Lisbon, June 21, N. S. This Day was launched a Portuguele Man of War of 56 Guns, called Nossa Senhora de Alampadosa; the Court were present on this Occasion. Laft Week a Spanish Privateer attempting to go out of the Port of Aveiro after an Eng-lish Merchant Ship, was prevented by the Fort, and made to remain till 24 Hours after the other was failed. Letters from Gibraltar of the 17th Instant fay, the Spaniards had fo much difabled their Guns by continual Fireing, that out of oo Pieces of Cannon, they had no more than is that remained ferviceable. During the great Abatement of their Fire, the Garrison repaired the Old Mole, Willis's Battery, and all the other Parts of the Town which had fuffered, made them as ftrong as ever, and had mounted again 57 Guns, which are as many as they have had at any Time. There had not been more than fifty of the Befieged killed fince the Beginning of the Siege. The Gar-The Garrifon was in great Heart; and had but very few fick Men in the Holpital. The Spanish Army was fo much diminished, that there did not remain 8000 effective Men. Their Trenches were not yet brought within Musket-Shot of the Lines of the Belieged, nor their Batteries near enough to make a Breach. By the Accounts of Deferters, the Spanish Officers impatiently expected Orders from the Court to raile the Siege.
