

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday November 18. to Tuesday November 21. 1727.

St. James's, November 21.

THE following Address having been transmitted, by the Lords Justices of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to His Majesty. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Portriff, Free Burgesles; and Commonalty of the Borough of Tulsk, in the County of Roscommon, within the said Borough assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Portriff, Free Burgesles, and Commonalty of this your ancient and loyal Borough of Tulsk, do in the humblest Manner beg Leave to joyne with your Majesty in our unfeigned Sorrow for the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign your Majesty's Royal Father, who had so highly endeared himself to these Nations by the most prudent and equal Government that hath been known in any Age.

It is however Matter of the greatest Consolation to us under this Affliction, to see the manifold Felicities derived by him upon these Kingdoms, so effectually secured to us after his Death, by your Majesty's most happy Accession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors; upon which Occasion we beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty in the sincerest and most hearty Manner, and humbly to return our Thanks for the gracious Declaration you have been pleased to make of your Affection for the established Religion, Laws and Constitution of these Realms.

As the Enjoyment of all our Religious and Civil Rights has an immediate and necessary Dependence upon your Majesty and the Succession in your illustrious Family; so we cannot but reflect with the highest Satisfaction on our own Happiness in this Particular, while we not only see your Majesty so happily settled in the peaceable Enjoyment of your Crown; but have likewise the additional Blessing of a Queen, the most gracious and amiable that ever adorned the British Throne; who hath already blest'd your Majesty and your People with a numerous and hopeful Issue, and may, as we trust in God, still multiply those Blessings upon us, to remain as so many sacred Pledges to Posterity for the lasting Glory and Happiness of these Kingdoms. Nor can we omit this Opportunity of remembering in the most grateful Manner, that further Increase of our Happiness, arising from the Experience we have already had of your Majesty's most extensive Wisdom and Goodness; which gives us the fullest Assurance, that the Welfare and Prosperity of all your loyal Subjects will be the constant Rule and Measure of your Government. In Return whereof, we do with all Humility assure your Majesty, that we shall upon every Occasion stand by and support, to the utmost of our Power, your Majesty's most rightful and undoubted Title to the Imperial Crown of these Realms; earnestly beseeching God, that the same may flourish long on your Majesty's Head, for the Happiness of your People, and the Advancement of our most holy Religion.

In Testimony whereof, we have hereto affixed our common Seal, this 29th Day of September, 1727.

The following humble Address of the Bailiffs and Burgesles of the ancient Borough and Corporation of Scarborough, in Common-Council assembled, in Behalf of themselves, and the rest of the Inhabitants of the said Borough, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir William Strickland, one of their Representatives in the ensuing Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

[Price Two-Pence.]

To

