

was met out of Town by the Elector, the Elector's Prince his Son, and Prince Ernest Augustus his Brother; and was received at his alighting out of his Coach by the Electress Dowager and the two Princesses. The King dined with the Elector, the Electress Dowager, and the other Princes and Princesses; and is entertained in a most splendid manner, nothing being omitted that may contribute to his Diversion, or to the setting forth the Magnificence of his Court. The same Evening his Majesty ask'd the Princess of Hanover, Daughter to his Elector's Highness, in Marriage for the Prince Royal; and the Match was publickly declared yesterday. The Prince Royal presented her Highness with a Ring of great Value; and this Night the Contract is to be signed. His Majesty intends to go from hence the 23d Instant for Cleves. The Solemnity of the Marriage is deferred till his Return. The Lord Raby, Her Majesty of Great Britain's Ambassador Extraordinary to the King of Prussia, arrived here the 15th from Berlin. The Lord Halifax has put off his Departure home for some Days.

From the Duke of Marlborough's Camp at Rouffelaer, June 21. N. S. His Grace the Duke of Marlborough, with the Army under his Command, marched from Arceie the 18th Instant, and encamped in this Place, our Right being extended beyond Hoogleede, and our Left beyond Rouffelaer. The Inhabitants of Brabant, upon our Army's being at this distance from them, began to fear lest the Enemy, who have lately received a Reinforcement from Germany, should attempt to insult them: But his Grace, to free them from any Apprehensions of this kind, sent Brigadier-General Cadogan with a Body of Horse towards Oudenarde, and caused the necessary Dispositions to be made for the immediate March of the Army that way, upon the first Intelligence of the Enemy's being in motion. Brigadier Meredyth, who with a Detachment of our Troops has blocked up Dendermonde, was informed by Deserters from the Town, that the Burgers had pressed the Governor to surrender; which he refusing to do, and insinuating that they would wait at least till such time as our Cannon had begun to fire upon them, they obliged him to give them a Promise under his Hand that he would then capitulate. Our Artillery to be employed against that Place will be ready this day; so that we hope by our next Accounts to receive Advice of its being surrendered. We hear a Detachment of 1500 of the Enemy's Horse, with each a Foot-Soldier behind him; is marched from Mons to the Relief of Dendermonde: But Brigadier Cadogan having Notice of it, immediately marched towards Aloft, in order to join Brigadier Meredyth, if there should be occasion. The Army commanded by Monsieur d'Auverquerque invested Offend yesterday morning, and will besiege that Place in Form as soon as the Artillery designed for that Service is come up. The Enemy are doing all they are able to repair their late extraordinary Losses; and give out they shall take the Field again about the middle of next Month.

Hague, June 22. N. S. Monsieur d'Auverquerque, with the Army under his Command, advanced the 18th Instant before Nieuport, and had already made some Dispositions for attacking that Place; but meeting with Difficulties which would have rendered this Siege more tedious than was expected, it was thought fit to begin with that of Offend, and he accordingly laid down before that Town on the 21st. Letters from France of the 18th Instant give an Account, That by their Advices from Italy the Siege of Turin was carried on, the Trenches being opened before the Citadel; and that they had taken one of the Outworks, which had cost them very dear. The Garrison defends it self with great Bravery and Resolution, and the Duke of Savoy directs all things with admirable Conduct and Diligence. Our Letters from Madrid give an Account, That they had at last received the News of the Siege of Barcelona being raised; That the Dutchess of Anjou would thereupon have retired to Pampeluna, but was dissuaded from it by her Ministers; That Salamanca had declared for King Charles III. and that it was expected several other Towns thereabouts would follow that Example, the Country on that side, as well as the whole Kingdom of Aragon, being generally disposed in favour of his Catholick Majesty.
