entiting. His Majeity having a full purpole and refolution to keep to that time, and being defirous for weighty confiderations, to have then a full Affembly of the Members of Parliament, Hath thought fit, by the Advice of Li- Privy-Councill to declare and publifh his fand Kefolution, and by his faid Proclamation doth require all and every the Peers of this Realm, and all and every the Knights, Citizens and Burgefles of the Houfe of Commons, to give their attendance at Wefiminfler on the faid Four and twentyeth day of Odober next precifely; wherein His Majeity doth expect a full Obedience to that His Royal Will and Pleafure.

Rome, August 2. Monsegnior Borromeo arrived on Munday in the Evening at Civita Vecchia, from his employment as Nuncio in Spain, from whence he made his Voyage in 26.dayes; the next day he arrived here in the Duke de Bracciano's Coach which was ordered to attend him, and was the fame day introduced by the Cardinal Patron to kiss the Popes Foot, who received him with Extraordinary kindness, rising from his Chayre to embrace him, and after fome discourse dismit him, desiring him to repose himself for some days, and to keep within to avoyd the inconveniences of the Air, which is usually dangerous to perfons who arrive at this seafon of the year.

fon of the year. The Caudinal Patron, and Monfegnior Marefcotti defigned his Succeflor to the Court of Spayne, have had frequent Conferences with him in order to the affairs of that Crown, of which the latter efpecially defires a full information, being fuddenly to be imployed thither with the fame Character of Nuncio.

Since the Return of Borromeo, tis confidently believed that the Marquis d'Aftorgas is the perfon defigned by the Court of Spain for the Vice-Royalty of the Kingdom of Naples.

On Munday in the afternoon the Pope held a Private Confiftory, in which he difpoled of feveral vacant Archbishopricks and Bishopricks, according to the proposals of the several Cardinal Proteftors.

Some difputes about Precedency having happened between the Respigliost and the Constable Co-Ionna, the Cardinal de Medicis, and the Venetian Ambastador interposed as Mediators, and have at the last ended the dispute, but so as the Constable shall for the first time give the hand, as has been usually done in respect to such as have been acknowledged Nephews to the Pope.

Chevalier Borri has been delivered into the hands of the Inquifitor General at Rimini, who is bringing him to this place with a great Train, confifting of three Coaches filled with the Fathers of the Order of St Dominick, an hundred Officers belonging to the Inquisition, with their Trumpets and 30. Serjeants.

30. Serjeans. From Naples they tell us, that the Popes Gal leys pafied lately by Nifita on their way for Sicily, and that fix of the Maltha Galleys which were employed against the Pyrates, were by foul weather forced upon the Coafts of Calabria, where they unexpectedly fell upon two Caravels of Argiers, with whom they immediately ingaged, and after fome difpute funk one of them, and took the other, aboard which they found 300. Turkifh flaves, and delivered about 200. Chriftians, which thofe Corfairs had taken upon their neighbouring Coafts: the Caravel with the Slaves they fent away with one of their Galleys to Maltha, the reft having received fome fmal danimage in the incounter are refiting, and will be fuddenly out again at Sea.upon the fame imployment.

The Viceroy having had feveral Complaints of the numeroulnels and infolency of the Banditi, fent four hundred Spanish foot into Abruzzoto disperse them, who being informed of their approach retired to their Mountains and fastnetles, whole avenues are not cafily to be palled.

Madrid, August 6. On the 30th past the King was again divertifed with the Ball sports, in which he is much delighted ; whilft preparation was ma-king in the Place Royal for this Diversion , the Count de Melgar passing by with his Coach, a fouldi-er beat one of his Lacqueys , who drawing his fword to defend himfelf, many other Souldiers fell upon him, thereupon the Count with Don Miguel Noronna came out of the Coach, and with their fwords in their hands Commanded the Souldiers to let go his Servant, but they grown infolent, with much rudenefs began to push them, which obliged the Marquis de Gueuara with feveral other persons of quality, to leave the Belconies where they were feated, to go to the affistance of the Count, where the Marquis received a cut on the head with an Halbard, of which he lyes dangeroufly ill. The Offi-cers having appealed this Tumult, and the Sports ending, fome of the young Lords diffatisfyed with the Souldiers, taking with them fome reformed Officers, came into the Place Royal, and feighned a quarrel, with intention to have drawn in the Souldiers, upon whom they had defigned a revenge, but the Marquis de Caftel Rodrigo having defired the Lieutenant of the Guards, to confine the Souldiers to their Posts, went down with the Queens Major Domo, and with fome difficulty perfwaded the young Lords to return home. Their Majeflies then returned to the Pallace, and gave Order that the Souldiers of the Guards should immediately retire to their-Quarters, and confined the Count de Melgar to Bourgas, and Don Miguel de Norronna to Tolede.

The next day hapned a greater tumult, begun by fome Souldiers who would have refcued a woman out of the hands of the Serjeants, in which difpute an Alguafil hapned to kill an Officer, who interpofed himfelf in the quarrel; the Souldiers meditating revenge; came the next day to the place where the Alguafils ufually meet, where they fought fome time, killing one or two of them, and woun-
