Cadiz, March z.

S Ir Thomas Allen is yet here, but intends within 2 or 3 dayes for the Streights, and to take under his Convoy fome thips confiderably laden, and amongft others the Briftol bound for Genoua.

Two French men of War are lately arived from Rochels and more daily expected.

From Sally we are advided, that the Emperour of Morocco, has with much civility exculed the Rop put upon the Lord Howards entrance into Barbary, by the danger himfelf was in, by realon of the infurrection and rebellion of his Nephews, he being unwilling to engage him in the Countrey; til he had rendred himself fufficiently powerful to protect him.

Since the reducing of the Rebels, the English which had been for fome time under reftraint, and imprifoned at Sally, were freed and are fafely arrived at Tangier, and Mr Warren the Secretary of the Embally, gone to attend the Emperour at Fez, about the mutual fatisfaction which was defined to be given for all injuries done during the Truce owned by the Emperour.

Warfam, Mart. 14. After an earneft conteft between Parz and Radzevil about the Election of a Marshal, the latter carried it for Lythuania, of which Province he was Vice-Chancellor, and accordingly His Majesty was acquainted with the choice. The next day was defigned for their folemn kiffing of His Majesties hand, which was put off till Monday, that the Queen might be present to fee the Ceremony.

On saturday Count schaffgotz, the Emperours Ambalfador Extraordinary made his publick Entry with great pomp and Iplendor, he has fince performed the bulinefs of his Embaffy, and congratulated the Marriage, and is already preparing for his return home.

The next day the Queen entred with Extraordinary Magnificence, the Citizens being drawn into Arms to receive her, and most of the Nobility attending her with their Coaches, or elle on horfeback; their Majeffies entred in a rich Coach drawn by 8 excellent horfes, followed by all the Guards.

On Monday, the King took his feat under a Canopy of States to receive the Equeitrian Order, the Senators being feated on each fide of him, and the Queen with her Ladies placed in a Gallery to behold the Ceremony, which was long expected, feveral disputes between them and their Marefhal, deteining them neer Three hours, who at the laft, fo far complyed with them, as to fwear upon his Word and Honour not to do any thing contrary to the publick refolution.

The 1 arthul in the name of the rost desired of his Majefly

. 1. That the Vacancies might be disposed of.

2. That if this Diet thould happen to be broken off his Majesty would fummon the Nobility to appear in their Arms.

3. That all publick Ministers might be dispatcht.

4. That the Opinon of all the Senators might be taken upon his Majestics proposals.

5. That his Majefty would caufe the Pasta Conventa to be openly read: his Majefty willingly granted the tormer, but much (crupled the last; but finding them refolved not to proceed upon any other bufiness till this were granted, them, the King called them back as they were going out, and promised it though be done on the moriows It has been fince this Affembly refolved, that no fingt. perfor should have the power to break up the Diet, but if any one found himfelf grieved, he should prefere his faid grievance to his Majelty and the Senate, where it should be heard and determined.

The fame Munday his Nojesty invited all the publick Minifters, Senators, and Deputies to a great Bunquet, the Popes Nuncio, and the Emperors Ambassador were placed at the fame Table with their Majessies, the Nuncio taking the upper hand.

Here are now in Town fome Ambaffadors from Dorofonsko, who in their Audience, defired his Majefties affiftance against Hanigow, the head of the Rebel Collacks and the Turks, who have already feized fome places belonging to the Collacks : his Maj fly was pleased to give them a favourable answer, expressing his inclination to take them under his effectal care, and that he intended this Summer to come in person to their affistance,

Rome, Mart. 15. On Munday last Cardinal Barbarini different his interest in the Conclave, where upon a feruiny in favour of Cardinal Rospiglioss, his party was found to amount to Thi, ty three Votes, besides four others who are at prefent out of the Conclave upon the account of their indisposition of body, which made no simult impression upon Cardinal Chigy, e pecially, fince amongs the number he found Vidoni, Franzone, and Spinola, whom he supposed to have been his Creatures and obliged to espouse his interest only.

The Cardinals di Medicis, Francifco Barba ini, and Chigi, the heads of the feveral factions have lately had fome conference in order to the putting an end to the Conclave, of whole long continuance they begin to be very fenfible, and tis faid is has been moved, that Six Cardinals may be nominated our of the whole Colleage, out of which number they intend to make choice of one to be preferred to the Papacy.

The perfons who are most discoursed of at present as ftanding fair for the Election are the Cardinals Carpegns and Brancaccio. Cardinal Barbarino is faid to have disparche a Courier to the French Court in favour of Facebinetti, but the squadron seem rather inclined to Odefcalchi, a perfor not wedded to any f. ction.

I here is lately much discourse of a famous Gid of Rimini, who either by pretended Divine power, or Diabolical Arts, has done many wondrous things and amongst others, fell 300 times in one night into trances or extaines, in which the frequently seemed to foretell that Cardinal Barbarino fhould succeed in the Papsey.

On Saturday last the Constable Solonna gave an Extraordinary entertainment at bis Countrey house Pansitia, to the Dutchelles Magarini, Sforga, and Bassanello, and to the Dutkes of Brunswick, Roano, and Nevers, with the Earl of Northumberland, and many other perions of the greatest Eminency, who were asterward diverted with feveral Recreations by the Prince Pamsitio, and Treated with an excellent Banquet.

The Duke of Brunfwick is fince departed on his way to Venice.

Legorn, Mart. 17. The 13th inftant departed hence Sir John Harman, with Captain Darcy, and the Junkine for Junk, intending to return by Mellina to this place and to take under his Convoy the Merchant thips, expected from Fuglia and Zante. The 12th inftant artived here the Mary Pink from Ireland, and yesterday the William and Ralph Keych from Naples, intending to re-
