St. James's, July 24.

THIS Day the Right Honourable John Lord Carteret was sworn Lord Lieutenant of the County of Devon; and the Honourable George Berkley, Esq; and Walter Cary, Esq; were sworn Clerks in Extraordinary of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

His Royal Highness hath been pleased to appoint John Rogers, Esq; Sheriff of the County of Norfolk, in the Room of his Father, deceased.

An humble Address to His Majesty from the Lieutenant General Council and Assembly of the Island of St. Christophers, having been transmitted hither, has been presented to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales by Mr. Du Port, Agent for that Island, introduced by the Right Honourable Paul Methuen, Esq; one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously.

Warsaw, July 14. By Letters from Lublin of the 27th past we had an Account, that in a Conference held there that Day, after several Debates relating to the Suspension of Arms, and the Evacuation of Lemberg and Zamosch, the King's Plenipotentiaries declared, that to shew his Majesty's Condescension and Inclination to facilitate the Treaty as much as possible, they were impowered to agree to the Evacuation of both those Places. Other Letters from thence of the 30th advised, that a Seraskier from Turkey had had an Audience of the Confederate Marshals at Lezezno, 3 Miles from Lublin, but what Commission he is charged with is not yet publickly known. On the 4th Instant arrived an Express from the Prince of Weissenfels with an Account, that in his March from Lemberg towards Zamosch, with 1200 of the Saxon Troops, he met a Body of more than 3000 Men of the best of the Poles and Lithuanians, who had resolved to dispute a Desfilé that he was obliged to pass; but after a sharp Engagement he forced his Way, and intirely routed them, killing a good Number and taking several Prisoners, among them M. Wapowski a Brigadier, who commanded the Poles, and is since dead of his Wounds at Zamosch. This Action happened on the 28th past at Dobrozin. On the 6th in the Morning arrived M. la Marre, the King's Adjutant-General, with the Articles of the Suspension of Arms, which were signed the 4th Night at Lublin. Since which we have had no Advices of Moment from thence, the Deputies of the Confederates being gone to their Marshals for further Instructions. By Letters from Lemberg we are informed, that the Saxon Troops were marched out, and that a Party of the Confederates had taken Possession of the Town. The Saxons have likewise evacuated Zamosch, but the Prince of Weissenfels, before he marched out, ordered all the Cannon of the Place, to the Number of 120, to be nailed. He is marched to wards Golomb, where he is joined by General Bawditz and others, and they are to encamp there during the Time of the Armistice, which was made but for a few Days, but in all probability will be prolonged, most People here being of Opinion that the Conference at Lublin will end in an Accommodation, the further adjustment of several Matters of Moment being to be left to a general Diet, which will be held here in January or February next.

Vienna, July 18. On the 14th in the Morning returned hither, the Courier which M. Bruyninx, the Dutch Minister here, dispatched to Count Colyer, the States Ambassadour at the Port, on the 15th of April. He left Constantinople the 22d of May. He could not get an Order there for his returning by the way of Belgrade; and it was not without Difficulty that he obtained Leave to embark in a Ship which the French Ambassadour sent to Marseilles with Dispatches for his Court. The said Courier reports, that they passed by the Turkish Fleet near the Isle of Cerigo, and that it consisted of 60 Ships, but indifferently manned, viz. 18 Men of War, carrying from 60 to 80 Guns each, 14 Gallies, and 28 Ships carrying from 15 to 20 Guns each. The last Courier sent by the Imperial Court, arrived at Constantinople the 22d of April. The Letter he carried from Prince Eugene to the Grand Vizier, was immediately translated and read in the Divan, and having been considered at that Time, and in several other Divans held for that purpose, it was at length determined on the 26th of April, to send back M. Fleischman to Vienna, with an Answer in the Form of a Manifesto. On the 9th of May, the Grand Signior and the Grand Vizier set out for Adrianople, whence the latter was to proceed with all Expedition to Belgrade; grade; and M. Fleischman set out on the 14th to follow the Grand Signior to Adrianople. There are Letters from the Frontiers which tells us, that the Grand Signior is come to Semendria, and that Sir Robert Sutton, Count Colyer, and M. Fleischman, are with him. The Ottoman Court have sent a Manifesto to their Pashas, on the Frontiers of Hungary, to warn them to keep on their Guard, and to justify their Conduct towards the Emperour. In it several things are affirmed as Facts which were never done; and more that really passed are suppressed. Particularly, a secret Article was made at Carlowitz, relating to the Venetians: And in November 1714. the Resident M. Fleischman declared, That the Port could not attack them without an open Rupture with the Emperour: But the Vizier answered him haughtily, That whoever should dare to take Part with the Venetians, should, like them, feel the just Indignation of the Port; and that if the Resident offered to speak any more in such a Strain, he should be sent to the Seven Towers. From that Time the Emperour began to take Measures against the Turks. Prince Eugene arrived at Futack on the 10th Instant, and immediately proceeded to Peterwaradin. On the 16th Count Alheim was declared Master of the Horse, in the Room of Count Diedrichstein, deceased. 8 Ships built here to be employed in the Siege of Belgrade; have been blessed and named with great Ceremony, by the Bishop of this City, Prince Lichtenstein assisting on the Part of the Emperour: 3 of them went down the River Yesterday, but some of the rest will not be ready till a Month hence.

Copenhagen, July 25. Besides the 36 Gallies which came with the Czar, 12 more arrived on the 18th Instant. These 48 Gallies have in all brought near 10000 Men, most of which are landed and already encamped without this City, at some Distance from the Gates. These Troops make a very good Appearance, and are well cloathed, observe strict Discipline, the Soldiers do not want Money, and pay well for what they are furnished with: No Meal was brought with them, but 47000 Tuns of Meal is provided in several Places of Pomerania and Holstein, and ready to be embarked for the Subsistence of these Forces. On the 20th in the Morning, Commadore Tordenschild sailed for Norway, to get a certain Account of the Situation of Affairs in that Kingdom, from whence we have not had any Mail by Post this Fortnight, though the Wind has been fair some Part of that Time. 'Tis not certain yet what Day the Danish Fleet will be ready to put to Sea from our Road, tho' the fitting it out is continued with great Diligence. In the mean while the Swedes are Masters in the Baltick, and we have Advice that they have newly taken 15 Ships on the Coast of Gotland, belonging to several Nations. On the 23d at Night the Czar's Confort arrived here: Her Entry was in much the same Manner as that of the Czar. The King met and complimented her at Fredericksberg, a Seat about a Mile from hence; where the Czar has been to make a Visit to the Queen, who is at present a little indisposed, but is shortly expected here. The Czar and his Confort are lodged in a Merchant's House in this City. The Lord Polwarth, Envoy Extraordinary of His Britannick Majesty, is expected here from Hambourg in 2 or 3 Days.

St. James's, July 27. On the 25th Instant their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales went to Hampton-Court.

There having been lent or lost, 7 or 8 Years since, a Journal in Manuscript, of the Expedition to the Isle of Rbe, under the Conduct of the Duke of Buckingham in the Reign of King Charles I. which was written by the then Secretary to his Grace: In case any Gentleman hath the said Journal in his Possession, he is desired to be so kind as to send it to Mr. Burchett, Secretary of the Admiralty; who hath now almost ready for the Press, a History of Naval-Transactions, from the Time of the ancient Phœnician to the close of the last War with France.

A General quarterly Court of the Corporation of the Amicable Society for a perpetual Assurance-Office, will be held at Sadlers-Hall in Cheap-side, on Thursday the 2d of August next, at Four a Clock in the Afternoon.
