From Tuesday August 29. to Saturday September 2. 1727.

St. James's, September 2.

THE following humble Address of the Lord-Lieutenant, Custos Rotulorum, High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Deputy Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen and Freeholders, assembled at the Assizes held at Stafford for the County of Stafford, upon Tuesday the 8th Day of August, in the first Year of His Majesty's Reign, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Townshend one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, in the Absence of the Right Honourable the Earl Ferrers Lord-Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of the said County. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

Permit us to take this first Opportunity of a General Meeting in this County, to approach your Majesty's Royal Presence with Expressions of our deep Concern for the sudden Loss of our late most gracious Sovereign your Royal Father, and likewise to congratulate your Majesty on your peaceable and quiet Accession to the Imperial Crowns of these Realms.

We were revived from our Concern for the Loss of your Royal Father, with your Majesty's Assurances from the Throne, stedfastly to maintain our Laws, Religion, Rights and Privileges, and to promote your Peoples Good: And when we remember your Majesty's mild and gentle Administration while you had but a temporal Regency over us, we can't but express our intire Confidence and firm Assurance, that you will always esteem the Love of your People the best Support of your Government, and that we shall become a great and happy People under your Majesty's auspicious Reign, and see our Trade flourish, the National Debts gradually paid off, our Religion protected and defended, and Peace and Tranquility established in all your Majesty's Dominions.

And that these valuable Blessings may be had and perpetuated to our latest Posterity, may it please Almighty God to grant your Majesty and your Royal Consort a long and happy Reign over us; and that a Prince of your august Issue, equal to your self in Virtue and Magnanimity, may always sit on the Throne of these Realms; and that you and they may assert and maintain the undoubted Regal Rights at home and abroad, as well as the Rights of your Majesty's loyal Subjects, against all Factions and Opposers whatsoever.

Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

The following humble Address of the High Sheriff, Gentlemen of the Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace and Gentlemen, assembled at the Assizes held for the County of Norfolk the 7th Day of August, 1727, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Townshend, one of His Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, and Lord-Lieutenant of the said County. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, being sensible of the many Blessings which we enjoyed under the Government of your late Royal Father, were truly afflicted at a Loss which nothing but your Succession to his Crown and Virtues could compensate. Every Action of your Life, and every Declaration which your Majesty hath been pleased to make to your People, give us such unquestionable Assurances of Happiness under so great and just a King, that all the Miseries which the God of Heaven the Punisher of Ingratitude can inflict, ought to be our Portion, should we not do our utmost to make your Crown sit easy upon your sacred Head.

For your Sake, and for our own, may you ever, as at present, continue happy in your Royal Consort, and bless'd in your numerous and illustrious Issue; and may no Disturbances ever molest the Tranquility of your Royal Mind.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that if any unforeseen Accident should call for an extraordinary Assistance from your Subjects, we shall be always ready to sacrifice our Lives and Fortunes for the Service of your Majesty, to whom under God we owe the happy Enjoyment of all that is dear to us.

[Price Three Pence.]

The

The following humble Address of the Constables and principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Lewes, in the County of Sussex, has been presented to His Majesty by Thomas Pelham, Esq, and Sir Nicholas Pelham, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Herbert Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

My it please your Majesty,

THE great Loss we were surprized with by the sudden Death of your Royal Father our late most gracious Sovereign, would have been insupportable, had not Divine Providence supplied that Loss to us by your Majesty's happy and quiet Accession to the Imperial Throne of your Ancestors, on which we beg Leave with Hearts full of Joy to congratulate your Majesty.

When we consider the early Proofs your Majesty hath given of your Concern for the Protestant Cause, in Defence of which you have signalized yourself by your Valour and Intrepidity in Foreign Countries; and when we call to our Minds the Wisdom, Justice, and Care your Majesty hath shewn amongst us at the Time the Government was placed in your Hands, we cannot but be thoroughly convinced that a Prince, distinguished by so many eminent Virtues, was formed to make this Nation happy.

It is in the sincerest Manner we approach your Majesty with the utmost Assurances of our Zeal, Duty and Affection for your Majesty's Person and Government; and do humbly offer our Lives and Fortunes in the Support thereof, against any Attempt whatsoever.

That the Divine Providence which hath blessed the Beginning of your Majesty's Reign with the happy Prospect of a general Peace, may enable you to accomplish that great Work; and that your Majesty's Life may be long and prosperous; and that the Crown of these Realms may descend to your Royal Issue, and continue in your Family for ever, shall be the constant Prayers of,

Your Majesty's most dutiful
and obedient Subjects.

The following humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Surrey, met at the Town of Kingston upon Thames, at the Assizes held there for the said County, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Onslow and Sir Thomas Steavens, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Chesterfield Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Permit us, most gracious Sovereign, among the Crowds of your most dutiful Subjects, to pay this grateful Tribute of our most sincere Concern and Sorrow for the Death of your Royal Father; a Loss insupportable, had not Divine Providence supplied us in your sacred Person, with a Prince born for Empire, the Pride and Glory of your People and the Delight of Mankind.

Your early and affectionate Declaration, that you would maintain your happy Subjects in those invaluable Blessings, their Religion, Laws and Liberties, demands of us the Perfection of Duty and Loyalty; and we do in Return assure your Majesty, that we will, in our several Stations, behave ourselves as becomes the best of Subjects to the best of Kings.

It is with the greatest Pleasure we behold your Majesty and the Nation blessed with a truly vertuous and pious Queen, who gives a Lustre to the Crown she wears, and is the Ornament of the Religion she professes: A numerous and Royal Progeny, descended from such Parents, and educated under such shining and glorious Examples, must perpetuate Happiness to these Kingdoms. Charmed with this beauteous Prospect, give us Leave, most Gracious Sovereign, to pray that your Majesty's Reign may be long and prosperous, and that succeeding Generations may flourish under the Protection of your most illustrious family.

The following humble Address of the Lord Bishop of Bath and Wells, and the Dean and Chapter, the Chancellour and Archdeacons, together with the whole Body of the Clergy throughout their several Deanaries, joyning in the same, has been presented to His Majesty by the Reverend Dr. Brailsford, Dean of Wells, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Chesterfield, Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty George, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop of Bath and Wells, the Dean and Chapter, the Chancellour, and Archdeacons, and the rest of the Clergy of the Diocese, most humbly beg Leave to approach your Majesty, and with Hearts full of Duty and Affection, to express the great Concern we are under for the Loss of our late gracious Sovereign, whom Providence hath removed from us; and also the Joy and Satisfaction we have in beholding your Majesty, his Son and Successour, placed by the same Providence in his Stead, and wearing the Crown of your Ancestors in Peace and Prosperity. Happy in your own Virtues, and happy in those of your Royal Consort, who has shared the Blessing, and is joynd with you in the Care of a numerous hopeful Issue, the lasting Supports of your Glory, and the sure Pledges of our Happiness. Your Majesty hath been hitherto instructing your Descendants by your own Example, ample, how they are to obey their Father and their Prince, and you are now setting them a Pattern of good Government, which, we pray God, you may long live to finish, and they continue for many Generations to copy after, by pursuing all those wise and gracious Methods that conduce to the making a Prince truly great, and his People flourishing and prosperous.

Accept, Great Sir, these our most sincere Wishes for your Majesty and Royal Family. These, Sir, are the assured Hopes which we justly conceive for ourselves and Posterity, when we see the Throne filled by a Prince, who, not having received his Birth from our Country, has done us the much greater Honour of making it his own, by a professed Love and Esteem for it, after a long Experience and Acquaintance with its People and Constitution; and thereby gained a Title to our Duty and Affection, antecedent to what he now justly claims to our Allegiance.

If any Thing can add Strength to the Obligations Christian Subjects are under from their Religion to render your Majesty the highest Honour and the strictest Obedience, these Duties must be more strongly bound upon the whole Body of the Clergy, by the gracious Assurances your Majesty has been pleased to give of particular Favour and Encouragement to the established Church, for which every true Member of it, will, we hope, be sure to make the most Christian and dutiful Return to your Majesty and your Royal Family, by cherishing in his Heart, as the Principle of his Obedience, that steady and faithful Loyalty which the Constitution of our Church is so careful to enjoin in her Doctrines, and constantly expresses in her Devotions.

The following humble Address of the Provoost, Magistrates, and Town-Council of the Burgh of Tayne, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Ross, and Robert Monroe, Esq; introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, being deeply affected with the sudden and unexpected Death of our late most gracious Sovereign your Majesty's Royal Father, of ever glorious Memory, do beg Leave to embrace this first Opportunity (in the midst of our Grief) to testify the great and inexpressible Joy we have to see that Loss so happily repaired to us by your Majesty's Accession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors; by which we find ourselves fully secured in the Enjoyment of our Holy Religion, Laws and Liberties, not only by your Majesty's Royal Declaration, but by the Experience we have already had (during the Reign of your late Royal Father) of your Majesty's most prudent and mild Administration.

And when we reflect on the early Valour your Majesty shewed, as a glorious Testimony, of your true Affection to the British Cause, we have the pleasing Prospect before our Eyes (at this critical Conjunction) of your Majesty's Negotiations with the Princes of Europe being crowned with a safe, honourable and lasting Peace.

These princely Virtues which so eminently shine in your Majesty, will effectually tie the Hearts of all your faithful Subjects to your sacred Person and Government, and establish your Throne on that sure Foundation; and all your Nations (having a true Sense of their Happiness under your Majesty's auspicious Reign) will join with us in sending up fervent Prayers to the King of Kings for the Preservation of so valuable a Life; and that He may pour down His choicest Blessings on your Majesty's Royal (and truly Protestant) Consort our most gracious Queen; on his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and all your Royal Offspring; and so increase them, that there may not be wanting, to our latest Posterity, one of your Majesty's Royal Line to fill the Imperial Crown of this Realm, who, following your great Example, may make them as happy as we are now; this shall ever be the hearty and constant Prayer of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful, most dutiful, most loyal and most obedient Subjects,

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the ancient and loyal Borough of Berwick upon Tweed, has been presented to His Majesty by the Hon. William Kerr, Esq; introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

THE Demise of our late most gracious Sovereign your dearest Father, of ever illustrious and glorious Memory, having affected our Hearts with a Sense of the deepest Sorrow, and with that awful astonishing Silence that sudden and surprizing Strokes occasion, we beg Leave to break through the Pressures of our Grief to condole so great a Loss, and to lose ourselves in the Admiration of the Glories of a Reign, filled up with forming and compassing of Designs the most noble and generous, the most wisely laid down, and the most happily pursued for the Good of Mankind.

The holding the Balance of Europe, (the proper Province of our British Kings) the studying the Relief of the Distressed of the Protestant Religion abroad, and the Establishment of it at home; the bearing down the Ani-

Animosities, and compromising the Differences amongst Foreign States threatening to set Europe in Flames; the preserving the darling Liberties of the Subjects, their Trade, and the just Possessions of the Crown, and the meditating the lasting Security of all these to his expiring Breath, will make King George, now lamented, shine in History amongst the best and greatest of our Kings, and transmit his Name fragrant to the latest Posterity.

We at the same Time having a due Sense of the Divine Goodness, do with thankful Hearts rejoyce to see your Majesty fill and adorn the Throne, bless'd with the same Spirit and Disposition of doing Good.

What Joy can fill our Hearts equal to that of seeing our Blessings continued to us in the Person of King George the Second; a Prince zealously affected to the Protestant Religion; who has given early Proofs in the Field of an intrepid Courage, and at Home in his Regency of a steady and prudent Conduct; whose consummate Wisdom and Goodness directs him to study to settle the Peace and Tranquility of Europe, as a Work that seems reserv'd for one of the Glories of his Reign; and whose paternal Affection moves him to exercise his most peculiar Care to maintain and secure the Liberties and Properties, the Civil and Religious Rights of all his People, and in every Respect to promote their Prosperity and Happiness.

The happy Prospect, Great Sir, your high Princely Qualities give us of a glorious Administration, receives a great Accession by the Blessing Heaven has bestow'd upon your Majesty in our gracious Queen Caroline your Royal Consort, the Solace of your Cares, fitted by her high Station and bright Example to render Religion and Virtue as fashionable as they are lovely; who having been from her tender Years the Admiration of the present Age, will be set down by good Princesses as their inimitable Pattern in all future ones.

May your Majesty's Reign be long and prosperous, may it be fill'd up with Blessings to all the Protestant Interest; may you reign in the Hearts of a grateful obedient People made happy by your Government; may our gracious Queen be always their Delight; and may your numerous Royal Progeny, the Hopes of the present Times, be for ever the descending increasing Glory and Happiness of these Nations.

Given under the Seal of our Borough, this 19th Day of July, 1727.

The following humble Address of the Magistrates and Council of the Town of Dunbar, has been presented to His Majesty by ----- Gockburn, Esq; introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleas'd to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

May it please your Majesty,

THE Death of our late most gracious Sovereign, who was the Father of his People, and by a just and mild Administration reigned in their Hearts and Affections, was a Matter of the greatest Concern and Surprise to us his faithful Subjects; but the happy Accession of your Majesty to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, serv'd at the same Time to calm our Minds, and to moderate our Grief, being fully perswaded that what we have lost in his late Majesty, will be fully made up to us by his Royal Successour; and that your Majesty will be no less the indulgent Father of your People, and the Protector of their Religion, Laws and Liberties, and of the common Liberties of Europe.

The whole Conduct of your Majesty hitherto gives us full Assurance of all this, which your late most gracious Declaration only confirms; wherefore nothing remains to us, but to wish Health, long Life, and a happy Reign to your Majesty, over a loyal and dutiful People; and to do every thing in our Power for the Support of your Majesty and your Government, which shall always be the ardent Desire, and sincere Endeavour of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most dutiful
and loyal Subjects.

Dunbar, July 3, 1727.

The following humble Address of the Borough of Cullen, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Finlater and Seafield, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Chesterfield Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleas'd to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Magistrates, Council and Inhabitants of the Borough of Cullen, beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon your peaceable and happy Accession to the Throne of these Realms; and give Thanks to God, that when He took our late most gracious Sovereign from us, for whose Memory we have the greatest Regard, He at the same Time has been pleas'd to give this Kingdom a Prospect of Flourishing under a Prince, who is as desirous as he is able to make us great and happy.

We have the most absolute Dependence upon your Majesty's gracious Declaration in Council, and can have no Doubt but our Civil and Ecclesiastick Rights and Privileges will be safe under a Prince whose Throne is established upon Liberty, whose Valour and Conduct is able to maintain and defend it against all Attacks of our Enemies; whose Knowledge of our Constitution, Laws and Customs, makes him fit and equal to the Charge of Government; and whose known Pleasure and Inclination is to have his Subjects a free and happy People.

When we reflect upon the Blessing your People must enjoy under such a Prince, we cannot doubt but they will all venture their Lives

Lives and Fortunes in Defence of your Majesty's just Title to the Crown, which is so necessarily connected with their own Freedom and Happiness; our Hearts and Hands shall never be wanting to support it.

That your Majesty may have a long, glorious and peaceable Reign over an obedient and dutiful People; and that you may late transmit the Crown to your Posterity, upon whose Heads may it ever continue, is the earnest Prayer of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most loyal, most dutiful, and most obedient Subjects and Servants.

The following humble Address of the Provost, Baillies and Council of the Burgh of Ayr, has been presented to His Majesty by William Stuart Esq; introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Loudoun, Lord-Lieutenant of the Shire of Ayr. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

May it please your Majesty,

WE should be strangely insensible, if we did not bear a Part in the universal Mourning for the Death of our most gracious Sovereign your Majesty's Royal Father, under whose auspicious Government the Enjoyment of our sacred and civil Rights was inviolable.

The withdrawing so great and publick a Blessing hath made such a just Impression on us, as nothing less than your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors could support us.

We adore the Divine Goodness which raised up the late glorious King William, of immortal Memory, to rescue us from Popery and arbitrary Power, and at last to render our Security against these perpetual, by procuring an Entail of the Crown on your most illustrious Family.

It is with inexpressible Pleasure and Satisfaction we now behold the Throne so well supplied by a Monarch, to whom the Royal Qualities, which are the Study and Attainment of other Princes, are natural.

The wise Conduct, the generous Disposition to maintain and establish Peace in your Dominions, and through Europe, the Foundation whereof was so successfully laid by your Royal Father; the known tender Regard for Religion and all the Interests of your People, which shine with a peculiar Lustre in your Majesty; your being bless'd of Heaven with a Royal Consort of consummated Virtue and eminent Piety, and an exceeding hopeful Progeny; do agreeably entertain us with a most assured Expectation of the Continuance, and Increase of all our valuable Blessings, and an endless Train of Happiness even to latest Posterity.

We cannot but with joyful Transports of Soul congratulate your Majesty's peaceful Accession to the Imperial Crown of these your Kingdoms, most humbly intreating your gracious Acceptance of the fullest Assistance we are capable to give of our Readiness to maintain and defend your sacred Person and Government with our Lives and Fortunes against all your Enemies, solemnly declaring our unalterable Adherence to the Succession of the Crown, as established in your Royal Family.

That the Virtues of your great Dignity and sacred Trust may ever increase, that your Kingdoms may flourish, and Religion be their greatest Glory under your benign Influence, that your Majesty may far exceed even your Royal Predecessors in Greatness and Honour; that your loyal Subjects may be happy in the long Life of your Majesty and Royal Consort our Gracious Queen; that there may never be wanting a Prince of your Family to sway the Scepter, worthy of his illustrious Descent, and that all the Royal Issue may be publick Blessings, is the sincere and fervent Prayer of;

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most humble, most loyal, most faithful, and most obedient Subjects and Servants,

The Provost, Baillies, and Council of your Burgh of Ayr.

Sign'd in their Name and by their Appointment, by J. Montgomerie, Provost.

The following humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town-Council of the City of St. Andrews, has been presented to His Majesty by Major Areskine, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty, in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

May it please your Majesty,

WE, among the rest of your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, most humbly intreat your Majesty's Permission to express our great Concern for the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign, and to congratulate your Majesty upon your Accession to the Throne of these Realms.

Your Majesty's inherent Royal Virtues, your Declaration to your Privy Council, and your most gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament, must fill our Hearts with the most comfortable and greatest Expectations of Happiness under your Majesty's Reign, that any People can possibly enjoy; and must give us firm Assurance, that your Majesty will fully repair to us the Loss of your Royal Predecessor.

When we reflect upon these great Blessings we are to enjoy under your Majesty, and when we have the Prospect of the Continuance of them to our latest Posterity in your Royal and numerous Issue, we must beg Leave, with Hearts full of the greatest Duty, Love and Gratitude, to pray that the Almighty ry God may bless your Majesty with Health, long Life, and a prosperous Reign.

May your Royal Consort the Queen, the Prince of Wales, and all your Royal Offspring, be a Comfort and Delight to your Majesty, and an everlasting Blessing to your People.

As these are our fervent Prayers, so we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that you may depend upon our most sincere and hearty Endeavours to support your Sacred Person and Government; and that we, upon all Occasions, will give the strongest Testimony of our being,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most dutiful,
loyal, and faithful Subjects and Servants,

The Provost, Magistrates and Council of your City of St. Andrews.

Signed in their Name, and by their Appointment, William Douglas, Provost.

The following humble Address of the Magistrates and Council of the Town of Haddington, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Tweeddale, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord William Manners Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
Most Gracious Sovereign,

AMong the many who approach your Royal Presence, permit us, great Sir, to congratulate your Royal Majesty upon your happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, the only Blessing that could alleviate our Grief for the Death of our late most gracious King.

Your Majesty's early and renowned Valour in Defence of the common Liberties of Europe; your mild Administration, when for a small Space the Reins of Government were put in your Hands; your intire Love to the British Nation, joined with the exalted and known Piety of your Royal Consort our most gracious Queen, are Virtues only to be admired, but we never can set a just Value upon them.

So all that is left us to do, is, to assure your Majesty of our firm and constant Obedience to your Majesty's Government and Laws, and to wish you a long, happy and peaceable Reign over a loyal and dutiful People.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Justices of the Peace, Burgesses, and other the Gentlemen and principal Inhabitants of the Corporation of Southmolton, in the County of Devon, has been presented to His Majesty by Samuel Cruwys, Esq; Deputy Recorder of the said Corporation, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord William Manners Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

YOUR Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Justices of the Peace, Burgesses, Gentlemen, and principal Inhabitants of the Corporation of Southmolton, do humbly presume to approach your Sacred Person, to condole for the Loss of their late most gracious Sovereign (your Royal Father) the Prince and Father of his Country.

And that your Majesty would be pleased to accept of their Congratulation on your Majesty's Accession to the Throne of Great Britain.

May your Majesty's Reign (begun in a Time of Peace) be always prosperous: May Truth and Justice, Learning and Virtue, flourish under your Majesty's Administration: May there be never wanting Issue of your Majesty and your Royal Consort, (endowed with your and her Royal Vertues) to continue to Posterity the Blessings of a Government founded on the Laws (the Birth-Right of the People) and the Maintenance and Support of their Religious and Civil Rights and Liberties.

The following humble Address of the Lord Provost, Bailies, and Town Council of the Burgh of Bruntisland, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Rothes Lord Lieutenant of the Shire of Fife, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most loyal and faithful Subjects, take Occasion to express the Concern we were under upon the unexpected News of the Death of your Royal Father, under whom, and by whose prudent Management, we had the Happiness to enjoy Peace and Tranquility at Home.

At the same Time it is Matter of great Pleasure to us, that so great a Prince is so worthily represented by one, under whom, by God's Blessing, we may expect all the Fruits of a great and glorious Reign. Your Majesty's Wisdom, Moderation and Firmness having conspicuously appeared in the Passages of your Life hitherto: Blessed be God, that we have in your Majesty a Prince who has such a Protestant Heart, Courage to stand by so good a Cause, a Royal Consort ready to give Countenance, Life and Vigour to your Majesty's Undertakings, and one who is the Mother of a hopeful and numerous Issue.

It is our most sincere and hearty Resolutions, even to the Expence of all that is most dear and valuable to us, to stand by your Majesty against a Popish Pretender to the Crown of these Realms, and against all others your Majesty's open or secret Enemies or their Abettors.

May God long preserve your Majesty, and render you happy in your Subjects; and let them continue to be happy under the auspicious Reign of the best of Princes.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses of the ancient Corporation of Carnarvon, has been presented to His Majesty by Thomas Wyn, Esq; introduced ted by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, (though very sensibly affected at the Death of your Royal Father) humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on your peaceable Accession to the Imperial Crown of these Realms; and this Nation, on the Felicity and Blessings we promise ourselves under your Majesty's most auspicious Reign.

We cannot, without Transports, express our just and grateful Sense of the first Declaration of your Royal Mind in Parliament. Your tender Regard and Affection for the Liberties and Happiness of your People; your great Esteem for the Love and Affection of your Subjects, your paternal Care for our most excellent Constitution; and your ardent Desire of securing the full Enjoyment of our Religion and Civil Rights, joined with your Conduct and Experience, comprehend all the Royal Qualities that can be desired in a Sovereign. When they are so manifestly united in your Royal Person, we think it our indispensable Duty to make all suitable Returns of Zeal and Affection, inviolable Fidelity and Attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government.

Your faithful Britons rejoice in a very particular Manner, to observe the Virtues and distinguishing Qualities that they so justly admired in their Prince, shine more conspicuous in their Sovereign.

Richmond, August 30.

This Day the Honourable Thomas Townshend, Esq; one of the Representatives of the University of Cambridge in the ensuing Parliament, attended by Mr. Simpson one of the Squire Beadles of the said University, waited on the King, in his Academical Habit, and in the Name of that University presented to His Majesty a Book of Verses composed by the Members of the said University, upon the Occasion of the Death of the late King and his present Majesty's Succession to the Throne. Which His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously, and they had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.
