

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday January 24. to Thursday January 27. 1708.

St. James's, January 23.

THIS Day Signior Cornaro, Ambassador in Ordinary from the Republick of Venice, had a private Audience of Her Majesty, to Condole the Death of his Royal Highness the Prince, and presented a Letter on that Occasion from the Senate; being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Sunderland, Principal Secretary of State, and Conducted thereto by Sir Charles Cottrell, Master of the Ceremonies.

Don Louis d'Acunha, Envoy-Extraordinary from the King of Portugal, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Sunderland, Principal Secretary of State, and Conducted by Sir Charles Cottrell, Master of the Ceremonies, had also a private Audience of her Majesty, to Condole the Death of his Royal Highness the Prince, from the King his Master, who, as soon as he received the Notification, retired for 4 Days from Publick Business, and directed his Mourning to be as for a King of Great Britain.

St. James's, January 25. The three following Addresses have been presented to Her Majesty by his Excellency the Right Honourable the Earl of Wharton, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Protestant Dissenters in the City of Dublin, and South of Ireland.

May it please your Majesty,

THE tender Regard which your Majesty has always expressed for the Welfare of your People lays us under the highest Obligations to Condole with your Majesty on so mournful an Occasion, as the Decease of his late Royal Highness Prince George of Denmark, a Prince whose illustrious Virtues will be ever remembered with all due Veneration.

We earnestly pray, That the Divine Consolations may be a firm Support to your Royal Mind, under so deep an Affliction; and that your invaluable Life may be long preserved for the happy Settlement of your own Dominions, and the Security of all Europe.

We esteem our selves highly indebted to your Majesty's great Goodness, that in the midst of your just Grief you intermit not your affectionate Care for the good of your Kingdom: and particularly this, for the Government whereof you have appointed a Person of such Consummate Abilities, and distinguishing Merit.

And with great Satisfaction we Congratulate your Majesty on the continued surprizing Progress of your Victorious Arm. Your brave Troops, with those of your Allies, under the Command of his Grace the Duke of Marlborough, have, by their many repeated Conquests, struck such a Terror into your Enemies, that they dare no longer look 'em in the Face upon equal Terms; but have tamely stood by, while they have seen one of their strongest and most important Fortresses fall into the Hands of the Confederates, and have shamefully fled before 'em from their own Intrenchments; Your Fleet with the like Courage have secured to themselves one of the best Harbours and Forts in the Mediterranean Sea, and thereby rendered your Naval Power formidable to all Italy. In the midst of these astonishing Successes Abroad, you Reign in the Hearts of all your Protestant Subjects at Home, and inspire even your Publick Councils themselves with such a Spirit of Unanimity and Vigour, as gives the fairest Prospect of seeing this expensive War brought to an honourable and happy Conclusion.

We cannot but esteem these distinguishing Favours of Divine Providence, as the Reward of your exemplary Piety and Moderation, your just and gracious Government, and the truly charitable Care you extend to the Foreign Reformed Churches, even those in the more distant parts of Europe.

And that Almighty God may yet Honour your Majesty by making you the successful Instrument of asserting the Liberties of Europe, restoring and enlarging the Protestant Interest Abroad, and uniting all your Protestant Subjects at Home in Affection and Interest, that all of 'em may express as dutiful a Zeal for your Service, as you do a sincere Desire to make 'em every way happy; and that after all the unparalleled Glories of a prosperous Reign, you may late inherit an un fading and immortal Crown, are the most ardent and constant Wishes of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most dutiful and obedient Subjects and Servants.

To the QUEEN's most excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Presbyterian Ministers, and those of their Perswasion, in the North of Ireland.

May it please your Majesty,

OUR dutiful Affection to your Majesty both engage us to a feeling and mournful Sense of your great Loss, in the Death of his Royal Highness Prince George of Denmark, and to join our earnest Desires that the God of all Comfort may support your Majesty with the best Blessings of Heaven under your just Grief on this Sorrowful Occasion; which we beg leave to Condole with all the tenderness becoming faithful Subjects. And we can't but with all grateful Acknowledgement observe your Majesty's singular Care of this poor Kingdom in the height of your Affliction, by appointing us a chief Governor of such an established Eminent Character.

Our inviolable Respect to your Sacred Majesty's Person and Government, and Zeal for the Protestant Succession by Law established, do oblige us to Congratulate your Majesty upon the glorious Successes wherewithal it hath pleased God to bless your Majesty's Forces under the Renowned Conduct and Bravery of his Grace the Duke of Marlborough, in conjunction with those of your Allies, particularly in this extraordinary Campaign: And upon the many other surprizing Effects of the Wisdom of your Councils, Power of your Arms, and Royal Care for uniting and strengthening the Protestant Interest by the moderation of your Government, the extensive Influences wherof reach to the Relief of the Reformed even Abroad, whereby the growing Brittishness of your great and auspicious Reign, and the Happiness of your People are daily advanced.

That Almighty God may bless your Majesty with a long and prosperous Reign, make you the happy Instrument of restoring the Peace of Europe, relieving oppressed Protestants, and accomplishing all the other valuable ends of Government, and afterwards Crown you with immortal Glory, is the earnest Prayer of us, who in our own, and in the Name of those we represent, subscribe our selves, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most obedient, dutiful and loyal Subjects.

Her Majesty's most gracious Answer.

I Am very well pleased with these Expressions of Duty and Affection from my good Subjects, and they may always be assured of the Continuance of my Protection.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Deputy Mayor, Aldermen, Common-Council, free Burghers, and other Inhabitants of the Ancient and Loyal Corporation of Appleby in the County of Westmorland.

Which Address her Majesty received very graciously.

HAGUE,