

Majesty and your Kingdoms from the great Peril of the late unnatural Rebellion; we do, in the next Place, beg Leave to approach your Royal Person with our most sincere and dutiful Congratulations of a Blessing in which we all of us so highly partake, and by which we hope your Majesty's Throne, and with that the future Peace of our Country, and the Security of our Religion and Liberties, are the more firmly established.

That those of the Church of Rome, who by Principle are Enemies to your Majesty's Government, and devoted to the Service of the Pretender to your Throne, should by all Means endeavour to Place him in it, is not be wondered: Their Interest, and their Religion, both require it of them.

That such, as being led away with mistaken Notions of our Constitution, think themselves obliged in Conscience to disclaim your Majesty's just and lawful Right to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, and to use their utmost Endeavours to place it upon the Head of your Enemy; though otherwise professing the same Religion with our selves, should enter into those Measures which their erroneous Conscience persuades them it is their Duty to pursue, is indeed a Matter of melancholly Consideration; but yet the Error they are under, and the Principles they act upon, do naturally account for it.

But that any of the Reformed Church of England who have acknowledged your Majesty's Right, and sworn Allegiance to your Royal Person, and obliged themselves to maintain the Succession in the Protestant Line of your Family, should nevertheless, in Contradiction to all these solemn Engagements, join with Papists and Nonjurors to subvert your Majesty's Government, and with that to overthrow all our sacred and Civil Rights and Liberties, is such a prodigious Instance of Folly and Impiety, that we may Words to express our Detestation of it.

Blessed be God, who has disappointed their wicked and traitorous Designs, and preserved your Sacred Person and Authority from the Destruction they had intended against both! May the same good Providence ever continue to watch over your Majesty, and to defend you against all their wicked Devices! Thus, as it is our Interest as well as Duty to pray for, so we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that it shall be the constant Subject of our Addresses to the Throne of Grace; and that we will all of us, in our several Places and Stations endeavour, both by our Doctrine and good Example, to convince those who are committed to our Charge, that as we may justly expect the greatest Blessings of Peace and Security under your Majesty's most auspicious Government; so should any such Change be ever accomplished (which God forbid) as your Enemies desire, nothing but utter Ruin and Desolation can follow to our Church, our Country, our selves, and our Posterity for ever.

From which sad Calamity that God may graciously preserve us, by supporting your Majesty and your Royal Family, in the perpetual Possession of that Crown which he has, in Mercy to these Nations, placed upon your Royal Head, is the hearty Prayer of,

May it please your Majesty,
Your Majesty's most faithful
And loyal and dutiful Subjects.
