Conservation Areas—Particulars of the effect of Designation

Attention is drawn to the provisions of the Town and Country Amenities Act 1974 and, in particular, to the extended powers of local authorities in dealing with conservation areas; the preservation of historic buildings; and the strengthening of the provisions for the protection of trees.

Please note that it is necessary to obtain the consent of the appropriate local planning authority to demolish any building, or a part of a building, with certain exceptions, which is situated in a designated conservation area. Persons intending to demolish a building in such areas are strongly advised to consult the Salisbury District Council to ascertain whether or not their proposals are affected by the provisions of the Town and Country Amenities Act 1974.

It is an offence to demolish a building or a part of a building, within a designated conservation area, without the necessary consent having first been obtained from the appropriate local planning authority.

It should be further noted that any person having it in mind to cut down, top, lop, uproot, wilfully damage or wilfully destroy any tree in a designated conservation area, must give the Salisbury District Council 6 weeks' notice of his intention to do so. The Salisbury District Council is required to keep a register of such notices and the register is open to public inspection. If the work specified in any notice given is not completed within two years a further notice will be needed. If the work is begun without due notice (or without the District Council's specific consent within the 6 weeks' period) the person concerned will become liable to the penalties applicable to similar contraventions of a tree preservation Order and the owner becomes similarly liable to replant.

Amending Regulations in relation to tree preservation Orders have been made by the Secretary of State for the Environment, which also include the exempted cases in which the protection for trees in conservation areas is not to apply.

Persons intending to do any work to a tree or trees in a designated conservation area are strongly advised to consult the Salisbury District Council to ascertain the requirements of the Town and Country Amenities Act 1974 in relation to the protection of trees in designated conservation areas.

Belle Vue Road, Salisbury.
