Plymouth, Fandary 1.

Efterday came into this Port His Majefties Fregats the Princess and Faulcon, Sir William Jennins and Captain Worden Commanders, with a Fleet of Mer-chant men under their Convoy, bound to the Southward, and intend to fail henre again with the first fair wind.

Lisbonne, Decemb. 8. S. N. It is confidently reported that the Queen is with childe ; the is gone to Salvaterra to meet the Prince, who is very thortly expected here again. The Duke of Cadaval hath, after great follicitation, at last obtained the Pre-fidentifip of the Pallace; the Conde de Miranda is to have the Government of O Porto for the e y ars, and the Conde de Villaflor the present Governor, is to be Pielident of the Chamber of Lisbonne, and the Marquels de Marialva to be continued for three years more Overleer of the Treasury. This day the Dutch Vice-Admiral with two Men of War, and fome Merchant-men under his Convoy, fet fail from hence.

Rome, Dec. 9. Some différences have arisen here about the reception of Don Pedro d' Arragon, Vice-Roy of Naples, defigned hither Ambaliador of Obediencefrom the Crown of Spain; the faid Ambassador pretending he ought to be defrayed at the Popes expence so son as he enters into his dominions, a thing that hath been always practifed to-wards the Vice-Roys of Naples, which they here very much oppose, alledging that he comes not at present in Quality of Vice-Roy, but in that of Ambaflador; however for the composing of this dispute, and to give the Ambassador all the satisfaction they may, they have agreed, that coming, he shall be Treated as Ambassador, but in his return when he hath performed his Embasiv, he shall be entertained as Vice-Roy of Naples, and be defrayed by the Pope through all the Ecclefiastical Dominions. The 11th inftant was bapized the Son and Heir of the Duke of Zagarola, which was fo-lemnized with great joy by the Family of the Rofpigliofi, the Cardinal of that name performing the Function.

Rome, Dec. 20. The Savoye Ambassador having at haft, in pursuance of the Orders he had from the Duke his Master, received the Brief of Absolution heretofore mentioned, from the Pope, was on Tuefday laft to render the Pope his thanks, as likewife to the Cardinal Altieri, and at the same time took leave of his Holinefs in order to his departure hence, which may be in a day or two. The Cardinal Ginetti is fallen ill, which, as is thought, is chiefly occasioned through his great age, fo that the Phyfitians are unwilling to try any further experiments upon him. The Conftable Colonna is making very rich Li-veries, and preparing a great Train to goe and re-teive the Vice-Roy of Naples at his entry on his Lands, intending thence to accompany him part of his way hither.

Danzerick, Decemb. 13. Here hath been a ftrong report, That the Army was entred into a new confederation, refufing to fubmit unto the Parliaments determination, that hence-forward there should be no impolition upon the Kings and Church Lands, for Winter Provision, as they call it; which for several years past hath been exacted by them, to the great oppression, and almost total ruine of the Inhabitants; and upon this occasion, fome have practifed new disturbances among them, but hitherto withoutany effect; and it is hoped, they will not be feduced to act any thing against the King and Government, though it is certain some of the chiefest have not been wanting to contribute their endeavors, together with large fums of Money thereunto. The Queen of Poland hath been lately delivered of a dead fon, to the great forrow and affliction of His Majefty, and the whole Court, which is imputed to a fall the had by a flip as the flepped out of her Coach.

Monsteur de Witt Ambassador Extraordinary from the States General of the United Provinces, is upon his departure from Warfam, not having effected any thing in his Negotiation there; part of which hath very much offend d 'his Town, h having, it feems, projounded for things to the prejudice of their Priv.ledges and Comm rce.

Milan, D:c. 14 About Eight days agoe returned hi-ther the Deke d' Offuna from visiting the fortifications of Cremony and Mortara, where he left all ne-ceffary Orders for the focuring and fortifying those paslages. The Treaty of Marriage between the Duke of Mantoua and the Princels of Guaftala hath lately been renewed with great appearance of bringing it in a fhort time to effect, though there want not endea-vors from other hands to hinder the match. From Spain they write that the Levics they were there making for the recruiting the Spanish Companies here, were compleated, and were ready to begin their march for Barcellona, being ordered to pals from thence by fea to Final.

Legorn, Dec. 15. Two days agoe arrived here Sir John Harman in Eight days from Messina, and intends in Seven or Eight days to go hence again with the Fleet of Merchant men towards England. A Barque coming hither in Fifteen days from Ar-giers, the Master reports that those Corfairs had Ten men of war out, Five to the Westward, and the other Five to the Eastward.

Stockholm, Decemb. 17. They talk here of fending more forces into Liefland, for, notwithftanding the great troubles in Moscovy, they do not seem at all inclineable to compose differences with this Crown. The last Letters from thence fay, That the Rebels grow daily kronger, and that they approach to the capital City of Moskow, where the people feem much disheartned, through the continual alarms they receive from all hands; and to increase their troubles, leveral fires have lately hapned in that City which have done confiderable damage.

Genont, Dec. 24. A Zealand man of war arrie ving before this Port from Spain fome days agoe; this Government immediately fent out a Boat to lee him know, that unlefs he would falute the Caftle at his coming in, he would do well to ftay without ; to which the Captain made answer, that he had no ordersto the contrary from the States his Mafters, accordingly came into the Port and faluted with Seven Guns, which was answered from one of the Forts with Five.
