St. James's, April 11.

THE following humble Address of the Mayor and Burgeses of the Borough of Whitechurch in the County of Southampton, has been presented to His Majesty by John Conduitt and Thomas Farringdon, Esqrs. Representatives in Parliament for the said Borough, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State. Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor and Burgeses of the Borough of Whitechurch in the County of Southampton, met together to elect a Member to represent them in Parliament.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects beg Leave to approach your Throne with Hearts full of Acknowledgements for the many invaluable Blessings we enjoy under your most gracious Government; and for your unwearied Endeavours to continue them to your People.

We heard with great Surprise and Concern the Emperour and King of Spain, in a Time of full Peace, prohibit the Woollen Manufactures; on which we so much depend; and it is with the highest Repentment we see; contrary to all Faith and Treaties; one of those Princes setting up an unjustifiable Trade, to the great Prejudice of this Kingdom, in Countries conquered for him with British Blood and Treasure; and the other openly attacking that important Fortres which was yielded to this Nation by the same Treaty to which he owes his Crown.

The Engagements entered into in Favour of a Popish Pretender filled us with Indignation, and the insolent Attempts to deceive and mislead your People; only serve to raise in us a stronger Abhorrence of the Falshood and Ingratitude of those who offer them, and a warmer Zeal for your Majesty's Person and Honour, and our happy Establishment in your Royal Family; in Defence of which we assure your Majesty we will upon all Occasions exert ourselves with the greatest Chearfulness, and to the utmost of our Power, against the Violence or Artifice of any open or secret Enemies whatsoever.

The following humble Address of the Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Aylesbury, in the County of Bucks, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir William Stanhope, Kt. and Richard Abel, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Inhabitants of the Antient Borough of Aylesbury, in the County of Bucks.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to express our most grateful Sense of the many great and valuable Blessings we enjoy under your auspicious Government. When we reflect on the various Steps of your Majesty's most excellent Administration through the many different Scenes of Affairs, your unwearied Vigilance in the early Discovery of the destructive Schemes of your Enemies, the powerful Alliances you have formed, and the reasonable Preparations you have made by the wise Dispositions of your Fleets, to frustrate their black Designs, fill our Hearts with the utmost Joy and Satisfaction.

The Affront and Indignity offered your most sacred Majesty by the insolent Memorial delivered by Monsieur de Palm, the Emperor's Resident, and the unparalleled Insolency in printing and publishing the same throughout the Kingdom, raiseth our highest Rementment.

The Attempt made against our Liberties, Trade, and (what is most valuable to us) your Majesty's Person and Government, did most justly surprize us, especially when we considered it came from a Prince under the strictest Ties of Gratitude; one who was established on his Throne by your Majesty's Assistance, and owes so much to the Valour of the British Nation, and for whose sake so much Blood and Treasure has been expended. Can his Imperial Majesty be so forgetful of the Laws of Hospitality; so unjust as to employ those Ports to the Ruin of our Trade which he enjoys by our Generosity; and in Concert with another neighbouring Prince, break through all the most solemn Leagues and Treaties, with a View to wrest from us the important Fortresses of Gibraltar and Port Mahon, and bring in a Popish Pretender, an abjur'd Fugitive, a Tool of Rome, and the Bane of Liberty? one who from his Cradle hath been train'd up in Principles absolutely destructive to both our Civil and Religious Rights, would entirely deprive both the present Age and late Posterity of those happy Advantages and ineffimable Blessings procur'd to us by King William (of Glorious Memory) at the Revolution, the Preservation whereof we owe to your Majesty's most gracious Government.

We assure your Majesty, that we shall be always ready to the utmost of our Power, Hand and Heart, to support and defend your Majesty's Royal Person, Crown and Dignity, against all Opposers whatsoever.

We entirely rely on your sacred Majesty's known Goodness and paternal Care for the Welfare of your People; may all your Counsels be crown'd with Success, may your Reign be long and glorious, and may your Royal Illustrious Family inherit your Kingdoms, Virtues, and the intire Love and Affection of your Subjects to latest Posterity.

Hague, April 14, N. S. On the 12th Instant Brigadier Sutton arrived here from England, and on the 16th will proceed to the Court of Cassel. Letters from Madrid of the 31st past advise, that the Siege of Gibraltar is still carried on slowly: And that the Moors had suddenly raised the Siege of Ceuta; which is believed to be occasioned by the Death of the Emperour of Morocco, and a Contest between two of his Sons for the Throne.
