Falmouth, May 17.

THe 14th instant the Virgin and Success of this Port, put in here from Cadiz bound for London; they came from thence in Company of about 50 sayl of Merchant men, under the Convoy of His Majesties Frigats the Guernsey and Fersey; yesterday they sailed again from hence for the River of Thames.

Cows, May 20. This morning arrived here a Vessel in Six weeks from the Barbados, the Master confirms to us the good and healthy Condition of that Island, the Distemper which for some time with great violence continued amongst the Inhabitants there being now quite abated.

Rome, May 9. The Marquis de Durazzo, Resident here from the Republick of Genoua, hath lately given notice of his being recalled home, and is now upon his departure accordingly, upon the difference which some Months since happened, and still continues with great contest between that Republick and this See, concerning some matters relating to the Inquisition there; in which those of Genoua it seems, pretend to the same Priviledge and Power as the Republick of Venice hath for many years enjoyed; how this thing will be at length decided to satisfy both parties, we as yet see not.

The Princess Rossano, having at last given her consent to the Marriage concluding between her Son the Prince Pamphilio, and the Niece of the Cardinal Facchinetti, nothing seems at present wanting to compleat that match.

The Cardinal Caraffa, who of late hath been extreme ill, begins very much to mend, and to give dayly greater signs of his recovery. Signior Pignatelli late Nuncio at Florence, in Poland, and last of all at Vienna, is returned home some days since from those employments; yesterday he was to pay his duty to his Holiness, by whom he was very kindly received, and with great esteem, to the content of the whole Town and Court, as being a person of particular Worth and Merit.

We very suddenly expect the arrival of the Duke d' Estrees in quality of Ambassador from the Count of Erantze; together with his Brother the Bishop of Luan, for whom he comes, amongst other things, to sollicite the Cardinals Cap which is at present void. In the meantime we are here hastening his Equipage and other preparations for his Reception with all the diligence imaginable.

We are told that the Cardinal Altieri is upon the point of purchasing the Duchy of Ariano, a considerable Estate of the Duke of Aquasparta, which lies within few miles of this City.

Signior Grimani, who hath long resided in this Court, as Ambassador from the Republick of Venice, parted hence the 6th instant in order to his return home, being to be succeeded in his employment here by the Cavalier Morosini, whom we daily expect to arrive from thence.

From Naples they write, that they have lately received orders from Madrid, for the raising of some Troops for the Service of that Kingdom; and that there is not the least discourte at present of Don Pedro d' Aragon's leaving that Government and returning to Madrid, as was some time since generally reported.

Cologne, May 22. We have advice here, that the Lorraine Troops consisting of 4000 Foot and 1500 Horse, having passed the 20th instant the Rhyne at Kayserswaere, are at present quartered in Urdingen, Lin, and Kemp, three small places belonging to our Elector, within 8 Leagues of this Town.

In the mean time the Duke of Lorraine is still here; and goes not to reside at Bonne as was formerly said; we are told that his Highness hath acquainted our Magistrates, with his having given his Troops to the Elector, but that it was on condition, not to employ them against this place. The Heer van Syppstein, Envoy from the States General, having had several conferences with the Marquis de Grana and the Magistrates here, about the present state of affairs, is gone for Bonne, where our Elector at present is, to contribute all he may to an accommodation, of which there seems now of late some likelihood.

Hamborough, May 26. These parts are as present very still; from Copenhagen our Letters onely speak of the great preparations which are there making for the Kings Coronation, which is to be very suddenly. From Warsaw every Post brings us fresh fears of some Inroads this Summer upon those Countries, by the Turks and Cossacks, who they say, for certain are going to joyn in order to some considerable attempt; but that Kingdom being continually subject to such allarmes, and few Summers passing without the same reports, we hope all this noise may likewise at length come to nothing.

From Bylevelt we hear, that the several Deputies were arrived there, but had not yet had any solemn meeting in order to the commencing the Treaty; and that the Mediators seemed very much dissatisfied at the delays which are made in an affair of so great importance, and have accordingly sent directions to their Ministers at present there, to press those of Lunenburgh and Munster, to a speedy conclusion of this matter.

Madrid, May 8. The Third instant arrived here an Express from Rome, with advice of the Canonisation of the five new Saints, and amongst them, as what particularly relates to us, of Don Francisco de Borgia Duke of Grandia; which was received here with a general satisfaction, especially by the Fathers Jesuites, in whose Society it seems he had passed the later part of his life, with so great a reputation of Piety and Devotion, as to procure him at length this honor; the solemnity will be kept here with great Pomp and Magnificence, as is usually practiced in like cases.

The Queen hath lately made choice of Don Fernando de Cordova, some time since by her Majesty nominated to the Government of Patama in the West Indies, to be of the Council of War here. Monsignor de Bonzi Archbishop of Thoulouze, and Am-

An Ambassador Extraordinary from the Court of France hath acquainted her Majesty with his intentions of leaving this Court, in order to his return home, about the latter end of this Month, in pursuance of the order he hath received from his Master, and that they might within a short time after expect the arrival of Monsieur Vilars, whom his most Christian Majesty hath appointed to succeed him in his employment in this Court.

From Palermo we have advice, That the Prince de Ligny, Vice Roy of Sicily, was perfectly recovered again of his late Indisposition; and that that Kingdom had been of late very much alarmed, as if the Turks had some design of attacking them this Summer; for the preventing of which, they fail not to make what provision they can, and seem not now to apprehend any great danger from that side this year.

Lisle, May 24. On the 26th instant their most Christian Majesties are expected with the Court at Armentiers, and the Tuesday or Wednesday following in this place; for whose reception all necessary preparations are in the interim making; what stay the King may make here is not certainly known, though it is generally thought it will not be many days.

Brussels, May 24. On Friday last according to the Advice we had from Bruges, we expected here our Governour the Count de Monterey, but since find that his Excellency for some particular reasons, had thought fit to defer his intentions of leaving that place, for some few days at least.

It is said, that the Countess de Monterey, hath sent to return her humble thanks to her most Christian Majesty, for her kind invitation to come and see her at Aeth, and to excuse her not being able to wait upon her Majesty there, by reason of her late indisposition.

The Prince de Mazines hath not yet received his final orders for his departure, but seeing his intentions are of meeting the French Court at Aeth, there seems to be no need of his making any great haste from hence. The Count Marcin hath been lately surpris'd with a sudden illness, but is said to be at present a little better.

Osband, May 27. From Dunkirk they write, that the French Court went thence the 25. instant, together with the Army, excepting 5 or 6 thousand men that are left there to pursue the work of the Fortifications: That night their Majesties were to lodge at Watrou, and to be the next day at Armentiers, and on Wednesday at Lisle, where they intended to stay but 3 or 4 dayes, and then to remove to Aeth, with intentions to pass there three weeks or a month. Don Francisco de Velasco hath taken possession of his Command of the Spanish Regiment in Garrison here.

Ghent, May 28. The 26. in the Evening arrived here our Governour the Count de Monterey from Bruges, accompanied by Count Marcin, who is perfectly well again and several other persons of quality: And yesterday his Excellency went to visit all the new Fortifications of this place, on which they work daily with 1200 men; and which, when finished, will be a very great strength to the Town. His Excellency will stay here some few dayes, and then return for Brussels.

Hague, 29. May. The Lieutenant Admiral de Ruyter, with other of the principal Officers, is finally gone from hence to the Fleet, with orders to put immediately to Sea: The Amsterdam Squadron is quite ready, that Admiralty having to make up their number appointed an other Ship of the same force, which is seems was ready fitted, instead of that, which, as was said, run lately on ground near Enchuyzen, so that they may sail out of the Texell with the first fair wind, consisting of 12 Men of war, and 6 Frigats, with as many Fire-ships, to joyn with those of Rotterdam, Zealand, and Friesland: It is said the Fleet will continue during the time of their being abroad, in the Wielingen, and on the Coast of Zealand, to avoid the giving of any jealousy to our Neighbours.

Monsieur de Groot, Ambassador from this State in the Court of France, having desired leave to make a step hither for some short time, in order to the looking after his particular concerns; the States have accordingly granted his desire in this particular, and ordered a Vessel to attend him at Sluyse for his Transportation.

Here are lately returned from Dunkirk several persons of Quality, who went hither out of curiosity to see the French Court; they tell us, amongst other things, that the Fortifications of that place are very much advanced, and almost finished;

Mr. Des went from thence on Monday the 25. instant to Lisle; that it was reported, they would not stay long there, but proceed in few days for Tournay, and the other conquered places, to be back again at Paris about the later end of June.

The four Deputies which are at present at Bilveelt, on the part of this State, having as is said, represented, that the presence of them all there seems not to be so very necessary, but that two of them may have permission to return home, and more particularly we are told, That the Heer d' Amerongen hath desired leave of the States to return from thence.

From Munster our Letters tell us, that the Bishop hath promised the States of his Country to disband all his Forces in a Months time, unless any thing extraordinary happen to hinder it; though in the mean time the Princes of Lunenburg, shew not as yet, the least intention of dismissing their Troops.

From Cologne they write, of the great hopes they have of an accommodation with that Elector; that Colonel Bampfild who had raised a Regiment there for the service of this State, hath since passed into that of the City, and hath accordingly, together with the other chief Officers, taken the oath of Fidelity, before the Marquis de Grana, and the Magistrates of that place.

Whisehal, May 4. His Majesty having been pleased upon the removal of my Lord chief Baron Hales to be Chief Justice of the Court of Kings Bench, to make choice of Sir Edward Turner Knight, his Majesties Solicitor General, to succeed in that place, On Tuesday last the 23. instant, in obedience to His Majesties Writ, commanding him to take his Degree of Sergeant at Law, he appeared at the Chancery Bar, and according to custom, took the usual Oath before the Right Honourable the Lord Keeper; which being done, he went before the Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, where having performed the Ceremonies belonging to that Degree, he was called by my Lord Keeper, to the Exchequer Bar, and being there sworn Lord Chief Baron of that Court, he took his place on the Bench accordingly.

His Majesty hath likewise been pleased to make choice of Francis North Esquire, Son to the Lord North, to succeed the said Sir Edward Turner, as his Solicitor General; and accordingly having some dayes before received the honor of Knighthood from his Majesty, on Tuesday the 23. aforesaid he was sworn into the Place.
