St. James's, July 3.

THIS Day the Lord Mayor, with the rest of the Commissioners of the Lieutenancy for the City of London, waited in a Body on His Majesty, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Grafton Lord Chamberlain; and the Lord Mayor presented the following Address to His Majesty.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, and the rest of the Commissioners of the Lieutenancy for your City of London.

May it please your Majesty,

THE sudden and unexpected Death of your Royal Father our late most Gracious Sovereign, is a Subject of Grief too sensibly affecting us to be conceal'd; but when we consult our Reason, and reflect on our Happiness, that your Majesty is now so quietly seated on the Throne, the joyful Scene abates our Sorrow, altho' the Remembrance of his benign Reign will be ever dear to us.

The early Proofs of your Valour and Conduct in Support of the Protestant Cause, your gracious and mild Disposition in the Exercise of Power during your Regency, and the Deference you have ever paid to the Laws of the Land, are so many Foundations for that Assurance we have always had, that your Majesty would be a steadfast Preserver of our Constitution in Church and State, and a tender Father of your People; and the most agreeable Declaration you was pleased to make to your Subjects the Moment you ascended the Throne, convinces us, that we did not in vain entertain so great Expectations.

We therefore, with the utmost Zeal, congratulate your Majesty's Accession to the [ Price Three Pence ]

Throne, and with all Duty and Affection to your Sacred Person, we truly wish and sincerely pray, that your Reign may be long and prosperous; that your Royal Comfort, and those Blessings your Royal Issue, in whom we have the comfortable Prospect of Happiness to our Posterity, may give constant Delight and Satisfaction to your Majesty.

And we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that the Arms wherewith we are entrusted, shall be resolutely employed in Defence of your Majesty, and the happy Establishment of your Kingdoms, against any who shall be audacious or ungrateful enough to disturb your Quiet and Repose.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to give the following most Gracious Answer.

I Thank you for this Loyal Address, in which you express so much Duty and Affection to my Person and Government.

His Majesty was pleased to receive them very graciously, and they had all the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

The following humble Address of the Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, and High Constable for the City and Liberty of Westminster, assembled in General Quarter Sessions, has been presented to His Majesty by William Cowper, Esq; the Chairman, attended by several of the Justices, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Herbert. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously, and they had all the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

The firft Act of your Majefty's Administration was an Instance of your innate Goodnefs, in condefcending to declare your Paternal Love and Tendernefs for your Subjects, and your Care to preferve our prefent Conftitution in Church and State, with your Royal Purpofe, not only to make your People happy at Home, but to maintain and advance their Honour, Intereft, and Security Abroad.

No Prince ever afcended the Throne with a more univerfal or more deferved Applaufe of his Subjects, of all Ranks and Conditions; and may your Majefty long Reign, as you have begun, in the Hearts of your People, whofe earneft Wifh and Prayer it is, that there may never be wanting a Prince of your illuftrious Family to fill the Throne of thefe Kingdoms, and perpetuate to us the Bleffings we now enjoy; of which we have the moft agreeable Profpert in your Majefty's Royal Ifue, whofe early Virtues have been form'd under your Majefty and your Royal Confort, who has fo evidently exprefs'd the moft unshaken Conftancy to the Proteftant Religion, when the greateft of Earthly Dignities could not tempt Her to abandon the Profeflion of that Faith.

We humbly beg Leave to affure your Majefty, that we will ufe our utmoft Endeavours to recommend ourfelves to your Royal Favour, by a diligent Difcharge of our Duty; and that we are, and always fhall be determined, with united Hearts, to facrifice all that we moft value in Defence of your Majefty's Sacred Perfon and Government, againft all your Enemies whatfoever.

Now our Trade will revive, and our Debts be really decreased; and sure our Enemies can no longer flatter themselves by their Pretences of Promises or Conventions, to gain Gibraltar, which is but a little Reward for the vast Expence of that War, and the Hazard we run when you so bravely engaged for the Preservation of Europe, our Religion and Liberties.

May your Majesty have a long and prosperous Reign over us, and when full of Years and Glory Heaven shall remove you from us, that we may never want one sprung from your Royal Person to fill your Throne, are the hearty Prayers of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

Lisbon, June 21, N. S. This Day was launched a Portuguese Man of War of 56 Guns, called Nossa Senhora de Alampadofa; the Court were present on this Occasion. Last Week a Spanish Privateer attempting to go out of the Port of Aveiro after an English Merchant Ship, was prevented by the Fort, and made to remain till 24 Hours after the other was sailed. Letters from Gibraltar of the 17th Instant say, the Spaniards had so much disabled their Guns by continual Firing, that out of 60 Pieces of Cannon, they had no more than 15 that remained serviceable. During the great Abatement of their Fire, the Garrison repaired the Old Mole, Willis's Battery, and all the other Parts of the Town which had suffered, made them as strong as ever, and had mounted again 57 Guns, which are as many as they have had at any Time. There had not been more than fifty of the Besieged killed since the Beginning of the Siege. The Garrison was in great Heart; and had but very few sick Men in the Hospital. The Spanish Army was so much diminished, that there did not remain 8000 effective Men. Their Trenches were not yet brought within Musket-Shot of the Lines of the Besieged, nor their Batteries near enough to make a Breach. By the Accounts of Deserters, the Spanish Officers impatiently expected Orders from the Court to raise the Siege.
