Environment Agency Wales

WATER RESOURCES ACT 1991

RIVER WYE ROD AND LINE (SALMON AND MIGRATORY TROUT) BYELAWS 2002

The Environment Agency Wales ("the Agency") hereby gives notice that on or after 23 April 2002 it intends to apply for confirmation of byelaws made by the Agency in exercise of the powers vested in it by section 210 of and Schedule 25 to the Water Resources Act 1991 ("the byelaws"). Pursuant to the Government of Wales Act 1998 and the transfer of functions made thereunder the confirming authority for the byelaws will be the National Assembly for Wales as respects Wales and the Secretary of State for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs as respects England. The byelaws apply to the river Wye (defined as so much of the river Wye, its estuary and the tributaries as was within the area of the former Wye River Authority) and their effect is as follows:-

(1) to provide that no person shall fish for, take, or attempt to fish for or take, any salmon or migratory trout with rod and line by means other than-

(a) an artificial fly weighing less than 5 grammes (and then only without any weight being attached directly or indirectly to the fishing line) or an artificial lure (except an artificial worm, prawn or shrimp) from the end of the applicable close season in any year until 31st August in that year (the applicable close season meaning the close season for salmon for the location in question fixed by Byelaw 3 of the Agency's Welsh Rod and Line Byelaws 1995 as modified in the manner indicated in (3) below ("the 1995 Byelaws"), or the close season for migratory trout fixed by Byelaw 4 of the 1995 Byelaws, as the case may be); and

(b) an artificial fly weighing less than 5 grammes (and then only without any weight being attached directly or indirectly to the fishing line) from the 1st day of September in any year until the beginning of the applicable close season;

and that in no case must a float be used in conjunction with any of those methods;

(2) to revoke Byelaws 9(a)(4), 9(a)(5)(ii) and 9(a)(6) of the 1995 Byelaws;

(3) to extend the last day of the close season for fishing for salmon with rod and line from 25 January to 2 March, by modifying Byelaw 3 of the 1995 Byelaws; and

(4) to provide that nothing in the byelaws mentioned in paragraphs (1) and (3) above shall apply to any employee of the Agency acting in his or her official capacity or to any person who, with the permission in writing of the Agency and acting in accordance with any conditions attached to that permission, carries out work connected with the maintenance, improvement or development of fisheries or for scientific purposes.

It should be noted, with reference to paragraph (1) above, that disregarding those provisions of the 1995 Byelaws which are re-enacted by the byelaws for reasons of convenience and simplicity, the net additional effect of the byelaws so far as rod and line method restrictions are concerned is to (1) prohibit the use of worm, prawn and shrimp as baits for salmon and migratory trout at all times of the year and (2) allow spinning for salmon and migratory trout from 3 March to 30 April. (The Agency's 1995 Byelaws already permit only use of an artificial fly weighing less than 5 grammes from the end of the applicable close season until the end of April, only use of an artificial fly or an artificial lure from the end of April until 1st day of June, a date which has been extended to 15th day of June by the Agency's National Salmon Byelaws confirmed by Ministers on 14 April 1999, and only use of an artificial fly weighing less than 5 grammes from 1st day of September until the beginning of the applicable close season.)
