

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday, July 25. to Thursday July 28. 1670.

Dublin, July 18.

THe people appointed to pursue the Tories in the North, have lately killed four of the principal of them, viz. Mac Craib, Mac Grovie, Mac Labannah, and Mac Guire, whose heads were struck off and set up as a terror to the rest, and have taken another notorious Tory, called Mac Quade, who is committed to safe custody, and may be suddenly proceeded against according to justice.

To-morrow his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant goes towards the Curragh of Kildare to take a view of the Army.

Madrid, July 9. Monsignor Borromeo the Popes Nuncio is some time since departed hence and ere this well advanced on his return for Rome, to take the possession of his employment as Secretary of State to the present Pope: Monsignor Marescotti, lately Nuncio in Poland is recalled, and may be suddenly expected here to supply the room of Monsignor Borromeo, with the same Character; in the mean time the place is supplied by an Internuncio, Don Antonio Benavides, Commissary General of the Crusada, who has so much gained upon the Queens favour, that she has been pleased as a particular mark of her esteem, to bestow on him a Cross of Diamonds to the value of Nine thousand Crowns.

The Count de Miranda lately Ambassador in this Court from the Prince of Portugal, being returned home to Lisbonne, and having left the affairs of that Crown to the management of Don Gio. de Roxas, Secretary to the Embassy; their Catholick Majesties have thought fit also to recall their Ambassador the Baron de Batteville, who is suddenly expected home, and have made choice of Don Louis de Villareal to be sent thither with the Character only as Resident.

Don Fran of Austria has not thought fit to accept of the Government of the Neatherlands, unless he might be furnisht with full power to place and displace at his pleasure, and to dispose of all charges and places both in the Civil and Military Government at his pleasure.

Don Fernand Baldez Collonel of the Regiment of Lombardi is lately made Great Master of the Artillery in the Government of Millan, and Messire Charles Antoine de Calonne for his many services both here and in the Neatherlands; is lately declared Count de Colonne and Governour of Cartagenaz, and tis believed that the Charge of President of the Council of Flaunders and Burgundy, will be conferred on the Marquis de Castel Rodrigo.

Monsieur de Gourville Envoy from the Prince of Conde continues still in this Court, soliciting for the payment of a considerable sum of moneys, which he pretends to be due to the said Prince his Master from this Crown, and hopes to have a good Issue of his Negotiation, and to procure assignments upon the moneys which have been brought into the Exchequer, upon the late return of the Gallions.

Vienna, July 13. The Jews have offered great sums of Money to the Emperor, to dispence with his Order for their banishment, or at least to give leave that a considerable number of them may be permitted to continue here, but have effected nothing, and are consequently preparing to be gone within the time prescribed, having already taken care to remove their Synagogue.

The Imperial Army has passed the River Tibisca, whereupon the Turkish Bassas seem to concern themselves, ordering the reinforcement of their Garrisons, and putting themselves into a posture to make opposition if any attempts should be made upon their Quarters, pretending that this over-neer approach of the Emperors Army is inconsistent with the Treaty of peace which was last made between the two Emperors, for which tis supposed, the pressing necessity by reason of these late unexpected disturbances will be a sufficient Apology.

The Letters which the Duke Abaffs, Prince of Transylvania sent lately by a Courier to his Imperial Majesty, are filled principally with Compliments assuring the Emperor of his Fidelity and Inclinations to do him service, but conclude with his desires, that he would please to give his general pardon not only to such persons as are retired into the Fort of Gizer, but to all the rest of the people of Hungary who have been drawn into this late rebellion; with which his desire the Emperor has readily complied, and has dispatcht a Courier into Hungary with a general Amnesty and Act of Oblivion, which tis hoped will have the wished effect, in reducing them all to obedience.

In the mean time they write from Upper Hungary, that the Prince of Holstein, and General Spankau, drawing up close to the said Fort of Gizer, wherein were above an hundred Gentlemen and about 1200 soldiers, the Garrison gave them a warm entertainment with their Canon, killing many of their men, and dismounted the two before-named Officers, but afterwards making a signal for a Treaty the said Generals sent in their Commissioners, with whom an agreement was presently made for the surrender of that place to the Emperors forces, as soon as they could be satisfy'd of the Princess Ragotskys pleasure; farther capitulating, that no hostilities might pass in the mean while from either part.

They farther tell us, that the Regiment of Hofse under the Command of Colonel Dixxwald, was sent away from the Army to Convey the Provisions and Ammunition designed to them, and to secure their passage against the Hungarian Robbers, who (it seems) are very numerous. It has been thought fit to divide the Army and to send one part thereof to Quarter upon the frontiers of Poland. The Regiment of Foot under the Command of Count Parria, is ordered to march out of Styria, to muster at Edemberg, and to be sent thence to Trenschin.

Here is lately arrived the Bishop of Strigonium, who is by the Emperors Order to assist in the Council for the better settlement of the affairs of Hungary.

From Constantinople we are advised, that the troubles of that place being not yet composed, the Grand Scgnior considering the interest of the Sultanes,