Dublin, October 29.

ON the 20th Instant his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant communicated to the House of Commons of this Kingdom, by Mr. Secretary Clut-terbuck, His Majesty's most gracious Answer to the Address of that House at the Opening of this Session of Parliament, viz.

GEORGE R.

HIS Majesty received with great Satisfaction the dutiful and loyal Address of the House of Commons, and their Professions of Zeal and Affection for His Person and His Royal Family, which he does not doubt, but, they will make Good in the granting of the necessary Supplies for the Support of His Government, and on all other Occasions; and His Majesty assures them of His Royal Protection to His People of Ireland, and of His Care and Concern for their Welfare and Happiness.

On the 22d the House attended his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant at the Castle with the following Address of Thanks to His Majesty, which his Excellency has transmitted to England, in order to be laid before His Majesty, viz.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens and Burgeses in Parliament assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful Subjects the Commons of Ireland in Parliament assembled, beg Leave to return our most sincere and hearty Thanks to your Majesty for your most gracious Answer to our Address.

It is with unspeakable Pleasure we find, that our Professions of Zeal and Affection for your Majesty's Person and Royal Family, have been received with Satisfaction by your Majesty. The Confidence so good and gracious a Prince is pleased to repose in them, is the highest Reward of the Sincerity with which they are made, and a further Motive to engage us upon all Occasions to make them good.

[Price Two Pence.]

The Assurances your Majesty has most graciously given us, call upon your faithful Commons of this Kingdom to do every Thing that may contribute to the Ease and Honour of your Majesty's Government; and we beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our constant and zealous Endeavours to deserve your Royal Protection, and the Continuance of that Care and Concern which your Majesty has expressed for the Welfare and Happiness of your People of Ireland.

Dublin, October 31.

Yesterday being His Majesty's Birth-Day, the Great Guns were fired at the Barracks, and answered by Volleys from the Regiments on Duty which were drawn out upon Ox-mantown-Green. At Noon there was a numerous and splendid Appearance of the Nobility and other Persons of Distinction at the Castle, to compliment his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant upon this Occasion, before whom a Song was performed. In the Evening there was a Play given by his Excellency for the Entertainment of the Ladies, after which there was a Ball at the Castle, and the Night concluded with Bonfires, Illuminations, and all other Demonstrations of Joy.
