Genoa, September 12. N. S.

THE Newcastle Man of War, Captain Cutter Commander, came into this Port the 4th Instant from Oneglia, where she had landed a considerable quantity of Powder for the Duke of Savoy's Service. The Count de Verue arrived here the 10th, being sent by the Duke of Savoy to the Dutchesses, with the News of the compleat Victory gained the 7th, by the Confederate Army under the Command of his Royal Highness and Prince Eugene, over the French Forces within their own Lines, between the Rivers Dora and Stura: Of which he brings these Particulars; That the Troops of Prussia, which are commanded by the Prince of Anhalt, were the first that forced the Enemy's Intrenchment, whose Horse charged them; but they being supported by the Confederate Horse, and the rest of their Troops at the same time beating the French from their Works, they entirely routed them; and the Enemy fled, part over the Bridge of Pareu, and the rest over that of Cavoret, leaving behind them all their Artillery, Tents, Ammunition and Baggage. The Marshal de Marlin was taken Prisoner, who is since dead of his Wounds. The Duke of Orleans was also wounded. The Duke of Savoy's own Regiment of Horse had taken three pair of Kettle-Drums, and two Standards, besides what were taken by the rest of the Confederate Troops, which were still in pursuit of the Enemy when this Express came away; and at two in the Afternoon they reckoned they had already 3500 Prisoners, among whom were several Officers of Note. There were found in the Enemy's Works 150 Pieces of Cannon, 50 Mortars, vast Quantities of Ammunition and Stores of all kinds, and a great deal of other Booty. A Courier is since come in, by whom we have Advice of further Advantages gained over the French, there being 4500 in all taken Prisoners, about 10000 killed, and 2000 being come over to the Confederates, besides great Numbers who also deserted and made their Escape elsewhere; and the broken Remains of the Enemy's Army being retired towards the French Frontiers: So that we are in Hopes of seeing Italy shortly freed from their Troops, which had almost brought the most flourishing Parts of it to entire Ruin, and the Seat of the War on this side removed into the Enemy's Country. The Dutchesses of Savoy, and the Envoy of the States-General to his Royal Highness, who is also in this Place, made great Rejoycings Yesterday for this glorious Success; and the English and Dutch Ships in our Port have made a treble Discharge of all their Guns upon this happy Occasion.
