REFERENCE TO THE NATIONAL BOARD FOR PRICES AND INCOMES COAL PRICES

The National Coal Board proposes that increases in the price of coal should be made from 1st April 1966, designed to yield a revenue of about £80 million in 1966-67.

As was indicated in the White Paper on the Finances of the Coal Industry (Cmnd. 2805, issued on 4th November), the National Coal Board proposed in July to increase coal prices from 1st September 1965. They agreed to defer these increases for the time being but informed the Government that, in their judgment, increases in the price of coal would still be required after the various adjustments to their finances described in the White Paper had been made. The Government considered that, in view of the importance of coal to the economy, it was desirable that the case for such increases should be publicly established, and they decided to refer the question of price increases to the National Board for Prices and Incomes. The Board are accordingly requested to examine the case for the increases proposed against the statutory financial and other obligations of the National Coal Board and the considerations set out in Part 1 of the White Paper on Prices and Incomes Policy (Cmnd. 2639). They are requested to make their report available in sufficient time that any increases that may be decided upon can take effect from 1st April 1966. 20th December 1965.
