Coire, December 30. N. S. The Congress of this Republick has finish'd its Session, without coming to any positive Determination upon the Business of Monsieur Masner, which seems too nice to be ab-solutely Decided at this Juncture, and therefore they have referr'd it to be Debated once more by the several Communities which compose this State. They will be defired to confider more particularly of several Points, the chief of which are, whether they shall Censure Monsieur Masner, or whether they shall agree to throw their Censure on the Community of Rantzun, a Lordship belonging to the Emperor in this Country, in which the Fact was committed. The next Busness is to answer the French Ambassador's Letter, which it is hoped they will do only by giving him a Relation of what has passed in this Congress, and not expose the Dignity of a Sovereign State to the Scornful Treatment of the French, by imploring Grace for young Masner, which some were humbly enough inclined to do. The last thing they intend to do, is to write to the Baron de Greuth, the Emperor's Minister here, to defire him to use his good Offices at the Imperial Court, for having the Grand Prior fet at Liberty, and they have exhorted Monsieur Mas-at Liberty, and they have exhorted Monneur Mainer to join in the same Request.

Brussels, Fanuary 26. N. S. Our Letters from Paris advise, that General Staremberg arriv'd the 23d of the last Month at Saragossa, where he caus'd Te Deum to be Sung for his late Victory over the Enemy; after which he pursued his March. And I attack of the oth from Madrid say he was ad-Letters of the 5th from Madrid say, he was advancing with great Diligence towards Balaguer, being join'd by the Troops that had been garrifon'd in the feveral Towns in Arragon. The Duke of Anjou arriv'd the 4th Inflant at Saragossa, where the Dutchess was expected from Nagera. Our Letters from Paris add, that the Trenches were open'd before Gironne the 27th past; and that the Duke de Noailles having raised a Battery of six Pieces of Cannon, which began to play upon Fort Rouge, the Governor thought fit to abandon that Post, and to draw the Garrison into the Town, where he continued to make a very vigorous Resistance; and we are not without some hopes that General Staremberg may be able to arrive time enough to his Relief. They write from Valenciennes of the 17th, that the late Elector of Cologne was expected back from Paris on the 22d, having not been able to obtain any part of the Sums he went to Demand on Account of his Arrears, and for Recruiting his Troops in the French Service. Those Letters add, that Mareschal Villars was shortly expected in those Parts, in order to view the Towns, and to examine into the Condition of the Troops. The Enemy are forming dition of the Troops. The Enemy are forming their principal Magazines on the Somme, and at Arras, and are Transporting thither all the Stores they have laid up at Namur and Charleroy. Tho' the Officers have receiv'd firich Orders to have their Companies compleat by a certain time, they are very backward in their Recruits, not only for want of Men, whom they force into the Service, but also of Mony, very little being order'd for that purpose; and it is certain, that the Ministry is oblig'd to raise the Tenth Penny by way of Military Execution.
