Copy of the Letter written by King Philip the Vib to his Son King Lewis, from St. Ildefonfo the 14th of January 1724.

IT having pleated the Divine Majefty through infinite Merey, my well beloved Son, to make me featible for fome Years paft of the Nothingnels of this World and the Vanity of its Grandeurs, and at the same time to raise in me an ardent Defire of eternal good things, which without any Comparison ought to be preferred to those of this Earth, which God give us only to be confidered in that View; I have judged, that I could not make a better Return to the Favours of fo good a Father, who calls me to ferve him, and who has bestowed on methrough my whole Life fo many Marks of a visible Protection, by which he has delivered me as well from the lafirmities that he has been pleafed to lay upon me, as from the difficult Occurrences of my Reign, during which be has protected me and preferved the Crown against fo many united Powers who attempted to wrest it from me; than by facrificing to him and laying at his Feet that Crown, to think only of ferving him, to bewail my past Offences, and to render my Telf the less unworthy to appear in his Pre-Tence, when he shall be pleased to call me to his Tribunal, much more tremendous to Kings than to other Men. This Refolution I have taken with the greater Ardour and Joy, becaule happily for me I found the Queen, whom God has given me for my Spoule, entertain at the fame time the fame Sentiments, and determined with me to trample under Foot the Nothingnels of the Grandeurs and perifhing good things of this Life. We have therefore fome Years refolved, both of us with one Confent, by the Favour of the most Holy Virgin Mary our Lady, to put this Delign in Execution, and I now fet about it the more chearfully, becaule I leave the Crown to a Son whom I love with the greatest Tendercels, who is worthy to wear it, and whole Qualities give me certain Hopes that he will discharge all the Duties of a Dignity, much more terrible than I am able to defcribe it. Yes, my beloved Son, make your felf fentible of all the Weight of that Dignity, fludy to perform all that it requires of you, rather than fuffer your Eyes to be dazled with the flattering Splendour of what furrounds you. Think, that you are not a King. on any other Condition, than to fee that God is ferved, and that your People are happy : That you have above you a Lord who is your Creator and Redeemer, who has heaped, Boy nefits on you, to whom you owe all that you have, and to whom you owe even your felf, Employ your Vigilance therefore for his Glory, and exert your Authority in whatever may tend to promote it. Protect and defend the Church, and the Holy Religion, with all your Might, and even with the Hazard, if need be, of your Crown and of your Life: Spare nothing that may ferve to extend it even to the molt remote Countries ; deeming it a Felicity incomparably greater to have them under your Command for propagating the Knowledge and Service of God in them, than for the Extent to which they may enlarge your Dominions. Prevent as much as possible Offences against God in all your Kingdoms ; and ale all your Power that he may be ferved, honoured, and revered by all that shall be subject to your Dominion. Preferve ever a great Devotion to the most Ho. ly Virgin, and put your felf as well as your Kingdoms under her Protection; sceing you cannot by any other Means better obtain what may be needful for you and for them. Be always, as you ought, obedient to the Holy See, and to the Pope as the Vicar of Jelus Protect and defend ever the Tribu-Chrift. nal of the Holy Inquisition, which may be call'd the Bulwark of the Faith, and to which it owes its Prefervation in all its Purity in the Dominions of Spain; fo that the Herefies which have afflicted the other Parts of Chriftendom, and produced fuch horrid and deplorable Ravages in them, could never be able to get Footing here. Bear Respect always to the Queen, and confider her as your own Mother, not only as long as God shall continue my Life, but after my Death, if it be His Will to take me first out of this World, answering as becomes you the affectionate Friendship she has constantly shewn you; be careful to support her shat the may not want any thing, and that fine may be refpected as the ought by all your Subjects. Love your Brothere, looking on your felf as their Father, fince I fubftitute you in my Room ; and give them fuch Education as in worthy of Christian Princes. Do Justice e4 qually to all your Subjects, high and lows without Exception of Perfons. Defend the low against the Violences and Exactions that may be let on foor against them. Redrefs the Vexations the Indians luffer. Eale your People as much as you can, and in to doing tupply what the turbulent Times of my Reign would not permit me to do, and which I most fincerely with I had done, in Return to the Zeal and Affection which they have always thewn for me, which I shall always keep impressed on ny Heart, and which you ought even to beat in Mind. To conclude, have continually before your Eyes two holy Kings, who are the Glory of Spain and of Feance, St. Ferdinand and St. Lewis: Thefe I propole to your for your Example, and they ought to move you the more, becaufe you are illustrious by their Blood, as they were great Kings and at the fame time great Saints : Imitate them in each of these Glories, but may their Example lead you you chiefly in the laft, for that is the Effential onc. I befeech God with my whole Heart, my well-beloved Son, to grant you this Grace, and to endue you with thole Gifts which fhall be neceffary to yon in your Administration ; that I may have the Confolation to hear it faid in my Retirement that you are a great King and a great Saint. This will rejoyce a Father who loves and will ever love you tenderly, and hopes you will ever preferve thole Sentiments towards him which he has hitherto found by Experience to be in you. I the King.
