TO be sold, The Rectory of Belbroughton, in the County of Worcester, upwards of 220 l. per Annum, by Mrs. Bridgett Tristram, at the Rector's House in Belbroughton aforesaid

WHEREAS William Curling, Commander of an English Ship from London, in the Year 1722, on his Return from Archangel, stranded at a Place called Hove in the Island Ferro, and thereupon went to Copenhagen in the Year 1723, where he in the Month of August obtained the King of Denmark's Permission to ship off his Cargo from the said Place in an English Bottom, the same consisted of a great Quantity of Tar, which he had given in Possession to Mr. John Bernst Sorensen, with Orders not to deliver any thereof without Orders from himself, Owners, or Merchants; and since that Time, neither Capt. Curling, or others for him, have concerned themselves in this Affair, and the Tar for want of House-Room laid in the open Field, being a great Quantity, and could not otherwise be provided for, sundry of the faulty Barrels, by the Heat of the Sun, have leaked out, the Hull of the Ship, and every thing belonging to it, was soon after his Departure broken to Pieces, and driven away by a violent Storm; and as the above-mentioned John Bernst Sorensen is since deceased in the Spring 1731, his Heirs do therefore give Notice, that in case Capt. Curling, Owners or Freighters, which is said to be Messrs. Nath. and Jonathan Michellwyth, Merchants in London, have any Pretensions or Claim on the deceased's Estate, to apply to his Executors without any more Delay, and there may see Certificates and other Vouchers about the Proceeding, with the Goods saved after the Captain's Departure.
