

This Day the following Address from the City of Chester, was presented to Her Majesty by Peter Shakerly, Esq; one of the Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by his Grace the Duke of Shrewsbury, Lord Chamberlain of Her Majesty's Household.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Sheriffs and Common Council of the City of Chester, in Common Council Assembled.

WE Your Majesty's most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, with all humble Gratitude, acknowledge Your Majesty's great Condescension and Goodness, in communicating to the Representatives of Your People in Parliament, the Terms upon which a General Peace may be made.

Your Majesty (whose undoubted Prerogative it is to make Peace and War) hath filled the Hearts of Your good Subjects with unspeakable Joy, upon the most agreeable Prospect of an approaching Peace, and that upon such Terms as will make them ample Amends for the Burthen which they have undergone, during the whole Course of the War.

We beseech Almighty God to assist Your Majesty in carrying on this great and good Work to a happy Conclusion; and that Your Majesty's Reign may be as Glorious and Remarkable for the Fruits of Peace, as it hath been for those of War; and that after a long and happy Reign over an obedient and faithful People, You may at last exchange Your Temporal for an Eternal Crown of Glory.

The following Address from the Corporation of Stamford in Lincolnshire, was presented to Her Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Guilford, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Dartmouth, One of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Deputy-Recorder, Aldermen, Town Clerk, Capital Burgeses, Clergy, Gentlemen and Inhabitants, of Your Majesty's Ancient and truly Loyal Corporation of Stamford in Lincolnshire.

Dread Sovereign!

WE humbly beg leave to approach Your Majesty, with Hearts possessed of all the Duty and Gratitude which the repeated Instances of Your Goodness to Your People do inspire.

The considering the Difficulties of a long and expensive War; the being willing to take off the Burthen upon safe and honourable Terms, by a steady and firm pursuit of the Interest of Your own Kingdoms; the recompensing our Zeal for Your Service; the security, improvement, and enlarging our Trade by extending it to Coasts it never yet had reached, are the great Things we come to pray our full and hearty Thanks for.

The Advancement of the Credit of Publick Faith by insisting upon just and reasonable Satisfaction for Your High Allies; the setting the Liberties of Europe safe from any exorbitant Power and Ambition; the rendering our Religion and Laws, our Church and State fix'd and unmovable, by assuring the Protestant Succession is by Law Established in the House of Hanover, shall, besides our Thanks, receive the Blessings of late Prosperity.

May Your Majesty's Wisdom, wherewith this Christian Work has been so far, and so well advanced, be able to defat the interested Purposes of the Enemies to it, and compleat so great and so good a Work.

May the God of Peace grant, that in a long and quiet Reign, glorious to Your Self, happy to us, Your Majesty may enjoy the Fruits of a glorious Peace, after a Successful War.

The following humble Address from the Town of Aldeburgh in Suffolk, was presented to Her Majesty by Sir Henry Johnson and William Johnson, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Dartmouth, One of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Bayliffs, Recorder, Capital Burgeses, Freemen and Town-Clerk, of the Borough of Aldeburgh, in the County of Suffolk.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

THE most Royal Goodness, and the Greatest Condescension hath been expressed by Your Majesty, in communicating to Your Parliament the Terms on which Peace may be made; and Your firm Zeal for the Interest of Your own Kingdoms, to preserve the Protestant Succession in the most illustrious House of Hanover; the Liberties, Properties, and flourishing Trade of all Your People, and endeavouring the Satisfaction of Your Allies, must strike Confusion in the Minds of all Your Enemies, at Home and Abroad; and the deepest Impressions of Gratitude and most sincere Obedience, in the Hearts of all Your Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, as it doth particularly in ours, who are so much concerned in having a freedom of Navigation, and a Prospect of enlarging it, and our Commerce, by Your choice of a Ministry so Zealous to promote the Publick Good; and Your Majesty's admirable Prudence and Wisdom, in which we entirely Confide, for perfecting of so Glorious a Work.

That Your Majesty may long live to see the Blessed Fruits and Effects of a good and lasting Peace, are the most ardent Desires and fervent Prayers of us, Your Majesty's most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects.

AN which Addresses Her Majesty received very graciously.

Dresden, June 24. N. S. Prince Menzikoff, during his Stay here, had several Conferences in private with King Augustus, at which no Person assisted but the Baron de Lowendal: Before his departure for Berlin, his Polish Majesty made him a Present of a Sword very richly set with Diamonds. We hear from Poland, that the Staroste Grudzinsky, a Partisan of the Palatine of Kiovia, had penetrated with between Three and four thousand Men into the Palatinate of Posnania: And that some other of the Palatine of Kiovia's Troops were advanced as far as Lissa, which Place had been abandoned by the Muscovites. Great quantities of Ammunition are sent hither from Leiplich, and are disposed of in this City, and the Garrisons on the Frontiers of the Electorate. A Detachment of the Militia is upon their March, in order to be posted in the Lines of the Lower Lusatia, where it is to be Reinforced by six Regiments of Muscovites. It is said here, that the King will go this Week for Posnania, to give the necessary Orders in Poland. In the mean time the Count de Czembek, Great Chancellor of the Crown, who is now at this Place, continues to have frequent Conferences with the Ministers of State, concerning the present posture of Affairs.

Hamburg, June 24. N. S. All the Letters from Poland, Dresden and Vienna agree in the Confirmation of the departure of the King of Sweden from Bender; but are not particular as to the way by which his Majesty is to return to his own Territories. But, according to the common Opinion, it will be through Hungary, because the Emperor has given Orders to all the Governors of the Places there, to make a fitting Reception for him according to his Rank, and to defray his Charges throughout the whole Kingdom. They likewise add, that Count Wratislaw was named as the Person who was to Compliment his Majesty upon his arrival there: The Letters from Breslaw of the 18th advise, that the King of Sweden will pass through Hungary with Three thousand Men; and that the Palatin
