The Secretary of State for Energy, in accordance with the provisions of section 142 and Part I of the Second Schedule to the Mines and Quarries Act 1954, hereby gives notice that he proposes to make General Regulations under sections 68, 141 and 143 of the Mines and Quarries Act 1954 entitled the Coal and Other Mines (Electricity) (Second Amendment) Regulations 1974.

The draft regulations amend the Coal and Other Mines (Electricity) Regulations 1956, as already amended by the Coal and Other Mines (Electricity) (Amendment) Regulations 1967, which apply to mines of coal, stratified ironstone, shale and fireclay. The effect of these amendments is to provide for:

- (b) the earthing at the surface of the mine of one or more neutral points of a polyphase system fed from transformer secondary windings where the primary windings are automatically cut off from the electricity supply on the breakdown of the insulation between the transformer primary and secondary windings;
- (c) the earthing of one pole of a system fed from a transformer single phase secondary winding and used solely for the supply of switchgear electrical control gear, electrical interlock, instruments and lights;
- (d) the restriction of earth leakage currents by design and construction;
- (e) the earthing of electrical systems all at one place and the exemption from earthing of double insulated hand-held tools and extra-low voltage portable apparatus; and
- (f) the modification of the descriptions of apparatus relating to the detection or measurement of inflammable gas.

Copies of the draft regulations may be purchased (price 6p) from Her Majesty's Stationery Office at any of the addresses shown on the last page of this Gazette.

Any objection to the draft regulations by, or on behalf of, any person affected thereby must be sent to the Secretary of State for Energy, Thames House South, Millbank, London, SW1P 4QJ, not later than 26th October 1974. Each such objection must be in writing and must state:
