From Tuesday February 7. to Saturday February 11. 1716.

St. James's, Feb. 7.

THE following Address was this Day presented to His Majesty by Sir William Gordon, Baronet, Member of Parliament for the County of Sutherland.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The Humble Address of the Noblemen, Deputy-Lieutenants, and other Loyal Gentlemen of the Counties of Murray, Inverness, Nairn, Cromarty, Ross, Sutherland, and Caithness, at Inverness Assembled for His Majesty's Service, the 10th Day of January, 1715-16.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

It is somewhat extraordinary that We, a Handful of your Majesty's most Dutiful and Faithful Subjects, surrounded by Armies of Traitors and Rebels, distant from the auspicious Influence of Your Forces, should think of this Congratulation upon the seasonable Victories that have attended Your Arms: But the same Almighty Providence, which has made itself conspicuous in reducing this Town to Your Obedience the Twelfth, defeating the Multitude of the Rebels the Thirteenth, by the Bravery and Conduct of the Duke of Argyll at Sheriffmure, and committing to Goals a Number of abandon'd Traitors at Preston on the Fourteenth of the same Month, induce us to render humble Thanks to God, and to acknowledge at the same time the consummate Wisdom of Your Majesty's Councils.

Had this growing Mischief been crushed in the Bud, the Nation would have been safe, but then Vipers would have been nurs'd in our Bosom, which some Day might possibly have poison'd the whole Constitution; whereas now, tho' we are so unfortunate as to see many Enemies, we know them, and hope that the profound Judgment of our happy King will soon make them no more deeaded.

Suffer us to thank You, Great Sir, for the prudent Choice Your Majesty has made of a Lord-Lieutenant for the Six Northern Shires, in the Person of the Earl of Sutherland; One, in whose Family that Office formerly was, and which his Forwardness at the Revolution for the Protestant Interest, his firm and stedfast Adherence to the Protestant Succession in Your August House, in the worst of Times, do now justly entitle him to; and whose Zeal, Conduct, and Example, have since happily been shewn, in maintaining a Government which is inseparable from our Liberty.

We hope it is not without Reason, that we who have so cheerfully expos'd our selves in Defence of Your Majesty's Government, expect a forcible

(Price Three Half Pence.)

Support; we hourly wait for it, resolute to yield our Breath in Liberty, if we cannot live Subjects to You the best of Kings, for whose Prosperity and lasting Happiness, we send up our Prayers to Almighty God, as we are at present ready to spend the last Drop of our Blood.

Which Address His Majesty was pleas'd to receive very graciously.

St. James's, Feb. 10. The following Associations and Address have been presented to His Majesty.

An Association of the Lieutenant, High Sheriff, Deputy Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen, and others of the County of Pembroke, to the Number of above 2000, was presented to His Majesty by Brigadier Ferrers, Member of Parliament for Pembroke, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Townshend, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

An Association of the Bayliff, Deputy Recorder, Capital and other Burgeses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Bewdley in the County of Worcester and Parts adjacent. Also an humble Address of the Bayliff and Burgeses of the said Borough of Bewdley. Were both presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Herbert of Cherbury.

Which Associations and Address His Majesty was pleas'd to receive very graciously.

Dublin, Jan. 30. On the 28th the Lords Justices went to the House of Peers, and the Commons being sent for thither, their Excellencies gave the Royal Assent to the Bills following.

An Act for granting to His Majesty an Additional Duty on all Wines and Strong-Waters and Spirits perfectly made, and upon all Spirits made and distill'd of Wine: And also a Tax on Salaries, Profits of Employments, Fees and Pensions therein mentioned.

An Act to attaint the Person who during the Life of the late King James took upon him the Stile and Title of Prince of Wales, and since the Decease of the said King James hath assumed the Name and Title of James the Third King of England and Ireland, and James the Eighth King of Scotland, commonly called the Chevalier de St. George, or the Pretender, and all his Adherents; and to give a Reward of 50000l. Sterl. to any Person who shall Seize and Secure the said Pretender, if he Lands or attempts to Land in this Kingdom.

An Act to prevent Mischiefs that may happen by Fire.

An Act to enable Infants who are seized or possessed of Estates in Fee, in Trust, or by way of Mortgage, to make Conveyances of such Estates.

After which their Excellencies made the following Speech to both Houses.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

HAVING received Letters this Morning from England, by Express from One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, advising us, that there is Reason to believe, that this Kingdom will be very suddenly Invaded, we thought it our Duty to Communicate the same to you without Loss of Time, that you may take such Measures thereupon, as may best conduce to the Defence and Security of your Country.

Nor have we any Room to doubt, after the Assurances you have given in your Addresses, and by your voluntary Associations, of your sincere and hearty Affection for His Majesty's Person and Government; but that you will Exert yourselves upon this Occasion, in the most effectual Manner to defeat so Horrid and Treasonable an Attempt.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

It will be particularly incumbent on you to take such Resolutions at this Juncture, as may enable us to do what is further necessary to put the Kingdom in a sufficient Posture of Defence, with the utmost Expedition.

Whatever Expence shall be made at this time, will be so much laid out to preserve the whole; and you may depend upon it, whatever Powers you shall Intrust us with, shall be made use of with the greatest Frugality, and for the purposes only which you design them.

It is with much Satisfaction that we can Acquaint you, that His Majesty, upon our Representation; has been graciously pleas'd out of his tender Concern for this Kingdom, to direct, that the several Regiments taken from this Establishment, shall be paid in Great Britain from the Time of their Arrival there.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

As your Presence will be absolutely necessary in the Country, we must recommend to you all possible dispatch in your Proceedings, that you may have an Opportunity of shewing the same Zeal for His Majesty's Service, and the Preservation of this Kingdom in your respective Stations, as you have done Conjoynly and with great Unanimity in Parliament.

The Commons being returned to their own House, passed the following Resolutions. Resolved, Nemine Contradicente,

That whatever Sum or Sums of Money shall be advanced and paid into the Treasury by any Person or Persons at the Instance of their Excellencies the Lords Justices, or other Chief Governour or Governours of this Kingdom for the Time being, for the Defence of this Kingdom, shall be made good by this House, with legal Interest for the same, out of such Aids as shall be granted to His Majesty the next Session of Parliament. Resolved, Nemine Contradicente, That whatever Sum or Sums shall be paid into the Treasury, pursuant to the foregoing Resolution, shall be repaid without any Fees or Deductions whatsoever. Resolved, Nemine Contradicente, That an humble Address be presented to their Excellencies the Lords Justices, that they will be pleas'd to issue a Proclamation, promising a Reward of Ten Thousand Pound to any Person or Persons, who shall Seize and Secure James Butler, late Duke of Ormond, if he Lands or attempts to Land in this Kingdom. Ordered, That Leave be given to bring in Heads of a Bill to subject the Estates, Real and Personal of the Papists and Non-Jurors in this Kingdom, to make full Satisfaction for all Losses and Damages that Protestants shall suffer in case any Insurrection, Invasion, or Rebellion shall be fomented, carry'd on, or sustain'd by the Papists and Non-Jurors of this Kingdom. On the 29th it was Resolved, Nemine Contradicente, That an humble Address be presented to their Excellencies the Lords Justices, that they will be pleased to issue a Proclamation, promising a Reward to such who shall discover any Person who is enlisted, or shall hereafter enlist in His Majesty's Service, to be a Papist, in order to their being turn'd out, and punish'd with the utmost Severity of the Law.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects the Commons of Ireland in Parliament assembled, beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our sincere Detestation and Abhorrence of the Villainous and Treasonable Practices and Attempts of your Majesty's Enemies both at Home and Abroad, to deprive us of the great Felicity and Security we enjoy in our Civil and Religious Rights under your Majesty's most Excellent Government.

It is with the greatest Satisfaction that we reflect upon the wise Dispositions made by your Majesty at this time of Common Danger; and as the Blessing of God has hitherto crowned your Majesty's Arms with Success, so we doubt not but the same Divine Providence will always have your Royal Person and Family under its more peculiar Protection, and render Vain and of none Effect the faithless wicked and unnatural Designs of all your Majesty's Foreign and Domestick Foes.

Your Majesty's tender Concern for all your Subjects has so manifestly appeared in every Action since your seasonable Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, that all Mankind must be convinced you are truly the Father of your People.

We have in a particular Manner felt the Influence of your Goodness, in the Choice your Majesty has made of those to whom you have entrusted the Government of this Kingdom, by whose prudent Administration we have hitherto been preserved in Tranquility, whilst an unnatural Rebellion has disturbed the Peace of Great Britain.

We thought it our Duty upon the first Advice of an Invasion intended on this Kingdom, without loss of Time, humbly to desire the Lords Justices that they would compleat the Number of Troops upon the present Establishment, and raise as many more as they should judge necessary for the further Security of this your Majesty's Kingdom; and to render this more effectual, have engaged to make good whatever Sums of Money shall be advanced by any Person for that Service.

And as your faithful Commons have laid hold of every Occasion, to shew their unshaken Zeal and Affection for your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, so they are firmly determined always to pursue the same Measures, and use all possible Means to defeat the Designs of a Popish Pretender, and of all his Adherents.

The Answer of the Lords Justices.

WE shall take Care to lay this Loyal Address before His Majesty, wherein his faithful Commons of Ireland have shewn that their Zeal for his Majesty's Service, and the Security of their Country, rises in proportion to the Malice of his Enemies.

To their Excellencies the Lords Justices General and General Governors of Ireland.

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens and Burgesses in Parliament Assembled.

May it please your Excellencies,

WE His Majesty's most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects the Commons of Ireland in Parliament Assembled, beg Leave to attend your Excellencies with our humble Thanks for your Speech from the Throne.

The early Intimations your Excellencies have given us of the Traiterous Designs of His Majesty's Enemies to Invade this Kingdom, the great Care you have already taken for our Security, and the seasonable Orders your Excellencies have been pleased to issue for the apprehending the several suspected Persons now in Custody, require our most grateful Acknowledgements, are a farther Proof of the Wisdom and Vigilance of your Excellencies

Administration, and will, we doubt not, in a great Measure, contribute to the disappointing the Designs of the Pretender and his Adherents.

Nor can we omit this Opportunity of expressing the just Sense we have of your Excellencies Representation to His Majesty, upon which His Majesty has been graciously pleas'd out of His tender Concern for this Kingdom, to direct that the several Regiments taken from this Establishment shall be paid in Great-Britain from the Times of their respective Arrival there, and at the same time to desire your Excellencies will be pleas'd to give immediate Orders for the raising such Troops as will compleat the present Establishment, and as many more as your Excellencies shall from time to time think necessary for the further Security of the Kingdom at this critical Juncture; and we assure your Excellencies that whatever Money shall be expended on this Occasion, shall be made good at our next Meeting in Parliament.

The Answer of the Lords Justices.

Gentlemen,

YOU have express'd so vigorous a Resolution in this Address for the Security of your Country, and so far enabled us to contribute to it by your Vote of Credit, that we hope by the Blessing of God we shall be able to defeat the Designs of the Pretender and all his Adherents against this Kingdom.

As the Powers you have entrusted us with are a Mark of the entire Confidence you place in us, so you may rest assured they shall be made use of in such Manner as may best deserve your Approbation.

Ratisbon, Jan. 27. Letters from Buda of the 18th Instant, say a Party of Croats and Russians had made an inroad into the Turkish Territories, plundered some Villages, killed several of the Inhabitants, and brought away others Prisoners; but on their Return some of them were seiz'd and confin'd by the Emperor's Officers. This is look'd upon by the Turks as an Infraction of the Peace: The Seraskier has given Notice of it to the Port, and sent an Express to the Governour of Peterwaradin, to demand Satisfaction, and the Punishment of the Offenders; and if that is refused, the Turks threaten to make Reprisals.

Ratisbon, Feb. 10. Letters from the Frontiers of Bosnia bring Advice, that a Party of 500 Dalmatians having made an IncurSION towards Liono, were discover'd too soon, and almost all cut off in an Ambush the Turks had laid for them. By Orders from the Port, the Road over the Mountains towards Tiffin, was enlarging and mending, notwithstanding the deep Snows, and Directions were given for repairing the necessary Bridges. From these

Notice is hereby given, by the Order of the Governour of the Company of Mine-Adventurers of England, That a General Court of the said Company is to be held on Tuesday the 21st of this Instant February, at Ten in the Morning at the said Company's House, situate in St. Mildred Bread-Street Church-Yard, in the City of London

All Persons concerned in the Spanish Expedition, are desired to meet at Garraway's Coffee-House, on Thursday the 16th Instant, at Four in the Afternoon, in order to chuse Trustees for the speedy Conclusion of that Affair.
