

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday March 4 to Thursday March 7 1705.

Dantzick, Feb. 20. N. S.

OUR last Letters from Warsaw give an Account, That some Swedish Prisoners had been brought there from Grodno, who were taken by a Party of the King of Poland's Forces at the time when the Swedish Army passed by that Place; that a Party of his Majesty's Troops, commanded by the Sieur Malerewski, had met near Lowitz a strong Party of the Confederated Poles, who were raising Contributions there; and that he attacked them, killed several upon the spot, and brought back to Warsaw 50 Prisoners, and 1000 Florins in Money which he had taken from the Enemy, besides other Booty. The King of Poland having received the News of the Defeat of his Forces under the Command of General Schuylenbourg, by the Swedish Army commanded by General Reinschild, set out from Warsaw the 18th Instant early in the morning, with a considerable Body of Horse, having left in that Town a Garrison of 1000 Men. His Majesty directed his March towards Lowitz, and from thence will proceed towards General Reinschild's Army to observe his Motions, and prevent his making any further Advantage of his late Success. They write from Lithuania, That the Swedish Army there had not yet made any Attempt against the Muscovites, who lie very strongly Intrench'd near Grodno; and that some Swedish Parties having gone up as far as Wilna, the Muscovite Troops, who were there, believing the whole Swedish Army was coming upon them, immediately withdrew, and retired to Potozko. There is an Account from Livonia, That a Body of Swedish Troops under the Command of General Schreitenfeld, had met with a Party of the Muscovite Garrison of Dorpt and routed them; after which, the General came before that Town and block'd it up, and sent to General Lewenhaupt, who has the chief Command of the King of Sweden's Forces in Livonia, for more Troops, and a Train of Artillery, to enable him to form the Siege of that Place, and that General Lewenhaupt had drawn together a Body of Troops; but it was uncertain whether it was in order to carry on this Siege, or with intent to march into Lithuania and reinforce the King of Sweden's Army. Major-General Baur, who commands the Muscovite Troops in Courland, has drawn them together, and is marching towards Livonia to observe General Lewenhaupt. Lemberg and the other Towns on that side, which have lately been visited by the Plague, are now wholly free from it.

Liege, March 2. A further Supply of Ammunition has lately been brought hither by Water from Holland, and part of it is sent to Huy, and the rest laid up in our Magazines. They are working with great application upon our new Fortifications, and those of Huy. Most of the Officers of the Confederate Troops in these Parts, have raised all their Recruits. Our Parties make frequent Excursions upon the Enemy, and with very good Success. One of them, which went last week out of Mastricht, advanced to the very Suburbs of Brussels, and brought home several of the Inhabitants as Hostages, for the Payment of the Contributions demanded of them.

Plymouth, Feb. 28. The 26th Instant arrived here 10 Sail of Tin Ships, and several Coasters from London and the Isle of Wight, but last from Plymouth, under Convoy of Her Majesty's Ship the Maidstone; which having seen them safe in, made the best of her way to join a Fleet of outward-bound Transports, Merchant-men and other Vessels, under Convoy of several of Her Majesty's Ships that were then in the Offin. The 26th in the morning, to the Eastward of this Port, a small French Privateer fell in with some of the Coasters who were next the Land, and drove one ashore; but the Cambridge's Tender, which had 30 Men on board, and 4 Guns, came to her Assistance, and soon obliged the Privateer to make off. The House of Nassau, a Privateer of Flushing, sailed hence yesterday, being homeward-bound.

Dartmouth, March 1. Yesterday sailed hence the Elizabeth and Hannah of London, Captain Robert Chafe Commander, homeward-bound from Oporto. The Marlborough and Lucy Gallies are still remaining here.

Plymouth, March 3. Her Majesty's Ship the Triton sailed from hence the 28th past to the Eastward, with a Merchant-man under her Convoy.