

both Eperies and Casovic have been content to take in an Imperial Garrison, but that several of the rebellious Troops are retired towards Transylvania and other parts of the Turkish Dominions.

Genova, June 18. The 14th Instant arrived here one of the Great Dukes Gallies from Palermo with many Bales of Silk for this place, and the same day put to sea again for Legorn, whither sailed yesterday the Dutch Convoy of two men of war and 6 Merchant ships. The same day sailed the Return for Zante and will in few days be followed by the Conclusion.

From Milan we are told that the Duke d' Ossuna the new Governor, having notice of the arrival of the Prince de Ligne upon the frontiers, sent two Companies of his Guards to receive him at Cremuz, who attended him to Lody, the first City belonging to the Dutchy of Milan, where the said Prince was introduced with extraordinary honour by the Bishop of that City, the Prince Trivulzio and several persons of Quality, with a Train of above 20 Coaches with 6 horses, the Canons discharged, and several Volleys given him by the Foot Companies, he was honourably entertained at the Bishops Palace where he was complimented by a Gentleman sent by the Governour, which the Prince returned by one of his own Gentlemen. The Marquis de los Balbes Spain gave and received from him a visit, after which the Prince took his way by Castel Nuovo towards Genova.

The Prince de Ligne is lately arrived here and remains in o. i. o., residing a Palace prepared for him in this City; five of the Gallies which attend for his Transportation, have been taking in soldiers at Finale, and are returned thence this morning. On Saturday the Prince intends (if not sooner) to embark and set forwards towards his Vice-Royalty of Sicily.

Hambourg, June 20. As yet the business of Regenstein is not past the dispute, the right to the place being still under consideration of the Mediators who endeavor, if possible, to satisfy all parties concerned, and to prevent the breach of the publick peace which was hereby much endangered; the forces on each side during the months truce agreed upon between them, keep within their Quarters, their Officers being ordered to forbear all hostilities till some effect appear of the Arbitration.

The Lorrain forces continue about Erfort, and the Countrey called Eisfeldt, being ready to be employed by his Imperial Majesty, whose affairs should require their assistance.

Some late Letters from Vienna tell us, that the disturbances in Hungary are not yet compos'd; the inhabitants of the Upper Hungary being infinitely displeas'd at the procedure of the Imperial forces, inasmuch, as they have drawn a considerable strength together, intending to stand upon their Guard.

The Diet at Ratisbonne is now debating the differences between the House of Nassau and the Duke of Lorrain, the latter being unwilling to make restitution of the Lands belonging to the former, till the Money is paid for which they are engag'd.

They are also considering how to regulate Coins.

The Comte d' Oeting has been complain'd of in the Assembly, that being a Protestant he refuses to permit the Roman Catholicks to have a free exercise of their Religion within his jurisdiction, where he pretends to a Spiritual as well as a Temporal power, in which the Comte defends himself, urging the like methods used by the Roman Catholicks against the Protestants.

Brussels, June 27. His Excellency the Constable of Castille finding some indisposition of body, keeps himself retired, leaving all affairs to his Secretary, who this week received my Lord Castlehaven on his return from England to the Command of his Regiment.

The Adjutant-General of Battalia being ordered to arrest one Baron Butler, an Irish Captain of Horse for having forcibly released some of his soldiers imprisond by the Governours Command; the said Adjutant mistaking the name, seized on Captain Porter on Tuesday last in the Park at Brussels, and was conveying him to the Castle of Vilvoord, but notice being presently taken of the mistake, the Duke de Villa Hermosa, the General of the Horse, immediately sent away a Post, who called back Captain Porter on the midway to Vilvoord, whom the Duke himself was pleas'd to visit at his Lodging with Don Antonio de Cordoua his Lieutenant-General, to excuse the error of the Adjutant, whom he ordered to be discharged his employment, and imprisond, but pardon'd him upon the intercession of the said Captain Porter.

The same Tuesday night happened a fire in the street leading from the Jesuits Church to the Stone Port, by the accidental falling of a Squib into a Hay-loft, which in little time burnt down 11 or 12 Houses, and amongst others a very fair new house of the Count de Brouay.

The Constables Baggage is carried to Ostend, himself impatiently expecting the return of every Courier for his dismission from the Government of these Provinces. He intending as soon as may be to depart hence by the way of France into Spain.

The Horse continue their Quarters as formerly between this City, Malines, and Louvain, to the great trouble of the Countrey; the Deputies of the Province of Brabant are endeavouring to have them removed into Luxembourg, Limbours, and Queldres, but as yet without effect.

A Courier newly arrived from Spain tells us, that as yet no Governor is appointed to succeed the Constable of Castille in these Provinces. Don John of Austria has been press'd to accept of it, but he excuses himself; others have negotiated for the Prince of Lorrain, but as yet nothing is resolv'd.

London, June 26. On Friday the 24th Instant His Excellency Monsieur Colbert the French Ambassador, had an Audience from their Majesties with the usual Ceremonies, condoling for the death of Madam, making afterwards his Compliments upon the same account to their Royal Highnesses. The Marshal de Bellefonds is also on his way hither, to Complement their Majesties and Royal Highnesses in a more solemn manner, in the name of His most Christian Majesty.

This day the Venetian Ambassador and the Dutch Minister, made also their Compliments to their Majesties and Royal Highnesses upon the same subject.
