

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday November 6. to Saturday November 10. 1733.

By the King,

A PROCLAMATION. GEORGE R.

WHEREAS Our Parliament stands prorogued to Thursday the Fifteenth Day of this Instant November: We, with the Advice of Our Privy Council do hereby publish and declare, That the said Parliament shall be further prorogued on the said Fifteenth Day of this Instant November, to Thursday the Seventeenth Day of January next ensuing: And We have given Order to Our Chancellor of Great Britain to prepare a Commission for proroguing the same accordingly. And We do hereby further declare Our Royal Will and Pleasure, That the said Parliament shall on the said Seventeenth Day of January next be held, and sit for the Dispatch of divers weighty and important Affairs. And the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Knights, Citizens and Burgesses, and the Commissioners for Shires and Burghs of the House of Commons, are hereby required to give their Attendance accordingly at Westminster on the said Seventeenth Day of January next.

Given at Our Court at St. James's the First Day of November, One thousand seven hundred and thirty-three, in the Seventh Year of Our Reign.

GOD Save the KING.

Whitehall, November 10.

His Highness the Prince of Orange, with the Right Honourable Horatio Walpole, Esq; whom his Majesty had sent to attend his Highness in his Passage to England, having embarked at Helvoetsluys on board the Fubbs Yacht, as did his Retinue on that and two others of his Majesty's Yachts, took the Advantage of the first Wind that served, and set Sail from thence on Sunday the 4th Instant in the Morning, and on Wednesday the 7th came up the River. Sir Clement Cottrell, Master of the Ceremonies, accompanied by M. Hop, Envoy Extraordinary from the States General, went down in the King's Barges to meet his Highness at Greenwich, to make him his Majesty's first Compliment on his Arrival, and to conduct him from thence. Landing at the Tower, his Highness was received by Colonel Williamson, the Deputy-Lieutenant: Upon the Stairs of the Wharf his Highness was met by the Right Honourable the Lord Lovelace, who made him a Compliment from the King. From thence his Highness proceeded to Somerset-House in the King's Coach, in which he was attended by the Lord Lovelace, Sir Clement Cottrell, and M. Hop, his Retinue following in Coaches of Privy-Counsellours and other Peers. Entering Somerset-House, the Lord Lovelace put him in Possession of it and took his Leave. Soon after came the Right Honourable the Lord Harvey, Vice Chamberlain of his Majesty's Household, with his Majesty's Compliment of Welcome; as did also the Honourable Mr. Coke, the Queen's Vice Chamberlain, with her Majesty's Compliment; the Right Honourable the Lord Baltimore, Lord of the Bedchamber to the Prince of Wales, with his Royal Highness's Compliment; Stephen Poyntz, Esq; Governour to the Duke, with his Royal Highness's Compliment; and the three Gentlemen Ushers of the Princess Royal, and of the Princesses Amelia and Caroline, with their respective Compliments, and those of the Princesses Mary and Louisa. After Dinner, several Persons of chief Rank and Quality, and a great many Gentlemen, paid their Compliments to his Highness, being presented to him by the Master of the Ceremonies. His Highness, at his coming to Somerset-House, sent two of his chief Gentlemen to make his Compliments to the King and Queen, and ask Leave to wait upon their Majesties when they should be pleased to appoint. Thursday Morning the 8th Instant, most of the foreign Envoys and Residents at this Court, were presented to his Highness by the Master of the Ceremonies, as were also a very great Number of the Nobility and Gentry. At One a-Clock, the Time appointed by his Majesty, his Highness proceeded to St. James's, attended by Sir Clement Cottrell, in a Coach of his Majesty's, his Highness's Retinue following in the Coaches of several Peers. At his alighting in the Court, his Highness was received by the King's Gentleman Usher in Waiting; at the Head of the Stairs by his Grace the Duke of Grafton, Lord Chamberlain, and the Lord Harvey, Vice Chamberlain of his Majesty's Household; and being come to the King's Bedchamber, was conducted by the Right Honourable the Lord Hinton, Lord of the Bedchamber in waiting, to the King's Closet. His Highness was re-conducted by the same Persons to the Queen's Apartment; at the Entrance of which he was received by the Right Honourable the Earl of Grantham, Lord Chamberlain, and the Honourable Mr. Coke Vice-Chamberlain to Her Majesty, preceded by Her Majesty's Gentleman-Usher: Having made his Visit to her Majesty, the Earl of Grantham attended his Highness to the Prince of Wales's Apartment, where he was received by his Royal Highness's Servants, and introduced to his Royal Highness by the Marquis of Carnarvon, Lord of his Bedchamber in Waiting; from thence his Highness was attended to the Duke's Apartment by the Earl of Grantham, and was introduced to his Royal Highness by Mr. Poyntz his Governour; Sir Clement Cottrell, Master of the Ceremonies, attending his Highness in all Places. Then his Highness went to the Queen's Drawing-Room, where were their Majesties and all the Royal Family. His Highness returned to Somerset-House to Dinner. In the Evening Count Kinsky, the Imperial Ambassador, who the Day before had sent to have an Hour appointed him, made a Visit to his Highness; which being over,