The London Gazette.

Publiched by Auchomey.

From Donday, May 29. to Chursday June 1. 1671.

Ratisbonne May 14.

Efferday went hence the Bifhop d' Aich-Badt, Commiffioner for the Emperor at this Dyet, to his own house fome miles from hence, leaving in the mean three the management of those Affairs in the hands of a perfon of Quality, appointed by the Emperor to that purpole; the Plenipotentiaries affemble dayly, in order to the perfecting of those matters that lye before them, with so much earnestmels, that a prefent there seems to be a fair likelihood of fimally concluding diem, it is faid that the Emperor hath by his Letters, prefled them to a speedy resolution in the matter of the Publick fecurity and the perpetual Capitulation, the perfecting of which, would be sextraordinary an advantage to the whole Empire.

Vienna, May 20. His Imperial Majefty having been pleased, in confideration of the many and good fervices done him by the Count de Schafgorz, to receive him into the Council of State; yefterday the faid Count arrived here from Silefia, where his ordinary Refidence is, on his way to Laermburgh, to attend his Imperial Majefty, who ftill continues with the Court there. The Count de Rothal, Principal Commissioner

The Count de Rothal, Principal Commiffioner for the Emperor at Presburgh, arrived here on Sunday-Paft, regether with the Archbishop of Gran, to give his Imperial Majefty an account of the fuccels of that Commiffion, intending to be hack at Presburgh again the 28th inftant, in order to the finishing the Process of feveral perfons who are there upon their Tryals, about matters relating to the late Rebellion.

From Upper Hungary they write, that the General Spankaw, hath been to visit the feveral places and Fortifications of those parts, giving directions for the reinfurcing of some, and the demolishing others of less importance, as might best advance his Imperial Majesties service there.

We are told that the, Prirce of Transituania, in pursuance of the general Orders sent by the Grand Signior to all his Bassa and other Officers, not to give the least protection to any of the Rebels, but that they should rather put them into the hands of Justice, hath delivered up to such as are by the Emperor to that purpose appointed, several of those who had retired upon that account into those Countries.

Dantzick, May 23. From Warfaw they write, that the Marriage of Prince Demetrius Wisnowitski, Unkle to the prefent King, and under General of the Army, with the Prince's d' Offrog, had been there celebrated in a most magnificent and extraordinary manner for three days together; their Majesties having been pleased to grace the Solemnity with their Prefence, and most of the Nobility of the Kingdom of both Sexes, appearing at it very rich and iplendid in their Apparel and Equipage.

That the Council of war had been held there for feveral days, and was then parted, having first refolved, that the King should immediately for the fecurity of the peace of the Kingdom, issue his third and laft general Letters to the refpective Palatinates, fummoning the Nobility to appear well armed on horfeback, againft the middle of the next Month, according to the rules and orders, already preferibed in that particular, and fuch farther directions as they fhould receive from the Council of War, appointed to be held there again about ten days after; his Majefty withal declaring; that he would march with them in perfon into the Ukrain, to fecure in time the peace of thole parts: That the Princels Wifnowitski the Kings Mother, had been received there with very extraordinary refpect, and an univerfal welcom from the people.

Palermo, May 2. Our Vice-Roy the Prince de Ligny, being perfectly recovered of his late indilpolition, hath been advised by his Phylitians to change the Air, and to go and pais fome time in the Country, which in a day or two he accordingly intends, together with his Lady.

The 27th paft arrived here the Marquis de Bayonne, General of the Galleys of Sicily, together with his Lady, from the Court at Madrid; they were received here, by our Vice-Roy and the reft of the Nobility, who went out to meet them, in a very obliging manner.

a very obliging manner. His Excellency hath given orders for the fitting out a fquadron of Galleys, immediately to joyn as is thought, with those of Maltha and Napless in order to the keeping these Seas free from Pyrates this Summer.

Rome, May 9. The Marquis de Durazzo, Refident here on the part of the Republick of Genoua, may in few days depart on his way home, a Galley of that City being arrived at Civita Vecchia for his transportation; in the interim the difference concerning the Fathers of the Inquisition there continues still, though fome, who seem to be more active for the composing it, have offered, that there be added to the Inquisitor at Genoua two Notaries, the one to be an Ecclessifical Person, and the other a Secular; which Proposition, though it is thought most equal between the pretensions of both parties, will it is feared, not prove effectual for the accommodating this matter.

Here is a difcourse of a Marslage to be treating between the Prince Giustiniani, and the second Sister of the Duke Gasparo Altieri, but through the many difficulties that seem to rife in several particulars, we shill doubt the success of it. On Thursday last was celebrated the Marriage of the Son of the Marquis Nari, with a Niece of the Cardinal *Carpeg*na, in the presence of several Cardinals and other perfons of quality.

A famous Aftrologer here about Town, having it feems foretold, as he pretended, that some perfon of the higheft quality here should die this Month, he was thereupon some days fince committed to prison, for his prefumption, where it is thought, he may remain, without he give good fecurity to employ his Talent, with more caution for the future. The Prince Pamphilio hath since his Marriage with the Niece of the Cardinal Facchinetti, received the Complyments and visits of most of the perfons of Quality about Town, to whom he has returned the like Civilities, Leghorne, Miy 13. The Centurion Frigat Captait Bowen Commander is here ready in Port, and may infew days fail with a fleet of twenty fail of Merchant men for England. The Galley which is here building by Order of the King of England, is now quite finished, and in three or four dayes may be teady to launch. At Florence wee hear that Signior Magalotti, hath had feveral conferences with the Ministers of the Great Duke, about the leavies he is to make in these parts for the fervice of his most Christian Majesty, but know not the result of them.

Hamborough, May 26. From Stockholme they write, that the King and Queen Mother, having been this feafon diverting thomfelyes in the Country, were come to Town again with moft of the Senators, who were in few days to have a folemn meeting about the affairs of the Kingdom, & that they expected the arrival there of feveral forriegn Ministers, as from Poland, Muscowy and Turky, the Envoy from the Crim Tartars to that end deferring his departure till their arrival, to learn, if possible, their feveral errands. Wee expect here out of England the Sieur de Campen one of the Deputies of this Town; the Sieur Maetveldt and the Sieur Garmers being in the mean time directed to ftay there to take care of the affairs of this City.

The Lunenbourgh Troops which were quartered in the Fortress of Harburgh are marched out from thence, confilting of 11 Companies, asis faid towards the River Wefer. Here s a report, that the Bilhop of Munfter hath inftea by the Preliminary Treaty he into Hoxter, cauled 300 ment and to continue quartered there tisfaction of the Inhabitants; but of this we expect fome farther confirmation.

Hague, June 2. The Deputies of the respective Admiralties are still in Towne, and have frequent Conferences with the Councel of State, concerning matters of the Fleet. Don Estevan de Gamarra, Am, bassing to be fucceeded in his employment here by Don Emanuel de Lyra, who it is faid, is already on his way hither; Wee are likewise told, that Monsieur Pompene Ambassiador from his most Christian Majesty, may be very suddainly recalled from hence.

His Highnefs the Prince of Orange continues ftill at Honflacrdyke, a houfe of pleafure three miles from hence, and will as is thought pafs moft of the Summer there, yet fo, as to be frequently at the affembly of the Councel of State. From Bylevelt they write, that the Deputies of the Bishop of Munster were not yet arrived, but were with great impatience expected there.

From Cologne, that the Heer van Sypeflein Envoy from this State, after having had feveral meetings with the Marquis de Grana, and the Magiftrates of the place, for the accommodating the prefent differences; had likewife been at Bonna with that Elector, to confer with him upon that Subject, and to offer the mediation of the States his Mafters for the effecting the fame, but that he had received for answer, that his Electoral Highnefs, could in no fort accept of their good intentions in this particular, feeing the Emperor had already made choice of the Electors of Trever, of Meniz, and of Brandenburgh, as Arbiters in the matter, and that to their determination, he had committed the whole affair.

Some days fince we had a report here, that the Magiftrats of Brunsmick, having of late obleved great numbers of Roman Catholicks within the Town, had defired some Troops of their Duke, for their fecurity against all accidents; but t'his day we have had advice from Hanouer that the, faid City was belieged by the Forces of that Duke, though not known upon what account, which feems io strange and surprising, that we shay for a farther confirmation in it. Our Fleer it is faid, is this day put to Sea for the Coast of Zealand.

Paris, June 2. From Marseilles of the 26th past they write, that they had advice there by a Bark arrived ineight days from Argiers, that Sir Edward Spragg had been before that place with ten Frigats, htefnips and other fmall Veflels, and had fired feveral hundred great thot into the Castle and Town, though withour doing any farther execution as we hear of, then the killing fome of the Inhabitants, who are at prefent fo wearied out, with the many loffes they have of late received, and that without meeting with any confiderable purchase to recompence them, that most of the Seamen and others, who served in maritime employments, to the number of 8000 have left the place, and gone and taken fervice at Tunis; they have at prefene25 men of War, of which 10 are abroad, the reft in Port, which they have haled close under the Cafile for their security. They farther add from Marfeilles , that the Nine men of War,which as was formerly faid,were there fitted,are ready to fayl, as is thought for Tunis, and that they have not had any advice from the Squadron of Galleys lately fet out from thence fince their departure.

From Liste we hear, that his most Christian Majefly was gone from thence towards Tournay and Actinand that he intended to be the 15 instant at Charler or-Windfor, May 31. On Sunday being the Eve of the celebration of St. George's Heaft, appointed to be kept this year on the 29 infant, the day of his Majefties Birth and ever happy Reftauration, His Majefty as Soverain of the Order, accompanied by his Royal Highnels the Duke of York, His Highnels Prince Rupert, and leveral other Companions of that most Noble Order, all of them in their Habits, proceeded in the afternoon to the Chappel in great Solemnity, where before the Divine Service begun, the Earl of Carlisle, introduced between his Royall Highness and Prince Rupert, was installed as Proxy of the King of Sweden; and the Earl of Winchelfea, be-tween the Duke of Ormand and Duke of Buckingham as Proxy for the Elector of Saxony w both which Princes had been invefted with the full Habit of the Order in the year 1669; and after them the Duke of Albermarle introduced between the Earl of Sandmich and the Earl of Oxford was likewife invested and fet in his Stall. The next day the Feast was celebrated with extraordinary Splendor and Magnificence in all the circumstances of it; and the day following in the morning the Soverain proceeding to the Chappel, after he had taken His Stall, the Companions before they afcended to theirs, offered in order the Atchievements of Arms, viz. The Banners, Swords and Crefts of 7 decealed Knights; being William Earl of Sali foury, Thomas Earl of Berks, Alger-non Earl of Northumberland, Thomas Earl of Southhampton, George Duke of Albermarle, Mountagu Earl of Lindfey, and Edward Earl of Manchefter.

Then the Soverain and Companions, having Offered, as they had also done the day before, returned to the Chapter house, put off their Mantles, which is the only Habit of that day, and so the Solemnity ended.

ly Habit of that day, and to the Solemnity ended. London, May, 31, Yefterday Her Majefly, attended by the frincipal Ladies of Quality of the Court, arrived here trom Windfor, with intention to pais the Feltival of the Alcention at Somerfer-House, where Her Majefly with Her Court lodged.

Printed by Thon Newcomb in the Savoy, 1671.