

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday, September 12. to Thursday September 15. 1670.

Yarmouth, Sept. 12.

THis morning a Fishing ship from Greenland, came into this road, and about noon set sail again for London, the rest of the ships of that company are returning home, but neither they nor the Dutch, or Hamburgers have had that success in their fishing which they expected. We are now sitting up with all diligence for our Herring fishing, upon which account here are arrived about 100 vessels from the West, and about 60 from the Northern parts.

Warsaw, Aug. 30. The time for the general Diet approaching; the Nobil ty and Gentry begin to repair to this City. The Arch-bishop of Cnesne is expected, with the Grand Marshal and Treasurer of the kingdom, and the Marshal of Lithuania from the Baths of Carestat in Bohemia. Major-General Bokumbs, a Substitute to the under-Grand-Veneur has been lately killed by a Peasant, who was hired to commit the murder by a Staroste; the assassin is since apprehended and committed prisoner in this City in order to his tryal.

The Crowns Army is posted about Trembocola having an Eye upon every motion of the Tartars, who tis feared may shortly give them an employment by an incursion, which we the rather apprehend since our Letters from those parts assure us, that the Grand S. gnior has lately sent a rich present to the Cham of Tartary, and another to the Bassa of Bia-Jahod, from whose conjunction we cannot but expect the usual ill effects.

The Uayuode Wolgisky is lately arrived at the Army, whose principal business it is to perfect the good work that is already well advanced for the reconciliation of the Grand Marshal Sobiesky, with the Vice Marshal Wisnomisky.

The Envoyes from his Electoral Highness of Bran-denbourg are gone home little satisfy'd, having not been able to obtain the confirmation of the Treaty made at Bromberg between King Casimir and the Elector their Master.

Several defamatory libels have been lately spread up and down the City, against the Chancellor and under Chancellor of the Crown, some of which tis believed may have dropt from the Cabinet of Marshal Sobiesky.

From Muscovy we are told, that the Rebels have (as it was feared) Lised on the Great City of Astracan, whose Garrison had before ill Principles infused into them, and were ready to favor their designs. Their numbers are much increased, by some success they have had in defeating a body of Sixteen thousand men, which were by the Great Dukes Command sent against them; insomuch as the Rebellion is grown very formidable, their Army said to be near an hundred thousand persons; they found Armes in the City of Astracan for 50000. men, and they are now marching thence with much Confidence towards Moscow.

Vienna, Sept. 4. On Monday last arrived here the Prince of Lorrain from the Army in Hungary; the Emperor intends to recal his Army from that Kingdom to avoid the jealousies of the Grand Segniors and the Bassa's of the frontier Countreys, who have made frequent complaints against the neighborhood of so great an Army, which notwithstanding was but necessary for the reducing of those Rebels, and the manning of the several Garisons which the Emperor is forced to keep for the preservation of the peace. The Turkish Bassas have had several Orders and Commands from the Grand Segnior, to take care that upon no pretence they should interest themselves or keep any correspondency with the Rebels of Hungary, and that upon pain of being discharged from their employments.

Several of his Imperial Majesties Ministers of State have represented the conveniency of keeping the Army in Hungary, till the end of the Assembly designed to be held at Cassovia, where the Emperors Commissioner and Plenipotentiary the Count Rothal is already arrived; and we are informed that the Army is to make some stop near Trenschin, where it is to continue till farther order.

This day the Count Nadasti was brought in prisoner to this City.

A Courier dispatch hither from the Emperors Resident in Adrianople informs us, that the Grand Visier finding the increase of the troubles in the Ottoman Family, and the many practices and contrivances of the Sultanes, which tend to the deposing of the present Emperor, and placing his younger brother in his room, has entertain'd thoughts of quitting his charge, which nothing has dissuaded him from, but the great importunity of the Emperor his Master, who being with much reason grown dissident of his Janisaries, has put off all thoughts of going to Constantinople, and resolves to pass the winter in Adrianople.

The Visier has delivered to the Resident all the Original Letters, which the Count Nadasti, and other Officers amongst the Rebels in Hungary, writ to him to persuade him to a Conjunction of their forces against the Emperor, and to offer him an annual Tribute upon the account of his assistance.

Count Paul Esterhazy is fled with his whole Family to a Castle called Forderstein, where he hopes for some time to secure himself;

Yesterday the Count Serini was sent away with a Guard of an hundred horse and as many foot to Nieuskade, where he is to be committed to prison for his life; the Emperor having assigned him 600 Rixdollers per annum for his maintainance, but his Lady and Son are to continue here till the Emperors pleasure be farther known. The Count Franchipani is to be sent to Schorweim.

By later letters from Hungary we are told, that the Emperors Army is divided into two parts, whereof one is to march into Silesia, and the other, towards the Wagh to quarter near Trenschin.

Bilboa, Sept. 5. Yesterday arrived here a Portuguese Carrivel from Lisbonne, and brings news that two English Fregats have lately taken an Argier man of War of 40. Guns, and 400. Mbores, and two Sally men of War, and brought them into Lisbonne.