

grain (+0.047) above, and the fifth forty-nine thousandth parts of a grain (+0.049) above standard weight.

(f) We then assayed separately the last mentioned sovereigns and we found the millesimal fineness of such sovereigns respectively to be, the first 916.57, the second 916.57, the third 916.35, the fourth 916.66 and the fifth 916.62, and that therefore the first of such sovereigns was nine hundred-thousandth parts (-0.00009) below, the second was nine hundred-thousandth parts (-0.00009) below, the third was thirty-one hundred-thousandth parts (-0.00031) below standard fineness, and that the fourth was of standard fineness, and that the fifth was four hundred-thousandth parts (-0.0004) below standard fineness.

3. (a) We found that the silver coins in the said pyx weighed in all not more than twelve ounces troy.

(b) We weighed in bulk such silver coins and we ascertained that they were on the whole within the variation allowed under the Acts from the standard weight hereby prescribed, being two thousandth parts of an ounce (+0.002) above standard weight.

(c) We then assayed such silver coins comparing them with the silver trial plate produced by the Board of Trade, and we found that they were on the whole within the variation allowed under the Acts from the standard fineness thereby prescribed, the amount of variation from standard fineness being plus seven ten-thousandth parts (+0.0007).

4. (a) We found that the cupro-nickel coins in the said pyx weighed in all more than twelve ounces troy and we took one or more coins from each packet of cupro-nickel coins.

(b) We weighed each twelve ounces troy (at standard weight) of cupro-nickel coins so taken out and ascertained that the amount of its variation (if any) from standard weight was the amount recorded in respect thereof in the schedule hereto, and that each twelve ounces troy was therefore within the variation from standard weight allowed under the Acts.

(c) We then assayed separately cupro-nickel coins weighing in all twelve ounces troy (at standard weight) comparing them with the copper trial plate and the nickel trial plate produced by the Board of Trade, and we found that the coins assayed were on the whole within the variation allowed under the Acts from the standard composition thereby prescribed, the amounts of variation from standard composition being minus one tenth of one per centum (-0.1%) of copper and minus one tenth of one per centum (-0.1%) of nickel.

(d) We weighed in bulk the residue of the coins remaining in the packets of cupro-nickel coins and we ascertained that they were on the whole within the variation from standard weight allowed under the Acts, being five ounces and four hundred and ninety one thousandth parts of an ounce (+5.491) above standard weight.

Dated the 9th day of May 1958.

THE SCHEDULE

Two weighings of twelve ounces troy showed no variation from standard weight; nine such weighings showed variations of one, one, three, seven, seven, eight, thirteen and seventeen thousandth parts of an ounce (+0.001, +0.001, +0.003, +0.003, +0.007, +0.007, +0.008, +0.013, +0.017) respectively above standard weight; and four such weighings showed variations of two, seven, seven and seven thousandth parts of an ounce (-0.002, -0.007, -0.007, -0.007) respectively below standard weight.
