Dublin, April 15.

To his Excellency John Lord Carteret, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governour of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Excellency,

WE the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, humbly beg Leave, before you put an End to this Session, to congratulate your Excellency upon the near Prospect of its happy Conclusion, and to return our sincere and hearty Thanks, for the great Regard you have shewn for the Welfare of this Kingdom, in the whole Course of your just and wise Administration.

The Experience we had of your great Abilities, and of the perfect Knowledge you had acquired of the true State of this Kingdom, could not but give us the fullest Assurance of his Majesty's gracious Intentions to his People of Ireland, in continuing your Excellency in this Government: Nor had we the least doubt at the opening of this Session, but that by your faithful Representations of our Duty and Loyalty, and of the properest Measures to promote the real Interest of this Nation, the best Foundations would be laid to improve, and in Time carry it on to the greatest Height.

And we already see the Effects of his Majesty's Goodness, and of your Zeal for his Service, and for the Welfare of his People, by the many useful Bills transmitted from Great Britain for the Support and Honour of the Establishment, the Relief of the Distressed, the Employment of the Poor, Encrease of Tillage, and Improvement of the Trade and Inland Navigation of the Kingdom: Nor can we omit with the utmost Gratitude, to acknowledge that his Royal Bounty hath prevented even our Desires, by remitting Part of his hereditary Revenue to encourage the Industrious, and make us Sharers in the Advantages of the Woollen Manufactures.

These Things must transmit this your third Session distinguished to Posterity; fill us with the highest Esteem and Affection for your Person; and make us still more sensible of the Happiness we enjoy under your just and mild and prudent Administration.

And as the Lords have cheerfully concurred in all Measures for the Honour and Support of his Majesty's Government, and for the Peace and Quiet of his People, we promise ourselves from your known Justice and Goodness, that you will continue to represent to his Majesty that Fidelity in which we glory, and that Zeal for the Good and Service of our Country, which we know are equally acceptable to him; and to assure his Majesty, that we always shall endeavour to preserve amongst the People, a just Sense of the Blessings of his gracious Government.

To which Address his Excellency was pleased to make this Answer, viz.

I shall always remember the obliging Manner in which your Lordships express your Satisfaction in my Endeavours for his Majesty's Service, and the Prosperity of this Kingdom.

To his Excellency John Lord Carteret, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governour of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens and Burgeses in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Excellency,

THE Commons of Ireland cannot see an End put to this Session, without acknowledging, in the most grateful Manner, the Advantages which this Nation hath received under the Influences of your Excellency's Government.

The many good Laws which passed in the two preceeding Sessions, and those which are now ready for the Royal Assent, will be so many Monuments to Posterity of your wise Administration; and we shall ever remember, that you held that Parliament wherein his Majesty was graciously pleased to consent to the Appropriation of a proper Fund for encouraging the Tillage, employing the Poor, and improving the Trade of this Kingdom.

The Commons conceive great Hopes that these Marks of his Majesty's Goodness will raise in us a new Spirit of Industry, and be attended with the mutual Advantage of Great Britain and Ireland.

We do, with the greatest Pleasure, congratulate your Excellency on that singular Instance of Confidence reposed in you by his Majesty, and his late Royal Father (of Glorious Memory) in committing the Government of this Kingdom to your Care, during three successive Sessions of Parliament: And we are persuaded that the Unanimity and Temper, as well as the Success of our Proceedings, particularly in settling and effectually providing for the national Debt, must at once shew the Satisfaction the Commons have in the Choice of two great and wise Princes, under whom your Excellency has continued to preside over us, and be a convincing Proof of our Zeal for his Majesty's Sacred Person and Government.

We assure ourselves from your Excellency's known Justice and Goodness, that you will in such Manner represent to his Majesty the Duty and Affection of his faithful Subjects of Ireland, as may entitle them to the Continuance of his Royal Favour and Protection.

His Excellency's Answer.

THIS affectionate Address gives me a very sensible Pleasure, and will engage me to preserve your Esteem, by continuing my utmost Endeavours for the Good of this Kingdom.

This Day (April 15) his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant went to the House of Peers with the usual Solemnity; and the Commons being sent for thither, his Excellency gave the Royal assent to,

An Act for the Encouragement of Tillage and better Employment of the poor; and also for the more effectual putting in Execution an Act, intituled, An Act to encourage the draining and improving of Boggs and unprofitable low Grounds, and for easing and dispatching the inland Carriage and Conveyance of Goods from one Part to another within this Kingdom; and also for laying several Duties upon Coaches, Berlins, Chariots, Calashes, Chaises and Chairs, and upon Cards and Dice, and upon wrought and manufactured Gold and Silver Plate imported into or made in Ireland, for the Purposes therein mentioned; and also for repealing the Duties payable upon the Exportation of Wool, Bay Yarn, and Woollen Yarn out of this Kingdom for England.

An Act for the more effectual preventing and further Punishment of Forgery, Perjury and Subornation of Perjury, and to make it Felony to steal Bonds, Notes, or other Securities for Payment of Money, and for the more effectual transporting Felons, Vagabonds, and others.

An Act for continuing several temporary Statutes made in this Kingdom and now near expiring, and for the Amendment of other Statutes therein mentioned.

An Act for allowing further Time to Persons in Offices to qualify themselves, pursuant to an Act, intituled, an Act to prevent the further Growth of Popery.

An Act for the better Discovery of Judgments in the Courts of King's Bench, Common Pleas, and Exchequer at Dublin, and for the greater Security of Purchasers.

An Act to enable his Majesty to purchase in the respective Interests of the several Persons intituled to the Houses and Grounds adjoining to the new Parliament House.

An Act for the further explaining and amending several Statutes for prohibiting Under Sheriffs and Sheriffs Clerks from officiating as Sub-Sheriffs or Sheriffs Clerks more than one Year; and to render more effectual an Act to prevent Fees being taken in certain Cases, and to take away the pretended Office of Barony Clerk, and to oblige Sheriffs to appoint Deputies for granting Replevins, and also for discharging of Prisoners unable to pay their Fees.

An Act for explaining and amending an Act, intituled, An Act to prevent the Disorders that may happen by the marching of Soldiers, and for providing Carriages for the Baggage of Soldiers in their March.

An Act for the better keeping Churches in Repair.

An Act for supplying a Defect in an Act, for rendering more effectual an Act for the better enabling the Clergy having Cure of Souls to reside upon their respective Benefits, and for the Encouragement of Protestant Schools within this Kingdom of Ireland.

An Act for explaining and amending the several Laws now in Force for the paving and cleansing the Streets of the City of Dublin, and the Liberties of St. Sepulcher's, Thomas Court, and Donore, and for other purposes therein mentioned.

An Act to prevent unlawful Combinations of Workmen, Artificers and Labourers, employed in the several Trades and Manufactures of this Kingdom, and for the better payment of their Wages; as also to prevent Abuses in making of Bricks, and to ascertain their Dimensions.

An Act for the more speedy Tryal of Criminals in the County of the City of Dublin.

An Act for the better regulating the Fees of Justices of the Peace, and for disabling Alderman Thomas Wilkinson and Alderman Thomas Bolton from acting as Justices of the Peace within this Kingdom.

An Act for the better enabling the Governors of the Work-House of the City of Dublin to provide for and employ the Poor therein, and for the more effectual punishment of Vagabonds; and also for the better securing of and providing for Lunatics and Foundling Children.

An Act for repairing the Road leading from the City of Dublin to Kilcullen Bridge, in the County of Kildare.

An Act for repairing the Road leading from the City of Dublin to the Town of Navan, in the County of Meath.

An Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors.

An Act for cleansing the Ports, Harbours and Rivers of the City of Cork, and of the Towns of Galway, Sligoe, Drogheda, and Belfast, and for erecting a Ballast-Office in the said City, and each of the said Towns.

An Act for explaining and amending an Act made in the Sixth Year of the Reign of his late Majesty King George the First, intituled, An Act for erecting and continuing Lights in the City of Dublin, and the several veral Liberties adjoining, and also in the Cities of Cork and Limerick, and Liberties thereof.

An Act for finishing and regulating the Hospital founded by Richard Stevens, Esq; Doctor of Physick.
And to Five private Bills.

After which his Excellency made the following Speech to both Houses.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Having obeyed his Majesty's Commands in giving his Royal Assent to the Laws you have prepared, I shall now put an End to this Session of Parliament, in which you have given most remarkable Proofs of your Duty and Affection to his Majesty's Person and Government, and have shown a true Care and Concern for the Ease and Prosperity of your Fellow Subjects. I make no doubt, but you have received the greatest Satisfaction in observing, that the Bill for Encouragement of Tillage and better Employment of the Poor, so well calculated to increase the Trade and Riches of this Kingdom, hath received such an Addition, by his Majesty's having been graciously pleas'd to remit his hereditary Duties upon the Exportation of Wool and Yarn, as must lay a Foundation to make the Effects of that Act still more beneficial and extensive.

This Instance of His Majesty's Desire to promote the Manufactures of his Kingdoms, cannot but produce the highest Returns of Duty and Affection from all his Subjects.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I am commanded by his Majesty, to return you Thanks for the Supplies you have granted for the Support of the Establishment, and for making so effectual a Provision for the National Debt. It must contribute very much to the Honour of this Parliament, that, at a Time when you were raising new Funds to make good the Deficiencies, you were able to reduce the Interest of the former Debt, with a due Regard to parliamentary Credit, and to raise the Money, which the publick Service required, at an easier Rate than hath hitherto been known in this Kingdom; and I am perswaded that the immediate Application of those Sums to the Purposes for which they were intended, has been entirely to your Satisfaction.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I can make no doubt, but on your Return into your several Countries, you will in your respective Stations, act in such a Manner, as may most effectually promote his Majesty's Service and the publick Tranquility.

I am glad to see the Condition of the Kingdom so much altered, that a Prohibition against the Exportation of Corn is become no longer necessary: And I hope by a due Execution of the Law now pass'd for encouraging of Tillage, such a Scarcity of Corn, as this Kingdom lately laboured under, may, by the Blessing of God, be prevented for the future.

I take this Opportunity to renew to you my Thanks for the constant Regard and Zeal you have shown for the Honour and Ease of his Majesty's Government, during the whole

Course of my Administration: And as I have had a long and repeated Experience of your Duty, Loyalty and Affection to his Majesty's Sacred Person and Royal Family, I shall not fail, on my Return into his Royal Presence, to make a full and faithful Representation of the loyal and dutiful Behaviour of his Subjects of Ireland.

Then the Lord Chancellor said by his Excellency's Command.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It is his Excellency my Lord Lieutenant's Pleasure, That this Parliament should be prorogued to Thursday the Fourteenth Day of May next: And this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thursday the Fourteenth Day of May next.
