The London Gazette.

Publiched by Authority.

From Saturday March 4: to Cuelday March 71 1726.

St. James's, March 7.

THE following humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Bayliffs and Burgefles, High-Steward, Un-der-Steward, Gentlemen, and o-ther the Inhabitants of His Majefty's Borough of New-Windfor, in the County of Porks, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Inchiquin, one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by his Grace the Duke of St. Albans. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very gracioufly.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty The humble Address of the Mayor, Alder-men, Bayliffs and Burgesse, High-Steward, Under-Steward, Gentlemen, and other the Inhabitants of your Majesty's Borough of New-Windfor in the County of Berks.

May it pleafe your Majesty, IN the midst of the greatest Calm and Se-curity at Home that any People are capable of enjoying, happy in the best and most humane of Princes, the pureft Religion, and the fulleft Poffethon of Liberty and Property, (Plants that thrive and flourish only in a Protestant Soil,) we on a fudden see a Storm gathering from Abroad that threatens us with the Destruction of all these Blellings at once, and to force upon us in Exchange a bigotted Popish Pretender, whom we neither Love nor Fear, and an Arbitrary absolute Government, the very worft of human Calamities that can politibly happen to this free Nation.

We find with Indignation your most Sacred Majesty, together with the British Honour and Commerce, insulted (in Breach of the most folemn Treaties) by a Prince whom we lately faw in this Place under very different

(Price Two Pence.)

Circumstances, and who owes it to the Britifh Generofity and Valour that either him, felf or his Family are in a Condition at this Time to infult them or any other Nation.

But we are still more surprized to hear of the fame injurious Treatment from another Prince who is fo ill informed of the true Affections and real Interest of the People of Great-Britain, as to dream of fucceeding in an Invalion of your Majesty's Kingdoms in favour of the desperate Fortunes of the baffled Pretender and his perjured Adherents, at the fame Time forgetting (we prefume) that he himfelf has not been able to defend or preferve his own Dominions.

Under these Provocations, if your Majesty, in Conjunction with your high Allies, shall be compelled to draw your Sword in the Defence of our Religion, our Laws, and all those Advantages of Commerce, which alone have diffinguilhed this happy Ifland from the neighbouring World, as the Seat of Liberty, Plenty, and Eafe ; we have the ftrongeft Reafons to promife ourfelves and our Fellow-Subjects fuch an Islue of so necessary a War, as may be glorious to your Majesty's Arms in the prefent, and productive of the Bleifings of Peace to fucceeding Generations.

That, your Majefty's Reign may be long and prosperous over us; and that this Nation may always remain and be under the gracious Protection and Government of your facred Majefty and your Royal Delcendants to all Ages, are the daily Prayers of,

May it pleafe your most Excellent Majesty, Your Majesty's most dutiful and obedient Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Bi-fhop Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Exeter, and of the Clergy of the Diocese of Exeter, has been presented to His Majesty by Dr. Gilbert Dean of Exeter, in the Ab: