Lisbon, January 30. N. S. We have no fresh Advices from the Coast of Brazil, but what comes by Letters from Boston in New-England, and Philadelphia in Pensilvania, which tell us, a Sloop was arriv'd at New-York from Antegoa, with News that two or three Ships of the Squadron Commanded by Monsieur du Guey Trouin, were put into Martineco in a bad Condition, and very much shatter'd, from Rio de Janeiro in Brazil, where the French had Landed, but were beaten off with the Loss of Three thousand Men, by the Portuguese Governor of St. Sebastian, who had been reinforced by a Body of Eight thousand Men from the Mines; and the French Squadron being forced in their Retreat to receive the Fire of the Forts which they had pass'd before by the favour of a Fog, sustain'd the Loss of twelve or thirteen of their Vessels. Upon the News from Rio de Janeiro, the Nobility, Clergy, and even the common People of this Place, according to their Power, have made a free Gift of Plate and Sums of Money to his Portuguese Majesty, to enable him to Recruit his Army and re-establish their Commerce. About two Days ago the Dursley Gally from Barcelona brought Advice hither, that the Confederate Army had broke thro' the Enemies Quarters, and put a Reinforcement into Cardona, upon which they rais'd the Siege, left their Sick and Wounded behind them; and that all their Cannon, Ammunition and Baggage were taken; that General Count Staremberg had made publick Rejoicings for this Victory, and that General Nebot was pursuing them in their Retreat. This News has been receiv'd there with great Satisfaction, and we daily expect the Particulars.

There are Six Mails due from Holland.
