Vienna, June 29. N. S. The Diet of Hungary being met again at Presburg. the Emperor has communicated to them his Answer to the Grievances of the Kingdom, which the Estates presented to him when they were last assembled. The Answer contains in Substance, That his Imperial Majesty will inviolably observe, as the Rule of his Government, the Charter which he granted them at the time of his Inauguration; that in case of Default of Issue Male descended from the late Emperor Leopold, it shall be free for the Estates of the Kingdom to proceed to a new Election of a King; that they shall be governed according to the Laws of their own Kingdom, and not after the manner of the other Hereditary Provinces of the House of Austria; that whilst his Imperial Majesty cannot reside in Hungary, he promises to reside in some other Kingdom or Province adjoining to it. The previous Citation of a Criminal before his Imprisonment not being required either by the ancient or modern Laws of the Kingdom, because of the Danger that may arise to the Publick from giving Criminals an opportunity to make their Escape by such a warning. his Imperial Majesty tells the Diet that he cannot intirely comply with their Request in this Matter; but assures them, that the Case of High-Treason excepted, no Nobleman shall be taken into Custody for any Crime whatsoever, without a previous Citation. The Emperor promises, that the Nobility shall not be taxed but in a legal manner, and that their Houses shall be exempted from the quartering of Soldiers. But because of the Impossibility to assemble a Diet in the regular manser, in the case of any sudden Irruption of an Enemy, or inward Commotion, his Imperial Majesty recommends it to the Estates, to delegate to some of their number a Power, to raise, upon any such Emergency, the Supplies which he and they together shall judge to be necessary for restoring Peace and Quiet to the Kingdom. The Emperor does not think fit to revoke in general all the Forfeitures that have already past, but promises Redress to such particular Persons as can shew themselves to be injured. He thinks it reasonable that Children should suffer in their Estates, by the Forfeiture of their Parents, for the Crime of High-Treason; but declares, that the innocent Brother or Wife of the Criminal shall not be involved in the Forfeiture. His Imperial Majesty insists on his Right to those Lands which have been lately recovered from the Turks; and says, that if any of the ancient Proprietors of those Lands be still alive, and lay Claim to them, it is but reasonable, that before they obtain Possession of them, they pay their proportionable Share of the Charges of the late expensive War against the Turks. His Imperial Majesty promises to call a Diet once in three Years. He says, that by the Law of Hungary, Church-men never had the free Power to dispose by Will of their Goods, but that at their Death all their Effects fell to the King's Exchequer. However, the Emperor consents, that as to their moveable Goods they may make an Agreement for them with Commissioners whom he shall appoint for that end. But all their Immoveables must go to the King's Exchequer, as formerly. He represents to the Diet the Necessity of having the Exchequer of Hungary to depend on the Court of Exchequer residing in Vienna, that he may be duly informed of the Management of his Revenue in that Kingdom. He cannot consent, that either the Exchequer or Chancery of Hungary, should receive their Instructions from the Diet, that being the King's Prerogative alone. The Emperor tells the Diet, that they cannot but be sensible of the Necessity of employing foreign Officers in Hungary; and that the Hungarian Nation would have incurred the Censure of the highest Ingratitude, if after having been delivered out of the Turkish Bondage by the Blood and Treasure of the Germans, they had banished their Deliverers out of their Country. The King being the Founder of the Churches of Hungary, it is his Right to confer the Church Benefices on whomsoever he pleases; but he promises to have always a particular Regard for the Natives of Hungary. He desires the Diet to recommend to him some Persons of Integrity, who are well versed in the Laws and Customs of their Country, that he may employ them in reviewing the Laws of the Kingdom, and enquiring into the Abuses of the Courts of Judicature. As to the Affair of the three Religions received in Hungary, the Emperor ratifies the Settlement made in that Matter by the last Diets held at Odenburg and Presburg. Which Settlement is the great Grievance the Protestant Estates have been all along complaining of, as an overthrowing of the Legal Security they formerly enjoyed for their Religion. Seeing the Estates of the Kingdom complain, that the Peace of Carlowitz was concluded without the Council and Advice of any of the Hungariaa Nation, the Emperor promises to call into his Council some of his Hungarian Subjects in all future Treaties with the Ottoman Porte. His Imperial Majesty agrees, that in the next ensuing Diet a Council of Native Hungarians be named by his Majesty and the States, for the Administration of the Affairs of that Kingdom, and desires the present Diet to consider of the manner in which the said Council ought to be established, that there may remain nothing to be done, done in the following Diet, but to name the Persons who are to be Members of this Council. He promises to consign to the Diet several authentick Copies of the Charter he granted them at his Coronation, to be deposited in the Places of Hungary mentioned in the Request of the States, and to send a Copy of it to the King of Spain, as being presumptive Heir to the Crown of Hungary; but refuses to give Copies of it to the Pope, or the States of the Empire. He tells the Diet that he will give no other Security to Prince Ragotzi and his Adherents, besides the aforesaid Charter, and a legal Redress in a General Diet of the Kingdom of any Abuses that may have crept into the Government; and that seeing Prince Ragotzi and his Adherents have hitherto pertinaciously refused to accept of the Offers of Mercy and Pardon that have been made them, there remains no other way for putting an end to the present Troubles, but to declare all and every one of those that have taken up Arms, if they do not return to their Allegiance within a Month's time, Traitors and Enemies to their Country, and all their Goods to be forfeited to the King's Exchequer. His Imperial Majesty concludes his Answer to the Grievances, with an Exhortation to the Estates of the Kingdom, to accept these his Resolutions with all Duty and Submission, to be contented with them, and not to spend time in vain and needless Replies, but to put a speedy end to the present Diet.

From the Camp before Tournay, July 11. N. S. Our Approaches of the three several Attacks have hitherto been carried on with very good Success and little Loss; the Trenches of the Attack against the Cittadel are relieved daily by a Lieutenant-General, a Major-General, and a Brigadier, with four Battalions; and at the two other by the like number of General Officers, and three Battalions at each, besides Workmen. The Batteries for Ruining the Defences are almost finished, and there are near two hundred Boats come up the Schelde as far as our Bridges, with the heavy Artillery and Ammunition, which have been landing there two Days, and will be brought to the Batteries with all the Expedition that can be made: At this time the Ways are almost every where unpassable, by reason of the great Rains which have fallen for some Weeks past. The Marshal de Villars continues still with his Army between Lens and la Bassée.

Hague, July 12. N. S. Letters from the Camp before Tournay say, that soon after the Place was Invested the Governour called a Council of War, in which it was debated, whether they should defend the Town and Cittadel together, or, without pretending to maintain the Town, retire into the Cittadel, but it was at last concluded, that they would defend both in the best manner they were able. However, this having been the Subject of a Dispute, confirms us in the belief of our former Advices, which said the Town was in a weak Condition. A Letter, bearing date the 27th of the last Month, from the Marshal Villars to the French King, has been lately intercepted, in which that General acquaints his Master that he expected to be Attacked within half an Hour, and doubted not but he should give his Majesty reason to be well satisfied with his Conduct.

Salisbury, July 2. Yesterday the Jacobus Dogger of London, laden with salt, arrived here in fifteen Days from Lisbon; and this Day sailed out the Catherine of Bristol, being laden with Fish for Leghorn. Two Packet Boats continue in Harbour.

Yarmouth, July 4. Yesterday the outward bound Russia Fleet, with their Convoys, came to anchor on the back of our Sands, and being this Day joined by divers Ships from this Place, proceeded on their Voyage.

Portsmouth, July 5. Yesterday her Majesty's Ships the Chester and Lynn sailed from Spithead into the Harbour. Admiral Baker, on Board the Starling-castle, continues still at Spithead, with her Majesty's Ships the Somerset, Pembroke, Resolution, Winchelsea, Pearl, and the Griffin Fire-Ship. The Exeter, with the Transports and Merchant-men bound for Plymouth, continues still at Saint Helens.

The Hon. the Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery, etc. Lord High-Admiral of Great Britain is pleased to direct, that all the Men belonging to her Majesty's Ship the Dreadnought, which are in or about London, do forthwith repair to their Duty on Board the said Ship at Chatham, to dispatch the necessary Works of Rigging her, and taking in her Guns, Stores and Provisions, otherwise they will be taken up and Punished as Deserters.

The Right Honourable the Earl of Pembroke, Lord High-Admiral of Great Britain and Ireland, etc. is pleased to direct, that the Men belonging to her Majesty's Ship the Royal Anne-Galley, which are now absent from her, do immediately repair on Board the said Ship at Woolwich, otherwise they will be taken up and punished as Deserters.

Notice is hereby given, That the Officers and Company of Her Majesty's Ship Dunkirk, will on Thursday the 14th Instant, at the Prize Office in York Buildings, be paid their Proportions of the Prize-Ship Hocquart, according to the Directions in Her Majesty's most gracious Declaration of the 1st of June, 1702.
