Whitehall, April 8.

THE following humble Address of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers has been presented to his Majesty by the Reverend Mr. Lowman, attended by several of his Brethren. They were introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and all had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand,

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the Three Denominations, in and about the Cities of London and Westminster.

May it please your Majesty,

WE beg Leave, with the greatest Sincerity, to congratulate your Majesty upon the happy Marriage of the Princess Royal with his Serene Highness the Prince of Orange; and to assure your Majesty, that in the general Satisfaction and Pleasure of the whole Kingdom on this joyful Occasion, ours is equal to that of any of your most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

We acknowledge the Goodness of divine Providence, which has guided your Majesty's Wisdom to a Choice, that gives so agreeable a Prospect of private Happiness to that excellent Princess, for whose Honour and Prosperity we have the most affectionate Concern; of strengthening the Protestant Interest in Europe; and of a Series of Blessings to after Ages.

What may not be justly expected, from the Union of your Majesty's Royal House with the illustrious House of Nassau, to which we owe the inestimable Blessings of the glorious Revolution and Protestant Succession; and from such eminent Virtues in both their Highnesses, fit to give an Example, and to shine in every Rank of Life?

We are fully persuaded that none of your Majesty's Subjects exceed us in faithful Obedience to your just and gracious Government; and promise your Majesty, that we will use what Influence we have in recommending to others the same loyal Principles which warm our own Breasts; the same dutiful Respect and Affection which we ourselves bear to your Royal Person and Family.

That your Majesty may reign in the Hearts of all your People, and continue long a Blessing to these Nations and to the Protestant Interest; and that your Crown may descend in full Glory to your latest Posterity, is the earnest Prayer of your Majesty's most faithful and obedient Subjects.

To which his Majesty was pleased to return this most gracious Answer.

I Thank you for your Loyal Address; the Zeal and Affection you express for me and my Family are very acceptable to me, and you may depend upon the Continuance of my Protection.

They were afterwards introduced to the Queen by the Earl of Grantham, Her Majesty's Lord Chamberlain, and made the following Compliments to her Majesty.

Madam,

WE have the Honour to congratulate your Majesty, in the Name of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers in and about these Cities, on the present happy Occasion, which fills the whole Nation with Joy.

It greatly heighten's our Joy, to see your Majesty's steady Zeal for the Protestant Religion, your pious Care and wise Example, rewarded in the eminent Accomplishments and Virtues of our excellent Princess, whose Happiness we have so much Reason to hope for, in a Prince distinguished by the Virtues and Honours of the noble and illustrious House of Nassau.

May the great Governour of the World continue to bless your Majesty with growing Happiness in every Branch of your Royal Family; and may we often have Reason to acknowledge the Goodness of God, and Congratulate your Majesty on like joyful Occasions.

To which her Majesty was pleased to give a most gracious Answer.

Then they waited on the Princess Royal, and made the following Compliments.

Madam,

WE have the Honour to wait on your Royal Highness, in the Name of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers in and about these Cities, to express our Joy in your Happiness; a Joy which arises from the Respect we have for your Highness's great personal Merit, as well as for your high Birth and Dignity, as first Princess of the Royal House of Great Britain.

We have the Pleasure to hope, that the same great and excellent Qualities, which so endear your Royal Highness to these Nations, will every where meet with their just Esteem and Honour.

We shall heartily pray, that the Almighty may ever have your Royal Highness in his holy Protection, and bless your Highness and your Posterity with all Happiness in both Worlds.

To which her Royal Highness return'd a most obliging Answer.

They

They were also introduced to the Prince of Orange, and made the following Compliments to his Highness.

S I R,

WE have the Honour to congratulate your Serene Highness, in the Name of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers in and about these Cities, on the present happy Occasion; and to express our Joy, to see the noble Virtues of your illustrious House shine so eminently in your Person; and that the Goodness of Providence, and the Wisdom of the King, have rewarded them with our excellent Princes.

It is with great Delight we see an Union between two Families, to which the Protestant Interest, the Liberties of Europe, and the Happiness of these Nations are so much indebted.

May your Highness continue to be distinguished with all the Virtues so eminent in your House; and may the Glories of the Nassau Family be hereditary in your Highness's Posterity to all Generations.

To which his Highness gave a most obliging Answer.

The following Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses, of the Borough of Berwick upon Tweed, has been presented to his Majesty by Colonel Liddell, being introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State. Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses of the Borough of Berwick upon Tweed,

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses of the Borough of Berwick upon Tweed in Guild assembled, do with the utmost Pleasure Congratulate your Majesty on the happy Marriage of the Princess Royal with his Serene Highness the Prince of Orange.

We long promis'd ourselves, and wish'd the peaceable Succession of your Illustrious Family to the Crown of these Kingdoms, that we might have a more sensible Proof of the consummate Wisdom and Goodness of that great Prince who established it as a national Blessing; and many a Time since that auspicious Day have we had remarkable Occasions of rejoicing in the Remembrance of it; as we have always had Reason, under your Majesty's equal and most gracious Government and Care over all your People, to think ourselves happy beyond a parallel upon Earth.

In the midst of these Enjoyments, when the Eldest Daughter of Great Britain was to be given in Marriage, what could we desire to heighten our Felicity, but your Royal Choice, for that amiable Princess, of another Prince of Orange, famed as his illustrious Ancestors and Relations, for those shining Accomplishments and heroic Virtues, which sufficiently qualify him to follow their great and inspiring Examples, in opposing arbitrary Power, and asserting the Civil and Religious

Rights of Mankind; those high Ends which were steadily pursued, through the whole Course of his Reign, by our late Glorious Deliverer King William the Third, of immortal Memory, whom, may it please your Majesty, we can never mention but with the most affectionate Veneration.

From a Marriage universally desired and approved, which we heard of with Transport, we ardently wish the World may be blessed with a numerous Progeny, whence these Kingdoms in all future Ages may be furnished with additional Heroes, to assist and support your Majesty's other Royal Descendants, in maintaining the Constitution and Liberties of Great Britain, and the Protestant Religion, against all the Efforts of their remotest Enemies.

The following Address of the Mayor, Chief Burgesses and Freemen of the Borough of Yarmouth in the Isle of Wight, has been presented to His Majesty by Paul Burrard and Maurice Bocland, Esqrs. their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by his Grace the Duke of Montague, Governor of the Isle of Wight: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Mayor, Chief Burgesses and Freemen of the Borough of Yarmouth in the Isle of Wight.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects the Mayor, Chief Burgesses and Freemen of the Borough of Yarmouth in the Isle of Wight, beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on the auspicious Marriage of the Princess Royal with the Prince of Orange.

That a Lady not more distinguished by her high Birth and Beauty, than by her most excellent Accomplishments, should be wedded to a Prince who has made all his hereditary Virtues Personal, is a Subject we contemplate with Pleasure.

The House of Orange were always Friends to the Liberties of Britain: And your Majesty, who in the whole Course of your Reign, has shewn yourself a kind Father and Friend to your Country, has in this put that Father and Friend in a most amiable Point of Light.

And we are rejoiced to see that the factious Distinction of Court and Country, which a few pretended Patriots have thought fit to make, is a Distinction made only by the Uneasy to impose on weak Minds. And it is the peculiar Blessing of your Majesty's Reign, that they, and they only, are in the greatest Regard at Court, who are the steadiest Friends to their King and Country.

That as well the Joys of the happy Pair, as your Majesty's Reign may be long and prosperous, are the unfeigned Prayers of,

Your Majesty's most dutiful
Subjects and Servants.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, and other Gentlemen of the County of Devon, has been presented to his Majesty by Sir William Yonge, Knight of the Bath. Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, and other Gentlemen, assembled at the General Assizes for the County of Devon, holden at Exon, March 26, 1734.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon the happy Conclusion of the Marriage between the Princess Royal and his most Serene Highness the Prince of Orange.

As this affords a just Occasion of Joy to all your Majesty's loyal Subjects, so we more especially have Reason to reflect upon it with the utmost Expressions of Gratitude, being the first that were sensible of the happy Effects that accrued to this Nation by the glorious Revolution.

A Revolution, to which we not only owe the present Succession in your Majesty's august Family, but also our Deliverance from Popery and arbitrary Power, the Continuance of our religious and civil Rights, and all that is dear to us.

That there may never be wanting a Branch of your Majesty's most illustrious House to fill the Throne of this Kingdom, is the hearty Prayer of,

May it please your Majesty,
Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, &c.

The following Address having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Dorset Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to his Majesty. Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons and Citizens of the City of Dublin.

May it please your Majesty,

WE the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons and Citizens of the City of Dublin in Common Council assembled, most humbly crave Leave to congratulate your Majesty on the Marriage of the Princess Royal with his most Serene Highness the Prince of Orange.

This Alliance which your Majesty has been pleased to make with the House of Nassau, gives us a happy Opportunity of expressing our Joy at the Prosperity of that Family which gave us our great Deliverer King William the Third, of ever glorious Memory, who not only by his victorious Arms, rescued our Religion and Liberties, but by his Prudence secured them to us, fixing the Succession to the Crown of these Kingdoms in your Majesty's illustrious House.

The constant Care which your Royal Father and your Majesty have successively taken to preserve our Religious and Civil Rights, shews how wisely that great Prince provided for the future good of his Subjects, and lays an indispensable Obligation on us in our several Stations, to endeavour to make your Majesty's Reign as happy and glorious as we wish it may be long over us.

In Testimony whereof, we have caused the Common Seal of the said City, to be hereto affixed this 1st Day of April, 1734.

St. James's, April 8.

This Day Baron Wachtendonk, Envoy Extraordinary from the Elector Palatine, had a private Audience of Leave of his Majesty; to which he was introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Harrington one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and conducted by Sir Clement Cottrell, Kt. Master of the Ceremonies.

He was afterwards introduced to a private Audience of Leave of her Majesty, by the Right Honourable the Earl of Grantham her Majesty's Lord Chamberlain, and conducted by the Master of the Ceremonies.
