St. James's, September 12.

THE following humble Addresses having been transmitted to his Excellency the Lord Carteret, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, have by him been presented to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive them very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

May it please your Sacred Majesty,
WE the High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Grand-Jury, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Dublin, at a General Quarter Sessions of the Peace held at Kilmainham, the 13th Day of July, 1727, humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majesty on the Death of his late Majesty, of glorious Memory, and at the same time to express our Joy on your happy Accession to the Imperial Crown of these Realms.

Your Majesty, at the Hazard of your Royal Person, has long since convinced the World of the Regard you have to the Protestant Religion and to the Welfare of Europe; and your Subjects must with the utmost Gratitude acknowledge, that during the Time you ruled over us in your late Royal Father's Life, you were pleased to give us undeniable Proof, that you had nothing more at Heart than the Welfare and Happiness of your People: From hence it is that your Subjects rest assured that they shall, during your auspicious Reign, enjoy every Blessing that flows from consummate Wisdom and experienced Goodness.

We on our Parts do with the greatest Truth and Zeal beg Leave to make a Tender of our Duty to your Majesty, and to assure your Majesty, that we shall with the greatest Readiness devote our Lives and Fortunes in the Defence of your Person and Government; being truly sensible how much our Happiness, and the Happiness of our Posterity, depend on our being govern'd by your Majesty and your Royal Issue.

To the King.

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Catherlogh in Ireland, signed the First of August, 1727, at the Summer Assizes held in Carlow, for the said County.

S I R,

WE your Majesty's faithful Subjects, now first generally assembled since the Demise of our late gracious Sovereign, and the Accession of your Majesty to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors, humbly beg Permission to present our Condolance and Congratulation on those great Occasions.

Your Majesty's pious Expressions of filial Grief, are to us an Example not to resist and suppress, but to indulge and declare our reasonable Sorrows for so publick and unexpected a Calamity as the Death of our Country's loving Father, the World's great Benefactor, whose unwearied Endeavours, successful Influences, and unparalell'd Fatigues at the last Period of Life, for the Welfare and Glory of these Kingdoms, and Peace of Europe, must render his Memory honour'd and precious, where-ever Gratitude shall be found among Men.

Though these Reflexions imprint in our Minds the deepest Concern, yet we cannot but be truly sensible of our Safety and Happiness in your Majesty's immediate and peaceful Succession to the Imperial Throne of these Realms. This peculiar Instance of Divine Protection has intirely dissipated all those Apprehensions which naturally spring from the Decease of a great and good Monarch, and has so amply repaired the Loss, that with the utmost Sincerity we do assure your Majesty, our Satisfaction and Joy in your Reign are without Mixture of Doubts or Fears.

For what in Reason may we not promise ourselves from the auspicious Government of a Prince, who has shin'd and distinguish'd himself in War and Peace, in Ruling and Obeying, and has given many repeated Proofs of true Piety and Love to our happy Constitution in Church and State? And what may we not surely expect from your Majesty's most gracious Declaration in Council, and Speeches in Parliament, since the Credit of Assurances from your Throne has been happily restored, and we are confident will ever be inviolably maintain'd in your Royal Family.

Induc'd by such mighty Encouragements, and countenanc'd by the full Streams of Addresses universally flowing from Fountains of pure pure Loyalty and Duty, we with all Humility approach your Majesty, in the most solemn Manner laying at your Feet our intire Faith and Allegiance, and promising to your most sacred Person and Family a no less steady Attachment and affectionate Zeal, than Ireland eminently excell'd in for the House of Hanover, both before and since your Royal Father's most providential Accession to the Crown.

May Almighty God, by whom Kings and Queens reign, protect and prosper your most Excellent Majesty, your most illustrious Consort, (in whom all good Protestants justly glory) and your most virtuous Progeny, that through You and Them our Religion, our Laws and our Liberties, may be preserv'd and continued to us and our latestt Posterity.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Lord-Lieutenant, the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Limerick, the Right Honourable the Lord Carberry, Gentlemen of the Grand-Jury, Justices of the Peace, Clergymen and Freeholders of the County of Limerick, at a General Assizes held at St. Francis's-Abby, in and for the said County, the First Day of August, 1727.

WE beg Leave, with Hearts full of Sorrow on this melancholly Occasion, to approach your Royal presence, and express our Concern and Condolance with your Majesty upon the Death of your Royal Father, our King and common Father, of ever glorious Memory. This Day permits us not to pass over in Silence the inestimable Gift of Liberty we have received from him; and ever memorable be this Day, which affords us also this Opportunity of congratulating your Majesty's Accession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors.

Our Joy upon this Occasion, we assure your Majesty, is but faintly expressed in Words.

The short Time you had the Reins of Power committed to your Direction, gave us a pleasing Taste of that Happiness which we shall now more fully enjoy under your wise Administration.

Your Majesty's early Declaration in Favour of our Religion and Liberties, hath established our Hopes. But when we observe your Princely Word given as a Pledge to us for these great Blessings, we think ourselves in all Duty and Gratitude obliged to assure your Majesty, that our Lives and Fortunes are and shall be always ready to be employed in the glorious Support of your Majesty; and that we will maintain the Honour and Dignity of your Royal Person, against all Persons whatsoever who dare declare themselves your Enemies.

The pleasing Prospect of a numerous Issue by your Royal Consort, whose private Vertues have long since deserved a Diadem, gives us full Assurances, that we shall transmit to our Posterity the Blessings which we enjoy under your Majesty's Reign: We shall set ourselves as Examples of Obedience to our Children.

May your Majesty's glorious Reign, though late, be imitated by your Successour; and may there never be wanting a Prince of your Renowned and Protestant Line to rule and govern your Majesty's Protestant Church and Realm till Time and Ages shall be no more.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Deputy-Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the Queen's-County, at a General Assizes held at Maryborough, the 5th Day of August, 1727.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most faithful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to approach your Throne with Hearts full of unfeigned Joy, to see it filled with a Prince, whose Royal Virtues only could make up to us the Loss of our late most gracious King, of ever glorious Memory.

The sense of this, most dread Sovereign, has dispelled those fears that otherwise we must have laboured under, and filled us with that Fervency for your Majesty's Service, that nothing but the Lustre of so great a Prince could inspire.

From your Majesty's Wisdom and Resolution we derive to ourselves an Assurance of all that a grateful People can expect from a Prince, who places his Greatness in the Happiness of his Subjects; and rest secure of the Enjoyment of our Liberties under a King, whose strict Observance of the Rules of Justice has been always so conspicuous; nor can we doubt of the flourishing of the Protestant Interest throughout the World, when a Monarch (who has so gloriously distinguished his Zeal for that Cause) is at the Head of it.

Those unparalell'd Qualities that adorn your Majesty and your Royal Consort the Queen, and make Ye the Admiration of the present, as well as the Example of future Ages, require from us the most ardent Wishes for the perpetual Continuance of your Royal Issue, which gives so pleasing a Prospect to all our most distant Hopes, and such infinite Felicity to all true Protestant Hearts.

With Minds thus affected, we beg Access humbly to congratulate your Majesty on this Occasion, and to wish you a long and happy Reign, with all the Blessings that ever did attend a Crown.

May the King of Kings (who rules and governs all the Earth,) bleſs preſerve and keep your Maſteſty in Health, Peace and Glory, long the Darling of all your People, the Dread of your Enemies, and the higheſt Felicity to all your Kingdoms.

Theſe are the ſincere Wiſhes and Prayers of,
May it pleaſe your Maſteſty,
Your Maſteſty's moſt dutiful, moſt loyal, and moſt obedient Subjects and Servants.

To the King's moſt Excellent Maſteſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Grand-jury, Clergy, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Tipperary.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Maſteſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to condole with your Maſteſty on the Death of your late Royal Father, of glorious Memory; of whoſe paternal Care and Watchfulneſs for the Good of his People, we are ſo ſenſible, that nothing could alleviate our Sorrow, but the Knowledge we have that your Maſteſty inherits his Virtues as well as his Crown.

What Bleſſings may we not expect under your Maſteſty, when we reflect on your Wiſdom and Prudence, ſo evidently ſhewn when you conducted the Reins of Government?

What Hopes may we not conceive of the Preſervation of every thing that is dear to us, from your early Declaration to your Council, and from the Aſſiſtance of ſo powerful an Advocate as your Royal Conſort, who contemned the Glories of a Crown for that Religion, which is ſo firmly eſtabliſhed by your gracious Speech to your Britiſh Parliament, and which we have the pleaſing Proſpect of tranſmitting to our Poſterity by a conſtant Succeſſion in your illuſtrious Houſe?

Give us therefore Leave, Royal Sir, to aſſure you of our ſincere Wiſhes, that your Reign over us may be as long as we are convinced it will be glorious; and of our unalterable Reſolution to do every thing, to the utmoſt of our Power, to ſhew your Maſteſty, that we are truly ſenſible of the Bleſſings we enjoy under your gracious Protection.

To the King's moſt Excellent Maſteſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Juſtices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Wicklow, at a General Aſſizes held at Wicklow in and for the ſaid County, the 14th Day of July, 1727.

WE your Maſteſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to condole with your Maſteſty on the Death of your late Royal Father, the Reſtorer of our Liberties and Properties. Great indeed had been our Loſs, had not your Maſteſty's many Virtues render'd you worthy, and your undoubted Right placed you in Peace on the Throne of your Royal Anceſtors.

When we conſider your Maſteſty's Love and tender Care for your People, and ſee your numerous Iſſue, formed in Virtue by the Example of their Royal Parents, pleaſing are the Proſpects of our future Happineſs, and laſting are the Views of our Religious and Civil Rights.

We, on our Parts, being truly ſenſible of theſe ineſtimable Bleſſings, ſhall think ourſelves obliged, by the ſtriſteſt Ties of Inclination and Duty, to deſerve the Continuance of them to ourſelves and Poſterity; being fully convinced that on your Maſteſty and your Royal Family depend all our preſent and future Proſperity.

To the King's moſt Excellent Maſteſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Juſtices of the Peace, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the County of Wexford, met at the General Aſſizes held there for the ſaid County, the 19th Day of July, 1727.

May it pleaſe your Maſteſty,

WE your Maſteſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, firſt beg Leave to lay before you our hearty Sorrow for the Death of your Royal Father, and then to expreſs our unfeigned Joy at your Maſteſty's Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors, to the unſpeakable Satisfaction of all thoſe who have at Heart the true Intereſt and Preſervation of the Proteſtant Religion, the Glory and Proſperity of theſe Kingdoms, and the Liberty and Property of your Maſteſty's Subjects.

When we ſee in your Maſteſty all thoſe Princely Virtues that are requiſite to adorn a Royal Throne, and make a generous People happy, our Sorrow is cleated up, our Loſs abundantly repaired.

Such is the Happineſs of the People who are to be govern'd by you, for ſuch are the promiſed Effects of your Maſteſty's Reign; and whether we look upon your Maſteſty in the Circumſtances of a Subject, Son, Father, or Friend, we ſee an Example of Duty, Affection, Tenderneſs, and Integrity; Virtues ſeldom to be met with in one Perſon.

So rare an Example in your Maſteſty muſt have its proper Influence in the Union of all Proteſtant Hearts, and in the Suppreſſion of Party and Faction; your Subjects therefore muſt henceforth know no other End than the Good of the Publick, and no other Enemy than he who is ſo to your gracious Maſteſty, and to the true Intereſt of your Dominions.

May therefore the Almighty preſerve your Maſteſty to reign over us, and may He long proteſt that Life which promiſes your Subjects ſuch Felicity: And we do aſſure your Maſteſty, that it is with the greateſt Chearfulneſs and and Sincerity we take this early Opportunity of declaring, that we will do all Things in the Power of an honest Protestant People, to support your Royal House against all Pretenders whatsoever, and those who would disturb it.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Lowth, at a General Quarter Sessions of the Peace held at Atherdee, in and for the said County, the 11th Day of July, 1727.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE beg Leave at the same Time that we express the greatest Concern for the sudden and unexpected Demise of his late Majesty King George, (of ever glorious Memory) to partake in the general Joy for your Majesty's peaceable Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors.

Your Majesty's gracious Declaration of your Resolution to support our excellent Constitution both in Church and State, gives us a pleasing Image of the Happiness we are to expect under your Majesty's Administration at Home; and when we consider the wise and prudent Measures your Majesty has entered into, in relation to Foreign Affairs, we have as great a Prospect from your Negotiations Abroad.

If there can be yet left any Enemies to your Majesty's Person or Government, or any Favourers of a Popish Pretender, we shall, in our several Stations endeavour, to the utmost of our Power, to defeat all their open and secret Designs; being fully convinced, that every Attempt to make your Majesty's Government uneasy, must proceed from such as are equally Enemies to the Religious and Civil Rights of their Fellow-Subjects.

That your Majesty may long continue Defender of the Faith you so religiously observe, and wear the Crown you so eminently adorn, is, and ever shall be the constant Prayer of,

Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Governour, High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the County of Cavan, at a General Assizes held for the said County, the 3d Day of August, 1727.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave at this Time to express our Sorrow for the Death of the best of Princes, your Royal Father and our most gracious Sovereign, and to congratulate your Majesty's happy Accession to his Throne, and to the Hearts of his most grateful People.

We have now experienced the ineffimable Blessings of a prudent, mild and steady Administration, and with joyful Hearts see a long Prospect of our growing Happiness under your Care and Protection; and as we well know the Difference between Slavery and a full Enjoyment of our most extensive Liberties, we are fully determined (if Occasion offers) to sacrifice all that is dear to us in Defence of a Prince, who we know will defend us from the one, and protect us in the other.

Vain must the Attempts of an Enemy be against such a Prince, who not only governs mighty Kingdoms, but reigns absolutely in the Hearts of his People: A Prince who has no Interest nor Religion separate from his Subjects, nor desires more than to make them great and happy.

'Tis with unspeakable Joy we see your Majesty bless'd with a Comfort, and ourselves a Queen, such as our Souls could wish for; who has not only made you a happy Father, and us a happy People by her numerous Offspring, but shews us an Example of all social Vertues, and teaches even the meanest of her Subjects to be the best of Wives and best of Mothers.

May you long reign a glorious Pair over a happy People; and when you are taken hence to receive a Reward for all your Virtues, may we never want a Prince descended from you to reign over us; and may none of your's ever want Subjects with our Zeal and unfeign'd Affection for them.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the County of Kildare, assembled at a General Assizes held for the said County at Athy, the 2d Day of August, 1727.

Dread Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, now met together for the Service of this County, cannot omit laying hold of this Opportunity to express our deep Concern for the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign your Royal Father, of glorious Memory; a Loss so great, that nothing but your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors could repair.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that though we are not the first in offering our just Tribute of Duty and Allegiance, yet are we second to none in sincere Affection for your Majesty's Sacred Person, and hearty Zeal for your Government; being truly sensible of the many and great Benefits these Nations have Reason to expect from the Experience they have already had of your Majesty's Wisdom and Conduct, when the Reins of Government were committed to your Hands.

The

The pleasing Views we have from the many Vertues and excellent Qualities of her Majesty your Royal Consort, which have eminently shewn themselves in the pious and affectionate Care of your Royal Issue, give us the greatest Hopes of lasting Happiness to these Kingdoms: And we cannot think ourselves intitled to the Benefits of so great a Blessing, without giving you the utmost Assurances of our Loyalty and firm Adherence to your Majesty and your Royal Issue, which we do declare we shall always hold ourselves obliged to support and defend, as being our greatest Interest, as well as our bounden Duty.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Gentlemen of the Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, and Freeholders of the County of Corke, at a General Assizes held for the said County, the 21st Day of July, 1727.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE are too truly sensible of the many Blessings we enjoyed under the mild and gracious Reign of your Royal Father, not to condole with your Majesty on the melancholy Occasion, with the deepest Sorrow and utmost Reverence to his Sacred Memory: But when we look forward to the Happiness to be derived to us from his glorious Successour, our Concern is lost in the Fulness of Joy, with which we hasten to congratulate your Majesty upon your peaceable Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors.

The early and firm Assurances given us of your Protection of your Subjects in their Religious and Civil Rights, your wise Care of Trade, and your gracious Determination to calculate for the Satisfaction of your People, leave us no Room to doubt our being blest'd under your Majesty's Administration with all the Advantages Subjects may enjoy; and make it our Interest and Inclination, as 'tis our Duty, with our Lives and Fortunes, to support your Majesty against all your Enemies secret or open; and to offer up our Wishes and Prayers, that your Reign over us may be as long as we are perswaded 'twill be glorious.

The many eminent Vertues and Qualifications of your Royal Consort, excelling equally in Domestick and Publick Life; and the pleasing Prospect of your numerous Royal Issue, give us the most reasonable Foundation to build our Hopes on, that the Blessings of your Majesty's Reign will be perpetuated under a long Series of lineal Successours of your illustrious House; and that there never may be wanting in your Majesty's Posterity a Person to govern us while we shall have a Posterity to be governed.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Meath, at a General Quarter-Sessions of the Peace held at Trim, on Thursday the 13th Day of July, 1727.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Meath, take this first Opportunity of a General Meeting in this County, to congratulate your Majesty on your happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors.

We thankfully adore the great Goodness of God to us, who when He pleased to call to His Mercy our late Dread Sovereign your Royal Father, and deprived this poor Country of so good and gracious a King, reserved this Blessing still in Store for us, and ordained your sacred Majesty to rule as an indulgent Father over a People entirely devoted to you.

May the same kind Providence protect you, and long continue this Blessing to us; and to compleat our Happiness, preserve with long Life to your Majesty and us your Royal Consort our gracious Queen; and as far as human Help can do, we humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we will support your Crown and Dignity with our Lives and Fortunes, and with true and loyal Hearts, we humbly beseech Almighty God that your Majesty and your Royal Issue may reign over us for ever.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

IT having pleased Almighty God to take to Himself our late Sovereign King George, of ever glorious Memory, we your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Kilkenny, most humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on your happy Accession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors.

Your Majesty's wise Conduct when Prince of Wales, and your prudent and mild Administration when Regent, assure us, under your Majesty's Government, of the greatest Blessings that ever People enjoyed under the best and greatest of Princes; and the many Vertues which so eminently shine in your Majesty, do not only endear you to your Subjects, but will add Lustre to your Crown.

Being bound by the strongest Ties of Religion, Interest and Gratitude, we further crave Leave to assure your Majesty, that we will, to the utmost of our Power, support your Majesty's undoubted Right to the Crown; which that your Majesty may long wear with Honour and Ease, and your Royal Posterity to all succeeding Ages, are the hearty Prayers and sincere Wishes of us,

Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Cloyne.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Cloyne, humbly presume to condole with your Majesty on the Death of your Majesty's Royal Father our late most gracious Sovereign, and at the same Time we beg Leave to express the Comfort we receive in seeing the Imperial Crown of these Kingdoms descend to a Prince so eminently possess'd of all his Royal Virtues and Endowments.

Your Majesty's known Affection to these Nations, and great Regard to our Constitution in Church and State, and that uncommon Joy and Satisfaction which universally appears in your Subjects on your Majesty's Accession to the Throne, are certain Passages of a glorious and happy Reign to your Majesty over a dutiful and happy People.

As we have these clear Views of Prosperity in your Majesty's Days, which we pray God may be many; so Almighty God having blessed your Majesty with a numerous Issue, trained up in Piety and Virtue under the Influence and Example of your Majesty and your Royal Consort, so worthy of that high Dignity to which Divine Providence hath advanced her, we have yet a further Prospect of the same Happiness, as extending itself to our Posterity in your Royal Line, which we pray God may never fail. Towards the promoting these good Ends, we shall, for our Parts, do our utmost Endeavours to perform all Offices of Fidelity and true Allegiance to your Majesty, and to cultivate the Principles of Loyalty in the Minds of all committed to our Care; and we shall never cease to offer up our fervent Prayers to Almighty God, by whom Kings reign, and Kingdoms flourish, that he would bring all these great Things to pass, by continuing His Favour and Protection, to your Majesty, our gracious Queen, and your Royal Family, to all succeeding Generations.

Dated this 26th Day of July, 1727.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Archbishop of Tuam, with the Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Archbishop, Dean, Chapter and Clergy of the Diocese of Tuam, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon your peaceable Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms. To this the strongest Motives both of Duty and Inclination equally oblige us, being abundantly sensible, that the Death of your Majesty's Royal Father, (which we heartily condole, would have been to us, as well as to the rest of your Majesty's Subjects, an irreparable Loss, if God had not been pleased, in His Mercy to us, to preserve your Majesty, and to place you as securely in the Throne of your Dominions, as you are in the Hearts and Affections of your People.

The many Instances of that consummate Wisdom, excellent Temper and great Goodness which have all along been conspicuous in your Majesty, give us the greatest Assurance, through the Blessing of God, not only of a mild and gracious Reign, but also of a happy and prosperous one to your Majesty and to all your Subjects; and that the same will have a most powerful and good Influence upon the Affairs of the whole Christian World; for all which our most devout Prayers shall never be wanting.

And as the Power of Religion and Piety becomes more diffusive by great Examples than by any other human Means; so we doubt not, but that the shining and exemplary Virtues of your Majesty and your Royal Consort, will extend themselves through all your Dominions, to the Confusion of Vice and Immorality.

From hence we conceive no vain Confidence, that we shall have in your Majesty and our gracious Queen, a most tender nursing Father and nursing Mother to the holy Church established among us, whose Members cannot swerve from the Duty and Allegiance which they owe to your Majesty, without forsaking the Principles of that true Religion which they profess.

What remains for us, is by our fervent Prayers to Almighty God for your Majesty's long and happy Reign over us, and the Prosperity of your Royal and Illustrious House; by our Zeal and Fidelity to your Majesty, and by our mutual Love and Charity to one another, as far as in us lies, to perpetuate these Blessings in your Royal Line to us and to our Posterity.

And although the Smallness of our Number in this remote and thinly inhabited Part of your Majesty's Kingdom of Ireland; may scarcely be thought sufficient to justify our Presumption in giving your Majesty the Interruption of this Address; yet we humbly hope and pray, that your Majesty of your great Goodness will be pleased graciously to accept of that full Measure of Duty and Affection towards your Majesty, with which our Hearts, and those of all others sincerely of our Communion here (for whom we are ready to answer) are truly possess'd.

The following humble Address of the High-Sheriff, Grand-Jury, and Freeholders of the County of Waterford, at an Assizes held for for the said County the 12th of July 1727. has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Grandison, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High-Sheriff, Grand-Jury, and Freeholders of the County of Waterford, beg Leave to condole with your Majesty upon the Death of your Royal Father our late most gracious Sovereign, the Loss of whom could never have been sufficiently made up to us but in you; Sir; a Prince of such exalted Virtues and distinguished Qualities; as dissipate all our Grief, and assure us of the same mild and happy Reign over us.

We most sincerely congratulate you on your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, and ardently wish there may never be one wanting of your most illustrious House to sit thereon.

Your Majesty's paternal Care for your People, and tender Regard for our most happy Constitution, expressed both in your Declaration and Royal Speech to your British Parliament, call upon us and all your Subjects for the highest Acknowledgments and Thankfulness; and we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that not only our Duty and Interest, but also our Affection for your Majesty's Person and Government, shall forever engage us, at the Hazard of all that is dear and valuable to us, to support and defend, to the utmost of our Power, your Majesty's undoubted Right to your Kingdoms of Great Britain and Ireland, and all other your Majesty's Dominions.

The following humble Address of the Sufferance, Recorder, Burgesses and Freemen of the Corporation of Cloghnikilty, in the County of Corke, and Kingdom of Ireland, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Burlington; introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

BE pleased to permit us to join in a sincere Condolance with the rest of our Fellow-Subjects, for the unparalleled Loss of your Royal and most dear Father our late most gracious Sovereign, of happy Memory; and also to admit us to join with them in Expressions of the most exalted Joy for your Majesty's happy and peaceable Accession to your Throne, which alone could alleviate and entirely dissipate our Grief and Affliction.

It is with the greatest Comfort and Satisfaction we behold the Succession in your illustrious House so well secured by a numerous Issue, descended from your Majesty and your Royal Consort (the most admired Jewel of the British Crown) which gives us undoubted Hopes of transmitting our happy Establishment to latest Posterity.

Your Majesty's most gracious Declaration from the Throne to preserve our happy Constitution in Church and State, and to secure to all your Subjects the full Enjoyment of their Civil and Religious Rights, fills our Hearts with the highest Return of Gratitude; and the Experience we have had of your Majesty's consummate Wisdom, added to the Affection which you have been pleased to express for your Subjects, gives us the delightful Prospect of a glorious Reign over a flourishing and happy People.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty in the most humble Manner, that it shall always be our fixed Resolution to maintain and defend your Majesty's undoubted Right to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, to the utmost of our Power, against all Pretenders whatsoever.

May Almighty God direct and prosper all your Majesty's Counsels, Armies and Fleets, to the Welfare and Prosperity of your own Subjects, and the Terror of all your Enemies; and that your Majesty may very long and happily reign over a loyal, flourishing and united People, free from all Party Factions, are the sincere and hearty Prayers of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful and obedient Subjects.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Jurats, Common-Council, Gentlemen, Freemen, and Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Deal, in the County of Kent, and within the Jurisdiction of the Cinque Ports, has been presented to His Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Dorset Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE beg Leave to approach your Majesty with our sincere and hearty Congratulations on your Accession to the Throne of your late Royal Father, of happy Memory, for whose Death we are affected with a Sorrow equal to the Loss of a Prince so great and good.

But we have the Happiness to see that Loss fully compensated, since Providence has given us in your Majesty a King, whose Ability and Experience for Government, and whose Love of his People, will fully secure to us the Enjoyment joyment of our Religious and Civil Rights.

It is under your Majesty's auspicious Reign that we promise to ourselves the establishing and enlarging the Trade of the British Nation, and the fixing the Peace and Tranquility of Europe upon a solid and lasting Foundation; towards the obtaining of which good Ends, our firm and unhaken Loyalty to your Majesty, and our ready Assistance to the utmost of our Power shall never be wanting.

Our hearty Prayer is, that your Majesty may long enjoy a glorious and happy Reign over these Nations; and may your Royal Consort our gracious Queen, long partake with you the Honours due to her great and exemplary Vertues; and may you both with Pleasure see a numerous Royal Issue, who, formed by the great Example of their illustrious Parents, may fill the British Throne to late Posterity.
