St. James's, July 15.

THE following humble Address of the People call'd Quakers, has been presented to His Majesty by Mr. Joseph Wyeth, accompanied by a large Body of the said People, introduced by His Grace the Duke of Grafton Lord Chamberlain of His Majesty's Household.

To George the Second King of Great Britain, &c.

The humble Address of the People call'd Quakers.

Gracious Sovereign,

IT having pleased Almighty God, in whose Hand is the Breath of the greatest Monarch, to remove by Death our late gracious King thy Royal Father, an Affliction in which we thy dutiful Subjects deeply share, as sensible that his Reign was one continued Blessing to all his People, and in which we enjoy'd not only the Indulgences granted us in the Reigns of his Royal Predecessors, but also fresh Marks of his own Clemency and Goodness; we have therefore great and just Cause to condole the Loss of a Prince so gracious and beneficent. But when we consider that the merciful Hand of Divine Providence hath placed peaceably on the Throne a Son, the Successour of his Royal Virtues, (the Earnest whereof we beheld with Pleasure during the short Experience of thy prudent Administration when Regent) it is Cause sufficient to abate our Grief and allwage our Sorrow: And the Hopes we then conceiv'd are fully confirmed by thy gracious Declaration from the Throne, to make all thy Subjects happy and secure in the full Enjoyment of their Religious and Civil Rights.

Wherefore, Great Prince, we, thought a small Part of thy dutiful Subjects, humbly beg Leave to approach thy Royal Presence with sincere and hearty Congratulations on thy ascending the British Throne in perfect Tranquility, and to declare our entire Affection and dutiful Obedience to thy Royal Person and Government, as our Christian and peaceable Principle enjoyns. And we greatly hope thy Hand will be the happy Instrument to finish that good Work, begun by thy Royal Father, of calming and composing the Differences of Europe, and preventing the Calamities of War which were so lately threatned.

We also humbly beg Leave to express the joyful Sense impress'd upon our Minds of the Princely Virtues of our gracious Queen thy Royal Consort, and of the pleasing Prospect of your numerous and hopeful Issue, who whilst they are shining and illustrious Ornaments around the Throne; are valuable Pledges of the future Peace and Security of these Kingdoms.

May the Almighty and Allwise God shower down on thy Royal Head and Family His Divine as well as Temporal Blessings. May He by His Wisdom guide thee in thy Counsels, to the promoting of Religion and Virtue, the Support of the Protestant Cause in general, and the Good of all thy Subjects. And may the Weight and Care usually annex'd to a Crown, be lightned and made easy by the dutiful and cheerful Obedience of a great and free People.

Sign'd in Behalf of the said People, London, the 12th of the 5th Month called July, 1727.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to give the following most gracious Answer,

THIS dutiful and loyal Address is very acceptable to Me, and you may depend upon my Protection.

They afterwards waited on the Queen, and Mr. John Eccleston made the following Speech.

May it please our Gracious Queen,

AS we have been favoured with the Liberty of Access to our gracious King, to condole the Death of his Royal Father, to congratulate his Accession to the British Throne, and to render the Assurances of our Affection and and Fidelity to his Royal Person and Government :

We beg Leave with great Deference humbly to approach thy Royal Presence on the same solemn Occasions, which we now do with all the Affection and Regard due from dutiful and obedient Subjects.

Gracious Queen,

May thy Enjoyment of the Royal Dignity be long and happy, and may our present gracious King long possess the British Throne in Peace, till future Time and Maturity of Years shall transfer it in Safety to your Royal and hopeful Offspring, form'd and nurtur'd for Government by thy virtuous Care to be fit Examples to future Princes, a Blessing to late Posterity, and the effectual Security under Divine Providence of our present happy Constitution.

To which Her Majesty was pleas'd to give a very gracious Answer.

The following humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common-Council assembled, having been brought over from Ireland by Major William Aldrich, one of their Body, has been presented to His Majesty by his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord Lieutenant of His Majesty's Kingdom of Ireland, and His Majesty was pleas'd to receive the same very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common-Council assembled.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty's happy Accession to the Imperial Crown of these Kingdoms, and with all Humility presume to condole with your Majesty on the great and sudden Loss sustain'd by the Demise of our late most excellent Sovereign, who was graciously pleas'd to shew to our City signal Marks of his Royal Favour and Bounty.

Nothing could have moderated the extreme Sorrow which affected us upon this sad Occasion, but the Satisfaction we now receive in having a Prince of such illustrious Merit seated on his Throne; a Successour not only of his Crown, but of his Royal Virtues; and from whose experienced Goodness we promise ourselves all those invaluable Blessings which can be expected from a just and wise Administration.

The agreeable Prospect we have of the Security of our Religion, Laws, and Liberties, and of the Honour and Prosperity of your Kingdoms, under your Majesty's Reign, creates in us a Pleasure, which only can be increased, by reflecting, that the Number of your Royal Issue gives us full Assurance of the Continuance of our Happiness by a long Succession of Princes of your illustrious House to reign over us.

We are truly sensible, that it is not only our Duty, but our Interest, to devote our Lives and Fortunes to your Majesty's Service; since we cannot otherwise be secure of either, than by supporting your undoubted Right to the Crown, and the Establishment of it in your auspicious Family: And we shall, with the utmost Zeal, lay hold on all Opportunities of distinguishing ourselves, by making the most grateful Returns of Duty and Affection to your Sacred Majesty.

In Testimony whereof we have caused the Common Seal of the said City to be hereto affix'd, this 30th Day of June, 1727.

The following humble Address of the Presbyterian Ministers and Gentlemen of the North of Ireland, assembled in a General Meeting at Dungannon, has been presented to His Majesty by his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and His Majesty was pleas'd to receive the same very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Presbyterian Ministers and Gentlemen of the North of Ireland, assembled in a General Meeting at Dungannon, on the 22d Day of June, 1727.

WE your Majesty's most loyal and faithful Subjects, having received the surprizing and most afflicting Account of the Death of our late Sovereign, your Majesty's Royal Father, of glorious and blessed Memory, whose seasonable Accession to the Imperial Crown of these Realms filled the Hearts of all true Protestants with inexpressible Joy, and under whose wise, steady, and mild Government we enjoyed many inestimable Benefits, for which his Memory will be ever dear to us; do most humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majesty on this mournful Occasion, and to congratulate your most Excellent Majesty's Accession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors, which alone could relieve and support us under the overwhelming Sorrow wherewith our Hearts are filled on Account of the Loss of that Excellent Prince.

As we do with all Sincerity and Thankfulness acknowledge the Infinite Goodness and Mercy of God, in continuing to us the Protestant Succession in your most Serene House, as the Answer of many fervent Prayers; so we do, with perfect Unanimity, and in the firmest Manner, assure your Sacred Majesty of our unfeigned Affection and inviolable Loyalty to your Majesty's Person and Government; and that, according to that Duty to which we are solemnly bound, we will, to the utmost of our Power, and with the warmest Zeal, in our several Stations and Capacities, defend, support, and maintain your Majesty's undoubted Title to, and rightful Possion of the Crown, of these Realms, against an abjured Popish Pretender, and all other your Majesty's Enemies.

That

That Almighty God may pour down his best Blessings upon your Majesty's Person, your most Excellent Royal Consort, and illustrious Progeny; and grant unto your Majesty a long and prosperous Reign here on Earth over an obedient and faithful People; and in the World to come, a Crown of Eternal Glory; and continue to these Nations the invaluable Blessing of the Protestant Succession in your August and Serene House to latest Posterity, is the earnest Prayer of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most humble, most obedient, and most loyal Subjects and Servants.

Subscribed in Name, and at the Appointment of the General Meeting of Ministers and Gentlemen, &c.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Deputy-Recorder, Aldermen and Common-Council, together with the principal Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of Bridgewater, in the County of Somerset, has been presented to His Majesty by Thomas Palmer, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by George Dodington, Esq; His Majesty's Lieutenant of that County. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Deputy Recorder, Aldermen and Common-Council, together with the principal Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Bridgewater, in the County of Somerset.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

PERmit us, Great Sir, to deplore the Loss of our late generous and indulgent Sovereign your dearest Father, wakeful, wise, intrepid; but we are not Fatherless, your Majesty survives, possessed of his heroic Virtues, to charm your People to a willing Obedience.

The affectionate Regard your Majesty has expressed for their Civil and Religious Rights, commands the earliest Assurances of Loyalty and Affection, and cannot but spirit up a free People to vindicate your Majesty's undoubted Title to the Crown of these Realms with a Warmth becoming Britons, with a Zeal becoming Subjects, who have heard of your Bravery when you chose to hazard your Royal Person for the Liberties of Europe, who with no less Delight review the Prudence of your Administration, as an Earnest of those Blessings we more than hope for under your auspicious Reign.

With consummate Pleasure we behold your Majesty the Minister of Providence, exalting that illustrious Heroine your Royal Consort to so high a Pitch of Grandeur, a Crown equal to that she despis'd for the Sake of that Religion of which your Majesty is become the common Father.

That your Majesty's Reign may be long, peaceful and glorious; and that the Succession may be continued in your Royal House to latest Posterity, are the intense Desires of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most obedient and faithful Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses and Commonalty of the Burgh of Great Yarmouth, in the County of Norfolk, has been presented to His Majesty by the Honourable William Townshend, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Burgh of Great Yarmouth, in the County of Norfolk, in Common-Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE beg Leave to condole with your Majesty upon Occasion of the Death of your late Royal Father our Dread Sovereign, of glorious Memory, and humbly to present to your Majesty our sincere and hearty Congratulations on your happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors.

We have before us a Prospect of the greatest Satisfaction and Pleasure, whilst we see ourselves under the Government of a Prince ripen'd by Experience, and adorn'd with all the Royal Virtues necessary to make us a great and happy People. Your Majesty's Declaration to have taken a fixt Resolution to merit the Love of your Subjects, by continuing to them those valuable Blessings they enjoy as a free People, and the Pleasure you have the Goodness to express in the Vigour that has been exerted for the Defence of the Rights and Possessions of this Nation, call for our most grateful Acknowledgements, and has imprinted in our Hearts a steadfast Purpose at all Times to discharge our Duty to your Majesty, with that Zeal and Affection that becomes us to the Father of our Country, to the best of Sovereigns.

Given under our common Seal at Great Yarmouth aforesaid, this Fifth Day of July, in the First Year of your Majesty's Reign, and in the Year of our Lord 1727.

The following humble Address of the Lord-Lieutenant, and Deputy-Lieutenants of the County of Middlesex, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord William Powlett, accompanied by Thomas Woodcock, Robert Thornhill, John Ellis, Robert Gardner, Giles Earl, and George Vaughan, Esqrs. introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle Lord Lieutenant of the said County. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Lieutenant, and Deputy-Lieutenants of the County of Middlesex.

Permit us, most gracious Sovereign, in the humblest Manner, to condole with your Majesty on the Death of your late Royal Father our gracious King, of Glorious Memory, and at the same Time to express our hearty Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Accession to the Imperial Throne of your Royal Ancestors.

When we reflect on your wife and prudent Conduct whilst Regent, and on your late most gracious Declaration, we are well assured and rest satisfied, that our Religious and Civil Rights are secure to us under your Majesty's Administration; and when we behold the beautiful Prospect of your Royal Progeny, it is with the greatest Pleasure we think that our Posterity will share those precious and most valuable Blessings.

We take this first Opportunity to declare to your Majesty our unfeigned Zeal and Affection to your Royal Person and Government, and to the Person of our gracious Queen your Royal Consort, the happy Mother of a numerous Off-spring, who ought most highly to be valued and esteemed by us for her firm and steady Adherence to the Protestant Religion; and to assure your Majesty, that it shall be our constant Endeavour to defeat the Designs of your Enemies, (if any such there be); and to shew to the World, that your Majesty reigns as well in the Hearts as over the Fortunes and Persons of us,

Your Majesty's most dutiful, obedient, and loyal Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Lord Lieutenant and Deputy-Lieutenants of the Tower Hamlets, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Lonsdale Lord Lieutenant, and Sir Daniel Dollins Knight, Sir Nathanael Hodges Knight, Colonel Adam Williamson, Colonel Samuel Hannot, Colonel Thomas Exelbee, and Bastwick Johnson Esqrs; Deputy-Lieutenants, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Herbert, Lord of His Majesty's Bed-chamber in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Lieutenant, and Deputy-Lieutenants of the Tower-Hamlets.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Lieutenant and Deputy-Lieutenants of the Tower-Hamlets, humbly beg Leave, with the deepest Grief, to condole your Majesty on the Loss of our late Gracious Sovereign, of Glorious and Immortal Memory, and to tender at the same Time our sincere and inexpressible Joy upon your Majesty's Succession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors.

Your Majesty's Princely Virtues, with your firm Attachment to the Protestant Interest, and the Laws and Liberties of Great Britain, cannot fail of raising in all your Majesty's Subjects the greatest Assurance of all the Happiness, that a loyal dutiful People can receive from a Great, Wise and good Sovereign.

The early Courage and Bravery by which your Majesty distinguished your self in the Field in Defence of the Rights of Great Britain and the Liberties of Europe, and the Prudence, Mildness, and due Execution of the Laws which appeared in your Administration when Guardian, in the Absence of your late Royal Father, are undeniable Proofs that that Assurance is well founded.

The Power we are intrusted with under your Majesty's Authority, for the Security of your Person and Government, and the Peace and Safety of your Subjects, we are resolved to employ with the utmost Fidelity and Diligence, in the Defence of your Majesty's undoubted Right and Title to the Crown of these Realms, and the several Dominions thereunto belonging, and for all other the valuable Purposes for which that important Trust is reposed in us.

That Almighty God may give you always the Hearts of all your Subjects, protect your Majesty's Person, Royal Consort, and Family, and continue the Crown in your most illustrious House till Time shall be no more, are the hearty and incessant Desires (May it please your Majesty) of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of York, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir William Milner, Bart. and Edward Thomson, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Herbert Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of York.

May it please your Majesty,

WITH the greatest Humility we Congratulate your Majesty's Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms, as the only Relief to us under those Sorrows which the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign has occasioned; Sorrows which nothing but your Majesty, a Prince immediately descended from his Loins, and an Inheritor of his Royal Virtues, could in any Degree alleviate.

When we reflect on your Majesty's Wisdom and Conduct eminently conspicuous in private vate Life, on your constant Observance of our Laws, on your strict Regard to our Religion, on your paternal Care and Management of your own Royal Issue, and on your Prudence and Judgment with which you once conducted the Reins of this Government, there can be no Prospect too Glorious, no Blessings too Great, which we may not, which we do not assure ourselves the Enjoyment of, under your Majesty's auspicious Reign.

The Assurance which your Majesty has been graciously pleased in your Declaration to give your Subjects, of cultivating those Alliances and improving that great Work begun by your Majesty's late Royal Father, for the Honour, Interest and Security of your People, convinces us that our Trade, Possessions and Fortresses Abroad will be preserved to us, however uneasy the Enjoyment of them may be to Foreign Powers.

May your Majesty with your Royal Comfort long; very long continue to possess the Throne of your Ancestors and the Hearts of your People; and may your Majesty ever have Subjects as Loyal and Zealous for your Majesty's Service and Family as these of this your ancient City; and may these Kingdoms never want a Prince lineally descended from your Majesty.

In Testimony whereof we have hereunto caused our Common Seal to be put this First Day of July, in the First Year of the Reign of His most Sacred Majesty King George the Second, over Great Britain, &c.

The following humble Address of the Magistrates and Common-Council of the City of Glasgow, for themselves, and in Name of the whole Body and Inhabitants of the said City, has been presented to His Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Argyll and Greenwich, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget, Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty;

The humble Address of the Magistrates and Common-Council of the City of Glasgow, for themselves, and in Name of the whole Body and Inhabitants of the said City.

Most Dread and Gracious Sovereign;

AS the unexpected Death of our last most gracious Sovereign, of Glorious Memory; did in a most sensible Manner affect us; and fill our Hearts with the utmost Sorrow; so the happy Accession of your sacred Majesty to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, prevents these melancholly Apprehensions which must naturally arise in the Minds of all loyal Subjects on the Loss of so good and great a Prince.

That early Valour, of which your Majesty gave such distinguishing Proofs in Defence of the Protestant Religion and the Liberties of Europe, and those princely Endowments which have conspicuously appeared through all your Conduct, afford us the most pleasant Prospect of the greatest Happiness that loyal and faithful Subjects can enjoy under the Government of the best of Princes. And your Majesty's ascending the Throne in the present Situation of Affairs; seems to point out a Design of Providence to give your Majesty an Opportunity of displaying your consummate Wisdom, and all those Virtues so necessary in a British Monarch, whose Prerogative it is to hold the Balance and preserve the Peace of Europe.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our hearty and firm Adherence to your Person and Government, against all your Enemies whatsoever; and that we are as ready to venture our Lives and Fortunes; in Defence of your Majesty's just and unquestionable Right to rule over us, as we were of late Years at a very cloudy Time to give a Proof of our inviolable Attachment to the illustrious House of Hanover, which your Majesty was pleased to accept in such gracious Terms, as will do Honour to us and our latest Posterity.

That God may bless your Majesty, your Royal Consort our most gracious Queen, and your illustrious Offspring; that He may direct your Majesty's Counsels, and grant you a long and prosperous Reign over a loyal and obedient People; that He may disappoint all the Designs of your Enemies, and that the Crown may be ever continued in your Royal Family, is the hearty Prayer of

Your Majesty's most faithful, most loyal, and most devoted Subjects and Servants,

The Magistrates and Common-Council of the City of Glasgow.

Signed in our Presence, in our Name, and at our Appointment by Glasgow, June 28, 1727. John Stark, Provost.

The following humble Address of the Rector; Dean of Faculty, Principal; Professors, and Masters of the Marischall University of Aberdeen, has been presented to His Majesty by Mr. Thomas Blackwell; Junr. introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Herbert Lord of His Majesty's Bed-chamber in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously, and Mr. Blackwell had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty George the Second, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c.

The

The most humble Address of the Rector, Dean of Faculty, Principal, Professors, and Masters of His Majesty's Marischall University of Aberdeen.

May it please your Majesty,

WE the Rector, Dean of Faculty, Principal, Professors and Masters of your Majesty's Marischall University of Aberdeen, being deeply sensible of the invaluable Blessings these your Dominions have enjoyed under the happy Reign of His late Majesty your Royal Father, of ever Glorious Memory, should account the Death of so great a Prince, the best of Kings, an irreparable and insupportable Loss, had we not the glorious and certain Prospect that all our most valuable Privileges, Religious and Civil, are secured to us by your Majesty's auspicious Accession to the Throne, your sacred Majesty being endued with all those princely Virtues which so conspicuously adorned the Life and Reign of your Royal Father,

Your Majesty's thorough Knowledge of our happy Constitution and true Interest of these Kingdoms, your firm Attachment to the Protestant Interest and Liberties of Europe, in Defence of which your Majesty made so glorious and early Appearances, cannot but make us, with the most ardent Affection, profound Duty, and sincere Loyalty, congratulate your Royal Majesty upon your peaceable Possession of the Throne of your Ancestors.

As we are the College of all others in the Kingdom who have the greatest Honour of being under your Majesty's immediate Patronage, the whole Members thereof, except two, being of your Royal Presentation, we should have acted a most unaccountable Part, had we not laid hold on the very first Notice of your Majesty's Accession to the Throne, humbly to assure your Majesty, of our most sincere Purpose and fixed Resolution to advance the most loyal and dutiful Principles from Time to Time among the Youth under our Inspection; and in order thereto, that we shall improve all Opportunities in the most exemplary Manner of expressing the greatest Zeal and Affection in our several Capacities for your Majesty's Person and Government.

May the Almighty God, by whom Kings reign; eminently bless and long preserve your most excellent Majesty over a loyal and happy People; may He prosper your Arms with those of your Allies; may the first Fruits of your Reign be a glorious and honourable Peace; and may all the Designs of your Majesty's Enemies, the Enemies of our Religion and Liberties, be forever disappointed: May God greatly bless and long preserve your Royal Consort the Queen's Majesty, whose extraordinary Zeal for the Protestant Religion, and all other Royal Virtues, have justly intitled her to the greatest and most lasting Honours; May God signally bless his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and all your Royal Family; and that it ever may be the Blessing and Glory of these Realms to have a Prince of your August Family to rule over them, is, and ever shall be the hearty Prayers of,

May it please your Majesty,
Your Majesty's most faithful, loyal and obedient Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Portreeve, and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Honiton, in the County of Devon, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir William Pole, Bart. and Sir William Yonge, Knight of the Bath, their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Herbert Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Portreeve, and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Honiton in the County of Devon.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Portreeve and other chief Inhabitants of the said Borough, beg leave most humbly to congratulate your Majesty upon your happy and peaceable Succession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors, and to condole with your Majesty on the great Loss we sustained by the Death of your Royal Father, which nothing could repair but the certain Prospect we have of enjoying our Religion and Liberties, Peace and Prosperity, under your Majesty's auspicious Government.

It is with the utmost Joy we see the Protestant Succession in the illustrious House of Hanover at length take Place without the least Murmur or Opposition, after the many Struggles of a Protestant and free People. And we are convinced it must be the highest Ingratitude, if after your Majesty's Declaration in Council, and your most gracious Speech from the Throne, your Subjects should be wanting in the warmest Return of Duty and Affection to so good and gracious a Prince.

The early Zeal and distinguish'd Valour with which your Majesty signaliz'd your self in the common Cause of Europe; the inimitable Virtues and remarkable Affection for the Protestant Religion, with which your Royal Consort and our gracious Queen has adorn'd her illustrious Character; the numerous and hopeful Progeny with which it hath pleased Heaven to bless your Royal House; as they must entirely defeat the Hopes of all your Majesty's and our Enemies, and as they promise the Continuance of our present Felicity to latest Generations; so they require the most dutiful and unfeigned Returns of Loyalty and Affection from a grateful and happy People.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Jurats, Commonalty, Freemen, Freeholders, Gentlemen and principal Inhabitants of the Town and Port of Folkestone, in the County

County of Kent, has been presented to His Majesty by John Jordan, Jun. Esq; Mayor of the said Town, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Dorset Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously, and Mr. Jordan had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty, The humble Address of the Mayor, Jurats, Commonalty, Freemen, Freeholders, Gentlemen and principal Inhabitants of the Town and Port of Folkestone, in the County of Kent.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE beg Leave, with Hearts full of Duty and Loyalty, to congratulate your Majesty's peaceable Accession to the Throne of your late Royal Father, for whose sudden Death we desire to condole with your Majesty.

Your Majesty's Entrance on your Government is accompanied with a Joy so Universal, as can be derived from nothing but a thorough Perswasion of all your faithful Subjects, that your Majesty is adorned with all those Virtues which can make us a happy People.

It is this Consideration which will raise in us all a firm Resolution of shewing, upon all Occasions, a fixed and affectionate Loyalty to your Majesty; and to enable you, thro' the Love of your People, to appear, to the Nations round about you, equal to the Greatest of your Royal Predecessors.

That your Majesty, and your Royal Consort our Gracious Queen, may long enjoy together a Reign truly happy and glorious in the Hearts of your People; and that you and we may be blessed by a long Line of Royal Issue, to whom the Crown of these Kingdoms may in God's due Time descend, are our sincere and constant Wishes.
