And to Twenty Eight private Bills.

After which His Majesty was pleased to make the following most gracious Speech.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

YOU having now dispatched all the Publick Business that it was practicable for you to go through with at present, and the Season of the Year being so far advanced, I believe it will not be disagreeable to you, that I give you an Opportunity of retiring into the Country, by putting an End to this Session of Parliament.

It is unnecessary for me to represent to you the happy State and Situation of Publick Affairs both at home and abroad. You must all be sensible of what is universally seen and felt in the full Enjoyment of a general Peace. The Concurrence of the States General in the late Treaty of Vienna has perfected the Establishment of the publick Tranquillity, as far as human Prudence can foresee or provide; and a faithful Observance and Execution of the Treaties and Alliances now subsisting among the several Princes and Powers of Europe, free from groundless Jealousies, and void of all ambitious Views, will be the most effectual Means to continue and preserve these Blessings to us.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I return you my Thanks for the Provisions you have made for the Defence and Security of the Kingdom, and for carrying on the Service of the current Year. It is a great Satisfaction to me to see you have turned your Thoughts towards raising the necessary Supplies, by such Methods as may be the least burthenome to my People: And as this cannot but be received in the Country as a most grateful and acceptable Service, I hope it will encourage you to pursue such Measures for the future, as may on all Occasions render the Supplies that shall be necessary, as equal and easy as is possible.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It being necessary for me to visit my German Dominions this Year, I have determined to leave the Queen Regent here during my Absence; and I doubt not but it will be your Endeavours to make the Government as easy to her, as, I am confident, it will be her Care, by a just and prudent Administration, to deserve your duty and regard. I recommend to you all, in your several Stations, to study and consult the Preservation of the Peace and Quiet of the Kingdom.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Majesty's Command, said,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is His Majesty's Royal Will and Pleasure, That this Parliament be Prorogued to Thursday the Twenty seventh Day of July next, to be then here held; and this Parliament is accordingly Prorogued to Thursday the Twenty seventh Day of July next.

AT the Court at St. James's, the Second Day of June, 1732.

The King's most Excellent Majesty in Council.

His Majesty in Council was this Day pleased to declare, that he intended to visit his Dominions in Germany, and that He had appointed His Dearest Consort the Queen to be Regent during His Majesty's Absence.
