not fully resolved on.

The 16th instant arrived here Diego Lopes Eliva, who for some years past has been an Agent in Holland from this Crown, bringing with him the Treaty last concluded with the States of the United Provinces, containing amongst other things that Cochin and Canonor in the East Indies, shall remain to the States, so as not to administer for the future any farther dispute: that as to the four Millions due to the States, Portugal is obliged to deliver to them before the end of this present year 1669 as much Salt as shall be valued at One hundred and fifty thousand Crowns of Portugal, or Three hundred thousand Livres, the States being obliged to send their ships to transport it, and the rest of the Debt to be satisfied out of the Salt Customes, allowing One hundred and fifty thousand Crowns a year for Twenty years following, and that the Hollanders shall have liberty to send what ships they please to any part of Brazile, without any Licence either general or particular to be demanded for the same, provided they go and return with the Portugal Fleet.

About Six months since the French Ambassador gave in a Memorial to the Prince, pressing his Highness to grant the King his Masters Subjects the liberty of a free Trade into his Ports in the East Indies, to which of late an answer was returned him, That his Highness will write to his Viceroy of India to Treat the ships belonging to His most Christian Majesties Subjects with civility, and to let them have refreshments and other necessaries for their Money.

From Cadix we are advised, that Sir Thomas Allen with the Fleet under his Command, sailed thence on the 21 of August, where dividing his Fleet into three Squadrons, he ordered them to meet at their Rendezvous at Alexante, from whence he purposed to cross over to Argier.

Hambourg, Octob 4. Our Letters from Warsaw, bearing not a late Date, give us not any account of the King of Polands Coronation, or what passed at the solemnity or the ensuing great Assembly of the States of the Kingdom, but from the frontiers of the said Kingdom they write, that Dorosensko, General of one party of the Cossacks had given a great defeat to the Tartars, with some other Cossacks joyned with them between Corson and Kiovia, and had pursued them toward Crim Tartary, which way they endeavoured to make good their Retreat, having with them Suchowitz, who was said to be the General to the Rebel Cossacks.

From Copenhagen they write, that the Bishop of Osna-brug had made an overture or proposal of a Marriage between the young Prince, Son to the Prince Elector Palatine, of 18 years of age, and a Princess of Denmark.

They farther say, that the King of Denmark returned home to Copenhagen the 25th of the last Month, and had given Audience to the Heer le Maier, Resident from the States-General of the United Provinces.

From Hanover that the Heer de Groot the Dutch Ambassador having order from His Masters the States of the United Provinces on his return from Sweden to attend the Duke Jean Frederick, that the said Duke was there arrived to receive from him such proposals as he was commanded to make to him.

Let us of the 11. past from Stockholme informs us, that His Majesty the King of Sweden was inviyed by the continuance of the fair weather to pursue his recreations and huntings in the Country, but that several of the Senators were returned again to that City. And that His Excellency the Earl of Carlisle Ambassador Extraordinary from His Majesty of great Britaine intended within 15 days to embark himself on his return home, but to take Denmark in his way.

They further say that upon the arrival of the General the Heer Wrangle, the Count de Conning-mark Chancellor of the Crown retired himself into the Country, and that as is said by Order.

From Berlin we are advised that his Electoral Highness of Brandenbourg is lately arrived there, and had given Order for four thousand men to march towards the Rhine, and that the great work in cutting a Channel for the Joyning of several Rivers within the Countreyes of the said Elector was near finished, insomuch as a passage was now opened for boats to pass between the Oder and the Elbe, which would much advantage the Trade and Commerce of those parts.

Kinsale October 1. Yesterday came in here the Anno and Mary of this place from the Leeward Islands with a considerable lading of Tobacco, Sugar and Indigo. And this day the Ruby of Bristol bound for Bilboa, and one other merchant ship of the same place intended for Lisbonne, and with them Entred a Spanish ship, which had lost her way in her returne from Greenland, homewards bound.

Deal, Octob 11. This last night came in here the Non-such Ketch, which having endeavoured to make out a passage by the North-West, was in those seas environed with Ice, which opposing her progress, the men were forced to hale her on shoar and to provide against the ensuing cold of a long Winter; which endings, they returned with a considerable quantity of Beaver, which made them some recompence for their cold confinement.
