

his retirement or discharge to pension; or, if he subsequently gave further service in circumstances rendering him eligible to be considered for a re-assessment of retired pay or service pension, before the termination of such further service; who was mainly dependent upon him at the time of his death.

(b) A child's pension will normally cease when the child attains the age of 18 years in the case of the child of an Officer or a Regimental Sergeant Major, Royal Marines, or the age of 16 years in the case of all other ratings and ranks, but may be granted or continued after those ages:—

(i) if the child continues to receive full-time education, or is an apprentice not receiving more than nominal wages; or

(ii) if, before attaining the age referred to above, the child was, and continues to be afflicted by mental or bodily infirmity and is therefore incapable of earning his or her own living, provided the Admiralty considers that the pecuniary circumstances of the child and family are such as to justify the award.

(c) Children's pensions will be paid to the widow or mother of the child, or other person responsible for the child's maintenance, or to the child direct, as may be decided by the Admiralty.

(d) Pensions of children of Officers and of Regimental Sergeant Majors, Royal Marines, may be issued annually in advance, with effect from 1st April in each year.

"20. Commutation of Retired Pay"

The widow and children of an officer who commuted a portion of his retired pay will not on that account be deprived of entitlement to pension under this Schedule, but the widow of an officer whose marriage took place after commutation, a step-child eligible by virtue of a marriage after commutation, or child adopted after commutation, will be granted only such portion of any pension which would otherwise be awarded under this Schedule as corresponds with the portion of retired pay not commuted."

Her Majesty, having taken the said Memorial into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve of what is therein proposed.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

W. G. Agnew.
