My Lords understand that the Public Works Loan Commissioners will be operating arrangements under which local authorities are permitted to borrow from the Commissioners up to a specified quota at a certain fixed rate of interest and in excess of such quota at one of two higher fixed rates.

In accordance therewith the Chancellor of the Exchequer now recommends that with effect from 17th July 1991 and until the coming into operation of a further determination:

- (ii) Different rates of interest shall be charged on such fixed rate loans according to whether the principal of a loan is repaid by instalments or at maturity and, if repaid by instalments, whether by equal instalments of the principal with interest paid on the decreasing balance of the principal (E.I.P.), or by instalments of equal repayments of the principal and interest paid thereon (E.R.);

OXFORD CITY COUNCIL

Gloucester Street—Experimental Traffic Regulation

Notice is hereby given that the Oxford City Council, as agent for the Oxfordshire County Council, on 18th July 1991, made an experimental traffic regulation Order to come into operation on 28th July 1991, to prohibit all motor vehicles from a central section of Gloucester Street.

The Order is entitled "The City of Oxford (Gloucester Street) (Experimental Traffic Regulation) Order 1991". It will prohibit all motor vehicles from Gloucester Street, between the Market Square access road and the access road to the underground car park. Access to the underground car park will continue to be permitted from the north end of Gloucester Street. Access for loading and unloading to premises at the north end of the street by vehicles up to a maximum of 7.5 tonnes will be permitted via Beaumont Street. Vehicles will be required to leave that end of the street in a northwards direction. Access for loading and unloading to premises at the south end of Gloucester Street, to Red Lion Square, to the Market Square access road and to St. George's Place, by vehicles up to a maximum of 17 tonnes will continue to be permitted via George Street. Vehicles will be required to leave Red Lion Square, and the south end of Gloucester Street, in a southwards direction.

The purpose of proceeding by way of experiment is, among other things, to monitor the effects of the prohibition on traffic movements in surrounding streets, and the environmental benefits which it is expected will derive. The Council will be considering, after a period of six months of the coming into force of the experimental Order whether the provisions of the Order should be continued in force indefinitely. Within that period any person may object to the making of an Order for the purposes of the continuation of the provisions of this experimental Order. Any person wishing to object must state the grounds for such objection in writing to me at St. Aldate's Chambers, St. Aldate's Oxford OX1 1DS.

Full details of the experimental Order may be inspected at my office at the address given below between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday to Friday inclusive.
