Neer 4000 men are now employed at Breft about their fhips and Magazins.

Rome, June 21. The Pope is fiill confulting how to leffen the publick expence, and unwilling to prefs the people with any new Taxes, however it was rumored to the contrary, but endeavouring rather to eafe them from those already imposed, and particularly, from the Tax upon Meal, which most fensibly afflicts the poorest fort of people. The Reformation of the foldiery is well advanced, and like to be a great eafe to the publick, and may fave the Chamber neer 70 thousand Crowns a year.

The Pope has according to the cuftome of his Predeceffors, granted an universal Jubile upon his Exaltation, and has on foot began his Devotions to feveral Churches upon that account.

On Tuesday last 'towards the Evening, dyed here Segnior Baily Camillo Rospiglos, a person much lamented by the Poor, who had received several demonstrations of his great Charity; the Cardinal his fon, with several others of his Fam ly, were prefent at his death, and have fince caused a folemn Funeral Service to be performed for him in the Jefuits Church: the said Cardinal is purchasing the Lands of Zagurola, for Gio. Battista Rospiglios his Brother, and Heir to the deceased Camillo, who is to be declared a Duke, in which Purchase the Pope is pleased to be an affistant, leaving several places in the Mounts of Piety to his disposal:

Cardinal Raegi is going for Genoua his own Country, having obtained leave from the Pope, to refign an Abby in his pofieffion to his Nephew Ferdinand. On Sunday last Cardinal Bichi went hence towards Osfimo, and to morrow Cardinal Rafcetti goes hence for Factta; and Cardinal Caraccioli, and the Marquis de Pefcara for Naples, from whence they write that the Viceroy has well fortified all his Sea Coafts, to prevent any defign the Turks might have to land, and had fent out two Felucas for intelligence to obferve the motion of the Turkih Fleet, of whose defigns he had fome apprehensions. The Duke d' Albukerque has taken alfo the fame, care for the Defence of Sicilr, and daily expects the arriv. 1 of his successfor the Prince de Ligne. Venice, July 5. Letters from Cavalier Moline from Suda inform us, that the Visier put to Sea the 29th of May with a great Fleet of Galleys and other thips, and feveral Tripolines, intending to wait on the Grand Segnior at Adrianople : Cavalier Molino our Ambasiador is gone with him, attended by a Train of 75 perfons, which are to be Entertained during their Voyage upon the Visiers expence.

expence. The Visier before his departure had Visited all the principal places of the Kingdom of Candia, Ordering firong Forts to be built at Chironis and Letrino, and for an additional firength to the Towit of Candia, had caused a line to be drawn from the Fort St Andre towards the Sea fide, with a kind of Fort upon it, whereon are placed Cannons which will not only fecure the Port on that fide, but will render the Fort St Andre much fironger then before.

He has by a fevere Proclamation, Commanded that no Chriftian shall be fuffred to lodge at night in Cinea, permitting them only Trade by day. He has Ordered all the Houfes in Candia, to be fold at reafonable prizes to the Turks, and caufed all the Churches to be pulled down or turned into Mofques for the exercise of the Turkish Religion, except only two little ones, one of them having been purchased with some few houfes in the Country by a Grecian Bishop, for the sum of 2500 Reals, and the other by some Monks of the Order of Mount Sinai who are also Grecians, for that the Exercise of Christian Religion is every where supressed but only in Retimo, where they are permitted the use of a Church, but the people Ordered to shave and Cloath themselves after the Turkish fashion.

The Visier has taken so great a love to Candia that nothing but the importunity and Sommands of the Sultan could have obliged him to leave it, during his stay he had taken care to adorne the City of Candia, and has during his absence intrusted that carey with his Commissioners, but they every where break down the Statues as not permitted by their Religion.

From Dalmatia they write that the Grand Segnior had fent fome perfons to Conftantinople to caufe his Brother to be put to Death, according to the fevere Policy of that Empire, but the Janifaries had protected him, and killed the Emperors Meffengers, which has fo much incenfed him, that he refolves to march thither with his whole army to take revenge of the front.

The Proveditor General Barbaro is going to Vifit Gattaro, to dispose of 800 Souldiers for the reinforcement of several Garrisons, and to take Order for the furnishing the Lagaretti, for the Reception of Merchants goods coming from the Lewant, towards which work the Senate have sent him the sum of 20 thousand Ducats.

The Senare has refolved upon the Election of a Proveditor for the Government of the Territory of Cliffa and fome other places, which were conquered during the late wars with the Turk, to whom fuch inftructions are to be given as may render those places of advantage to the Publick.

On Sunday night last hapned kere a terrible and Extraor Extraordinaty Thunder, which beat down a corner of St Marks Steeple, another Steeple with feveral houfes, and fome fhips in the Port received much damagesfrom it.
