HONOURS AND AWARDS

HOME OFFICE

Whitehall, London S.W.1.

3rd May 1963.

The QUEEN was pleased on 4th March 1963, at Government House, Sydney, to confer the honour of Knighthood upon:

David Roy McCaughey, Esq., C.M.G., of Narrandera, New South Wales.

The QUEEN was pleased on 6th March 1963, at Government House, Brisbane, to confer the honour of Knighthood upon:

George Ernest Green, Esq., Company Director, of Brisbane, State of Queensland.

[Her Majesty's approval of these Knighthoods was signified on 1st January 1963.]

3rd May 1963.

The QUEEN has been pleased to award The Queen's Police Medal for Gallantry to the late Detective Inspector Wallace Chalmers and to the late Detective Sergeant Neville Wilson Power, both of the New Zealand Police, in recognition of their gallant conduct in the following circumstances:

On 6th January 1963, a police party was called to Waitakere on the outskirts of Auckland where a man was insanely and indiscriminately firing a rifle. One person had been fatally shot and another severely wounded.

When the police party arrived the offender refused to answer requests to surrender issued over a loud hailer. Detective Sergeant Power moved in closer and ordered the man to come out. When the instructions over the hailer were met with rifle shots the Detective cautiously advanced and fired tear gas through a window. As a result the offender rushed out and mortally wounded the Detective by a shot fired through the corner of the building.

In rushing away to avoid the tear gas the offender aimed his rifle at another police officer. Inspector Chalmers, observing this, called upon the offender not to fire but, in so doing, caused the rifle to be turned upon himself and was fatally shot when he endeavoured to avoid the aim.
