INTRODUCTION

This scheme is made by British Gas plc in its capacity as the holder of a licence treated as granted under section 7 of the Gas Act 1986 (the 1986 Act), as amended by the Gas Act 1995 (the 1995 Act), (British Gas TransCo) pursuant to the requirements of paragraph 9(3) of Schedule 2B to the 1986 Act and shall be effective on and from the appointed day under section 18(2) of the 1995 Act and shall continue to have effect unless and until revised pursuant to the said paragraph 9(3) of Schedule 2B to the 1986 Act.

2. This scheme shall apply where:

- (a) any person takes a supply of gas which is in the course of being conveyed by British Gas TransCo; or
- (b) both
 - (i) any person at premises which have been reconnected in contravention of paragraph 11(1) of Schedule 2B to the 1986 Act takes a supply of gas which has been conveyed to those premises by British Gas TransCo; and
 - (ii) the supply is taken otherwise than in pursuance of a contract made with a gas supplier, or deemed to have been made with such a supplier by virtue of paragraph 8 of Schedule 2B to the 1986 Act or paragraph 19 of Schedule 5 to the 1995 Act, for the purpose of determining the number of therms or kilowatt hours of gas represented by a supply so taken and the persons by whom such gas is taken.

DETERMINATION OF NUMBER OF THERMS OR KILOWATT HOURS TAKEN

3. Where this scheme applies British Gas TransCo will determine the number of therms or kilowatt hours taken in the circumstances set out in paragraph 2 above in accordance with paragraphs 4 to 7 below.

4. British Gas TransCo will determine the period during which gas was taken in the circumstances set out in paragraph 2 above having regard to such relevant information as is in its possession or as it may readily obtain, including such information as may from time to time be provided by suppliers and shippers, and to all the factors of the case which it considers relevant, including (where appropriate):

- available consumption history;
- the date of removal of any meter where any relevant premises have been disconnected by British Gas TransCo or cut off by a gas supplier;
- the date when additional site-works at any relevant premises were completed if accompanied by no increase in consumption;

any change in occupier or owner of any relevant premises and the date on which that event took place;
 the date after which there was no relevant shipper or gas supplier in relation to any relevant premises;
 information provided by any owner or occupier at any relevant premises;
 the date of the last meter reading;
 the date on which additional gas appliances were installed at any relevant premises if accompanied by no increase in consumption;
 irregularities in the pattern of pre-payments for gas in respect of any relevant premises;
 the date on which it appears to British Gas TransCo that the taking of gas ceased.

5. Where a supply of gas is taken:

- (a) in the circumstances set out in paragraph 2(a) above for consumption at any premises; or
- (b) in the circumstances set out in paragraph 2(b) above at such premises as are there mentioned,

British Gas TransCo will determine the number of therms or kilowatt hours of gas taken over the period determined in accordance with paragraph 4 above having regard to the demand profile of the premises calculated in accordance with paragraph 6 taking account of seasonal and annual adjustments and variations.

6. The demand profile will be calculated as follows:

- (a) where there is readily available to British Gas TransCo relevant previous consumption data in respect of the relevant premises covering a continuous period of not less than 6 months, by estimating the demand profile for the premises on the basis of such data, having regard in particular to any meter readings in respect of the premises and any demand estimation algorithms as set out in British Gas TransCo's Network Code;
- (b) where there is no relevant previous consumption data as defined in paragraph (a) above, by estimating the usage of gas at the relevant premises taking account of:
 - (i) such details as British Gas TransCo has or can readily obtain (whether by visiting the premises or otherwise) of any gas appliances installed at the premises; and
 - (ii) such information as British Gas TransCo considers relevant (if any) contained in the Domestic Appliance Energy Consumption Guide;
- (c) where neither of the above is applicable on such other basis as British Gas TransCo may determine in the circumstances, and in each case, if there is a meter installed at the relevant premises during the whole or any part of the period determined in accordance with paragraph 4, disregarding any gas properly shown as registered on the index of the meter and in respect of which British Gas TransCo has been paid or is satisfied that it will be paid by any relevant shipper in respect of the premises (or any person who is not required to be licensed as a gas shipper in respect of the premises by virtue of an exemption granted under Section 6A of the 1986 Act) charges due in connection with its conveyance to the relevant premises.

7. Where a supply of gas is taken in the circumstances set out in paragraph 2(a) above other than for consumption at any premises, British Gas TransCo will determine the number of therms or kilowatt hours of gas taken over the period determined in accordance with paragraph 4 above having regard to such factors as British Gas TransCo considers relevant in the circumstances.

DETERMINATION OF IDENTITY OF PERSON TAKING GAS

8. British Gas TransCo will determine the identity of the person who has taken gas in the circumstances set out in paragraph 2 above, having regard to such relevant information as it may have or which may be reasonably available to it and in particular having regard to the following factors (where appropriate):

in the circumstances set out in paragraph 2(a), the identity of any person who may have or may have had at any time during the period determined in accordance with paragraph 4 above a contract with any gas supplier for the supply of gas to any relevant premises; in the circumstances set out in paragraph 2(b), the identity of any person who may have had a contract with any gas supplier for the supply of gas to the premises before the premises were cut off or disconnected;

any information available from any local authority, landlord or the owner or occupier of any neighbouring premises about the possible identity of any person taking the supply;

any information available about the physical occupation of any relevant premises.

INTERPRETATION

9. In this scheme, unless the context otherwise requires:

"Domestic Appliance Energy Consumption Guide" means the guide, if any, produced by British Gas TransCo for use in cases where this scheme applies and which indicates typical annual energy consumption data for various domestic appliances, such as cookers, gas fires and central heating and, if none, such similar guide produced by British Gas public limited company before the appointed day;

"Gas supplier" shall bear the meaning in paragraph 9(5) of Schedule 2B to the 1986 Act;

"Network Code" and "relevant shipper" shall bear the meanings in the Standard Conditions of British Gas TransCo's licence. (732)

To the east of Aydon Road the boundary includes Croft House, Mayfield, various properties in Greencroft Avenue, and Milverton Villas in Appletree Lane.

To the south the boundary is extended westwards from Well Bank following the line of the footpath as far as the site of the Roman bridge where the boundary crosses the river. The boundary then returns eastwards along a line to the south of the footpath, leading to Corbridge Bridge and continues to the south of Stanners to a point approximately 450 metres east of the bridge, where it recrosses the river to rejoin the existing Conservation Area boundary.
