

the Regulating of matters between England and Spain in America.

The Wednesday following Monseignor Marescotti the Popes Nuncio, had his first Audience from their Majesties with less pomp and splendor then was expected, he being not pleased to spend over much time in preparation for that solemnity, which would have kept him longer then he desired from entering into the possession of the Court, which was till his Audience enjoyed by the former Nuncio.

Tuesday the 4th instant, being the Festival of St Charles, the Kings Patron, was observed at the Court with much solemnity, where their Majesties and the principal Nobility, were diverted with the Bull sports, which began at three in the afternoon, and continued three hours, and was managed by three Gentlemen on horseback, whereof one was in the first encounter dismounted, and obliged according to the rules of that sport, to set upon the Bull on foot with his sword, which he did with more courage then fortune, he being tost by the Bull, and forced to leave the place, much bruised, and in some danger. A 2d was likewise unhorsed, but quitted himself with more success, and came off without hurt. But the 3d received a slight hurt in his hand; the sport concluded with the death of Nine Bulls, and the general applause of the valor and dexterity of the Three Gentlemen.

On Thursday the 6th instant, being the Kings birthday, his Majesty was complimented by all the great persons of the Court, and by the Ambassadors and other publick Ministers: in the afternoon the new raised Regiment was drawn up and mustered before the Palace, where Don Luis Enriquez, second-son to the Admiral of Castille, took possession of a Company resigned to him by his Brother the Conde de Melgar, who is preferred to the Command of a Spanish Tertia in Milan.

The 7th instant in the evening, arrived here Segnior Carlo Contarini, Ambassador from the Republick of Venice, and on Sunday the 9th, the Marquis de Gouea, Ambassador from the Prince of Portugal came to a house provided for him near Cayamanchel, about a League distant from this place, where he intends to continue till the house which he hath taken in this City can be furnished and made fit for his reception.

Rarisbonne, Nov. 13. The Count de Windisgratz who is to be sent Ambassador from his Imperial Majesty to the French Court, is daily expected here on his way, to receive such farther instructions as the States of the Empire shall think fit to give him upon the account of the affairs of Lorraine.

The Counts of Nassau Sarbruck have lately written a Letter of thanks to the States of the Empire, for the pains they were pleased to take in giving them the possession of the County of Saerwerden, and the Castle of Hombourg, desiring they would be farther pleased to give order for the payment of the moneys to the Duke of Lorraine, which were due to him upon his surrender of Hombourg, which was formerly mortgaged to him.

Hambourg, Nov. 17. From Stockholm we are informed, That the Baron de Basserode, the Emperors Resident in that Court, died there the 29 past; and that his body would be in few days embalmed and sent from thence to Amsterdam, and from thence to be conveyed to the place designed for its Interment.

Their Majesties returned from the Countrey to Stockholm the twentieth past, and on the twenty seven gave audience to Monsieur Werden, Envoye Extraordinary from His Majesty of Great Britain.

A warm report having been spread about, of some unusual effects of Witchcraft in the Province of Dallicarty, near the best Copper Mines in Sweden; it is said, several persons are sent to make an inquiry into the matter of fact; with power to proceed to the punishment of such persons as shall be found guilty.

From Copenhagen they write, that the Resident from the States General of the United Provinces hath had his audience from His Majesty of Danemark; in which, amongst other things, he hath desired in the name of the States his Masters, That the difference between His said Majesty, and the States General, may be amicably composed amongst themselves, without any appeal to the Decision of France, notwithstanding their former agreement of submitting them to the Arbitration of the Most Christian King. It is believed His Majesty will signify His Resolution in this point, by His new Resident, the Heer Justinus Hench, whom he is sending to the States in the room of the Heer Gioc, who was designed to pass from Holland into England with the same Character.

Monsieur de Tresson, the French Ambassador in that Court, hath made a present from the King His Master, to Prince George, of a rich Sword, set with Precious Stones, to the value (as is supposed) of 16000 Crownes. He hath lately forborn to make too frequent visits to the Court, as formerly, upon some dissatisfaction, that he was refused admittance into the Kings Cabinet, where he was entering, without first demanding audience.

Paris, Nov. 26. On Saturday next the King is expected here, and on the Monday following, his Excellency the Heer de Groot, Ambassador Extraordinary from the States General of the United Provinces, may have his second Audience, and his most Christian Majesties answer to the many complaints he has made of the great impositions upon the Merchandises and Manufactures of Holland.

Yesterday the Duke de Montauzier conducted the Dauphin to the Old Louvre, from whence he is this day to be removed by Madam la Mareschalle de la Motte, to an apartment prepared for him in the Thulleries,

The Ceremony of the Benediction of the Abbess of Fontereau is by his Majesties order to be performed in this City, but tis not yet known whether his said Majesty will nominate the Archbishop of Paris, or the Cardinal de Bouillon to do that Office, for which both of them are ambitious; in the mean time the Abbess has been received and complimented with an Ovation at the Nunnery of the Filles de Dieu, where she intends to continue till Easter, about which time she expects the Popes Bulls in order to her installment in the said Abby.

The Duke of Lorraine is said to have raised a Regiment of 600 Horse at Triers and Frankfort, and may expect the like number from Mentz. The Lorrainers complain of their sufferings by the numbers of soldiers that are Quartered upon them, they being obliged to contribute to the maintenance of 22000 men.

Rye, Novemb. 19. This morning a Light Vessel belonging to London, one Browne Master, coming from Rouen, and bound for Bourdeaux, was by stress of weather driven back from her intended Voyage, and forced on ground near this Harbor, where she was broken in pieces, but the men were all saved, and some part of her rigging.

Deal, Novemb. 21. This day the weather proving fair, about Forty Boats went hence to the Goodwins to take an account of the late wreck of the Dutch East India Ship; but found little remaining, the Ship with her Cargo being supposed to be swallowed up in the Sands.

London, Novemb. 23. This day His Highness the Prince of Orange went hence to Newmarket, intending also to take a view of the University of Cambridge, and to return hither on Saturday next.
