

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday November 11. to Monday November 15. 1708.

Westminster, November 13.

THIS Night, at 10 of the Clock, the Proceſſion to the private Interment of his Royal Highneſs Prince George of Denmark, from the Painted Chamber within the Palace of Weſtmiſter, to the Place of Burial in the Abbey-Church, was performed in the following manner.

Her Maſteſty's Foot-Guards lined the Way between the Stairs leading from the Painted-Chamber to the Door of the Abbey.

The Knight-Marſhal's Men with black Staves two and two made way; after whom followed Gentlemen, Servants to the Nobility; Gentlemen, Servants to Her Maſteſty; Gentlemen, Servants to his Royal Highneſs; Pages of the Back-Stairs to his Royal Highneſs; Phyſician to his Royal Highneſs; Auditor, Solicitor and Attorney to his Royal Highneſs; Houſhold Chaplains to Her Maſteſty's Houſhold Chaplains to his Royal Highneſs; Eſquires to Her Maſteſty; Eſquires to his Royal Highneſs; Pages of Honour to Her Maſteſty; Pages of Honour to his Royal Highneſs; the two Secretaries to his Royal Highneſs; the Honourable the Council to his Royal Highneſs; Lord High Admiral; Barons younger Sons; Viſcounts younger Sons; Purſuivants and Heralds of Arms; Privy-Counſellors not Peers; Barons eldeſt Sons; Earls younger Sons; Viſcounts eldeſt Sons; Edward Griffin, Eſq; Comptroller of his Royal Highneſs's Houſhold; Walter Chetwynd, Eſq; Treafurer; Sir Sewſter Peyton, Bar. Steward; the Honourable Spencer Compton, Eſq; Chamberlain to his Royal Highneſs; with their White Staves: Barons; Biſhops; Marqueſſes younger Sons; Earls eldeſt Sons; Viſcounts; Dukes younger Sons; Marqueſſes eldeſt Sons; Earls; Dukes eldeſt Sons; Marqueſſes; The Right Honourable the Marquis of Kent, Lord-Chamberlain of Her Maſteſty's Houſhold, alone;

DUKES;

His Grace the Duke of Devonſhire, Lord-Steward of Her Maſteſty's Houſhold, alone;

Two Officers of Arms.

Lord Privy-Seal, Lord-Prefident of the Council.
Lord High-Treafurer, Lord High-Chancellor.

An Officer of Arms;

The Earl of Bridgwater, Maſter of the Horſe to his Royal Highneſs, alone;

A King at Arms, bearing a Crown on a black Velvet Cuſhion, between two Gentlemen Uſhers;

The Body carried by Yeomen of the Guard, under a black Velvet Canopy born by his Royal Highneſs's Gentlemen, the Pall being ſupported by ſix Earls;

Garter King of Arms, with a Gentleman Uſher on each ſide;

His Grace the Duke of Somerſet the Chief Mourner, ſupported by the Dukes of Ormond and Grafton, his Train born by a Baronet;

Ten Earls, Aſſiſtants to the Chief Mourner, moving two and two.

An Officer of Arms;

The Right Honourable the Lord Delaware, Groom of the Stole, alone;

Gentlemen of the Bed-chamber to his Royal Highneſs, the Right Hon. William Lord Byron, the Right Hon. Thomas Earl of Weſtmoreland, the Rt. Hon. Thomas Lord Howard of Eſſingham, the Rt. Hon. Archibald Earl of Roſberry, the Rt. Hon. Henry Earl of Lincoln; Maſter of the Robes to his Royal Highneſs, Monſieur Chriſtian Sigisried, Baron de Pleiſen, alone;

Grooms of his Royal Highneſs's Bed-chamber, the Honourable Charles Churchill, Eſq; the Honourable George Churchill, Eſq; Thomas Maule, Eſq; John Hill, Eſq; Hugh Poſcawen, Eſq; James Vernon, Junour, Eſq; Samuel Maſſien, Eſq; Francis Courtney, Eſq;

The Yeomen of the Guard closed the Proceſſion.

At the Door of the Abbey the Dean and Prebends met the Body, and proceeded before it, ſinging an Anthem, to King Henry the Seventh's Chappel, where it was depoſited during Divine Service, the Canopy being held over it, the Supporters of the Pall ſtanding by it, the Chief Mourner and his two Supporters reſting themſelves in Chairs at the Head of it, while the Nobility proceeded to their Stalls.

After Divine Service, the Body was conveyed to the Vault, preceded by the four white Staff Officers to his Royal Highneſs, and followed by the Chief Mourner, de Garter going before them.

The Secular Office of Burial being performed after an Anthem ſung, Garter King of Arms proclaimed his Royal Highneſs's Stile, and the white Staff Officers broke their Staves, and threw them into the Vault.

Genoa, November 4. N. S. Sir Edward Whitaker, with the Squadron under his Command, arrived laſt Week at Leghorn, where he deſigns to take in freſh Proviſions, and ſail from thence to Naples. He has already diſpatched Advices to Cardinal Grimani, to deſire that all things may be ready, upon his Arrival, for the immediate Embarkation of the Troops which are deſigned for Spain. Two Ships are expected here this Week, to take on Board the Regiment of Oſnabrug; and, at the ſame time, convey a Battalion of Griſons. This Reinforcement will be in a Condition to embark for Barcelona within fix days.

Vienna, November 7. N. S. On the laſt Day of October the Malecontents of Hungary, under the Command of Count Anthony Eſterhaſi, to the number of 8000, paſſed the Muhr in three Places, and pillaged the Town of Luthenberg, with ſeveral Villages in the Neighbourhood, drove away great numbers of Cattle, and carried off all ſorts of Goods and Proviſions. When the Letters came away they continued to deſtroy all that Tract of Land between the Muhr, and the Drave from Rackelſperg down to the joining of the two Rivers; and no Troops were near at hand to oppoſe them. They had inveſted Czachenthurn, and were battering it with five Pieces of Cannon. While the Hungarians are thus powerful on this ſide the Danube, we are told they have met with a conſiderable check in Upper Hungary, in a rencounter with the Imperial Cavalry. Count Berezeni's Son is ſaid to have been made Priſoner in the Action; and Count Ozkai, who lately abandoned the Party of the Malecontents, to be killed; but hitherto we have no certain Account of the Particulars, the Court having received no direct advice of this Affair from Marſhal Heiſter. On the 4th Inſtant Prince Maurice of Savoy arrived here, with the News of the Surrender of the Town of Liſie.

From the Camp at Rouſſelaer, November 14. N. S. On Friday the 9th Inſtant, the Earl of Stairs attacked a Force that covers Dixmuyde, which he carried after a very ſhort Reſiſtance, and made the Garriſon, conſiſting of 200 Grenadiers, commanded by a Lieutenant-Colonel, Priſoners of War. On the 10th Brigadier Evans marched from Langhemarq, and join'd the Earl of Stairs with five Battalions of Foot, and ſix Squadrons of Horſe more. Prince d'Auvergne has been encamped ſome days at Annay, with thirty four Squadrons, and has ſent from thence conſiderable quantities of Corn to the Prince of Savoy's Army, though the Enemy had detached above 40 Squadrons into thoſe Parts to prevent it. On the 12th Major-General Cadogan went, together with Brigadier Cronſrom, to Turcoin; where they were met by the Commiſſioners appointed by the Court of France to treat with them about the Exchange of Priſoners, and his Grace the Duke of Marlborough has an Account that they make a good Progreſs in that Affair. The Earl of Stairs writes from Loo, near Dixmuyde, that the Country thereabouts bring in their Corn, Cattle, and other Proviſions, at the Price he offers, in greater Abundance than could be expected.