Swanzey May 12.

N Munday last arrived in this Road, a veffel of Bideford laden with Wines and Vinegat from Rochel bound for Briffol, the Master and Company affirm, that at their departure, sieveral French men or war lay there trebly manned and well furnisht with Ammunizion and Provi-

Gon, with Pick-axes. Baske's, and divers infruments of war; and that feveral other men of war lay ready in the Cha ante and other parts defigned for Belle Ifle, the pace intended for their Rendezvous, but that it was not there known for what fince this Fleet may be defigned.

Warfars May 9. We lave great apprellentions what may be the iffue of the great contpinecy, which has been in fome measure detected by the yet concealed Author of the paper found upon the Altar in the Great Church. His Majefty feems refored if possibly, to gain his very enemies by obliging them by his kind Letters, but has laid tide the refolution of holding a Ge eral Altembly in Atms in the field, it being supposed to be over-hazardous to leave the affairs of this Government at prefent to the difcretion of the multidude, effectially fince tis more them probable that they have had ill principles fpread amongft them by fuch perfons as have too far engaged themsfelves to endeavor a change.

The King is in great expectation of the iffue of the feveral Provincial Diets which are to be held this month, to receive from their reprefentative an account according to suftom of what paffed in the late General Aff mbly.

Tis believed his Majesty will soon call another General Diet, though with little hopes, after those ill experiments, to find a better iffue of them then of the former.

The King fome days fince received a Letter prefented to him by an Envoy from the Cham of Xartary, penned with that tudenefs which gives us reafon to believe we are not to expect any thing but hofilities from them, which we are confirmed in by the report of Colonel Collat lately arrived from Leopolis, who tells us that the Cham is at the head of 100 thoufand Tartars, with whom tis believed he intends to invade Poland.

From Camienez Podolshy we are told, that feveral Armenians lately arriving f om Conflantinople, trad ng with Turki,h Horfes affure, that the Turks are drawing together great fi rees about Adrianople, and give out they intend to march this way. The fame intelligence of the Turkifh preparations we have also from Willchia. We are farther informed, that the prefert unfetlet poffure of the Turkifh affairs about Conflantinople, not permiting the Gravid Signior to ablent vinnelf long from that place ; he has ordered the Tar are to begin the wa upon us, promifing them they thall be (peedily well feconded b kis Baffas.

We have now a fresh report, that the Tartars have made another irruption into Ukrania, but have met with much resistance, and received much damage by the Colfacks; Geveral Dorofensko is strongly fortifying all places in those parts.

His Majesty has ordered his Proclamation to be publisht in Pruffia as well as in other parts, declaring his defires, that all parties pretending to any grie ances will make them known to him, that he may the better know how to redrefs them and give them fatisfaction. The Vice-Chancellor is ere this arrived there with (everal Lords to take the Homage of that Countrey. Vienna, May 11. We know not yet what may be the iffue of the diffurbances in Hungary, and our prayers are that the Turks may not concern themfelves fo far as to engage the Emperopin a dangerous war Prince Ragetski continues ftill in Arms, his party is partly Lutherans, and partly Roman Catholicks. We here fuppole his defign to be only ambition, ayming at power, to be Prince of Mpper Hungary, and King of Croatia, like his Father, which will hardly be conferred to by feveral of the States of Hungary, nor particularly by the Ciries of Cafehau, and Efperies. The Prince's Mother fo much difforms the protedure of her fon, that file has retired her felt to a firing Cafile and defired an Imperial Gariton for her protection. His Electoral Hignefs of Brandenburg has ordered Colonel Danewald to command three or four Regiments which are to be fent to the affiftance of his Imperial Majefty.

All the Imperial forces which were quartered in Groatia are now upon their march towards Presburg, so that Hungary is lik to be made the feat of war. The forces which were ordered to march towards Zakay, find too great a difficulty in passing the Forests and several st eights, and have taken up their Quarters in the Towns near the Mountains till fatther Order.

All the Gentry and other inhabitants of Hungary who retain their Loyalty to his Imperial Majefty recommanded to repair to their Rendezvous at Tyrnam, whither the Prince of Lorrain is marching to enter upon his charge as General of the av ley.

The Prince de Vandemont having received his Imperial Maje flies thanks for the Incors offered him by the Duke of Lorrain, of which he has not yet occation to make ute, is departed hence.

The Count d'Efterhafi is at the head of 3000 Hung garians for the Emperors service.

The General Rendezvous of all the Imperial forces is to be at Rafienburg in Upper Hungary about the end of this month.

F om Zatmar we have a late advice, which tells us that the Governour of that place had fent out two parties of Hurfe to fetch in Provisions out of the Countrey, but that th Hungarians falling upon them, killed above 40 of them; in revenge of which affront, Colonel Stralford the faid Governour marched out with a ftrong party, and fell upon hole Huffars whom he defeated, and killed about 250 of them upon the place.

The Empreis Eleanor has lately received Letters from their Majefties of Po and, viving her an account of the confpiracy difference of the a ter tion of that Government, and that the fame is aftered party had fent a confiderable fuccor, which were to joyn with the Prince Ragotsky to increase the rebellion in Hungary, but that his Majefty had fent a party to intercept them.

Their Imp-rial A sjefties having by an extraordinary flood, been prevented in thei intended pilgrimage to Ceel in Stiria, went to Pottenftein for their Dev tions; at their re urn hither, the principal Nobility and Governors of Hungary are ordered to attend the Emperor.

The Count Serini is fince his arrival here, fallen into a great melancholly.

The Jews upon their humble petition to his Imperial Majefty, are faid to have obtained the favout to leave a confiderable number of their Tribe for a longer time in this City.
